The Ultimate Cuba

For all you've heard about life in post-revolution Cuba, one of the country's great surprises is how much of its pre-Castro history has been preserved—and how that past and present coexist today. This fascinating expedition includes the colorful colonial cities of Trinidad and Cienfuegos, where you explore cobblestoned streetscapes, walk in lush mountains and snorkel on the tropical coral reef in the Bay of Pigs. In Havana, you wander in the 500-year-old city and out to Hemingway's home. Throughout, you'll interact closely with coffee-growers, artists, dancers, historians, and everyday Cubans from all walks of life. Ultimately, you'll gain a sense of Cuba from its sugarcane-fueled colonial days right up to the latest moment. And you will be rewarded with an engaging, well-rounded understanding of Cuba that's second to none.

DAILY ITINERARY

CUBA | HAVANA, CIENFUEGOS & TRINIDAD | CULTURE + WALKING

DAY 1

HAVANA / LA MURALEANDO

- Visit a local farmer's market and rations store
- Meet artists and musicians in the colorful La Muraleando neighborhood
- Enjoy a guided stroll in Old Havana
- Go bar hopping, Hemingway style

After thinking about it for so long, you're finally in Havana! And all of your thoughts, ideas, and images will begin to crystallize to give you a true sense of this fascinating city and country. Starting immediately, you get an inside look at the lives of everyday Cubans as you visit a market where you can chat with the locals and the farmers tending their stalls. You also stop at one of the rations stores where families buy rice, beans, sugar and other staples.

La Murleando is a neighborhood covered in bright murals, wall paintings, and art installations. (The shrine surrounded by banana-yellow hubcaps is always a favorite.) We'll meet our friends Manuel and Victor, and hang out with local artists and musicians. And when those musicians start playing, remember this: Cubans love to dance...and nothing makes them happier than when you join in. They don't care if you have the moves; they just want you to let the beat take over!

Later, you'll go for a stroll in Habana Vieja (Old Havana) with a local historian for their personal take on Cuban history. This 500-year-old UNESCO World Heritage Site is the original heart of Havana, built by the Spanish, burned to the ground by pirates, and still a fine district of baroque and neoclassic buildings. While many of the buildings are well preserved or restored, you also get a sense of the challenges that lie ahead as you see a number of buildings that fell into ruin over the past half-century and await restoration.

Not long ago, the government of Cuba finally allowed entrepreneurs to start their own privately owned and operated restaurants known as paladares. Your evening begins with dinner at one of our favorites. Afterward, you can retire for the evening, or you can join your guide to retrace Hemingway's footsteps on a nighttime walk that ends up at El Floridita, a small bar Hemingway loved, where you can catch some live music and sip a daiquiri.

OVERNIGHT: HAVANA

DAY 2

HAVANA

- Watch cigar rollers at their work desks
- Explore Cuba-U.S. history and the Revolution
- Meet classic car restoration experts

This morning, you have one of those experiences you can only get in Havana, as you visit a traditional, working, cigar-making factory. As you'll see, there's nothing automated about the process. Our aficionado-friend Augustine walks you through the rows of small stations where workers listen to the 'reader' recap the day's events from the pages of the local newspaper, while they select leaves and roll each cigar by hand. It's a fascinating process and you'll have a chance to light up a cigar if you're so inclined.

Then a former Cuban diplomat and professor of political science leads you on an exploration of the island's history. On visits that include the U.S.S. Maine, the Museum of Revolution and Hotel Nacional, you'll have a chance to ask your questions and get candid insights on the once-close and always complicated history of our two countries.

After lunch, you get a terrific inside look into Cuba's car culture at a privately-owned business where artisans restore the classic cars (and paint them in just about every color you can imagine). You'll have time to talk with our friends, husband and wife Julio and Nidialys, about the cars they treasure and the challenges of being small-business owners. They've hosted famous visitors from Michelle Obama to Mark Zuckerberg. Today it's your turn, as the craftsmen who work on the cars take you for a tail-finned cruise to the Malécon, 5th Avenue and Revolution Square.

This evening, strike out on your own to discover another of the city's fine paladares. Tonight is also a great chance to take in a performance at the Tropicana or the Buena Vista Social Club.

OVERNIGHT: HAVANA

MEALS: B, L

DAY 3

HAVANA

- Chat with a renowned photojournalist
- Cook Cuban specialties with a local chef
- Explore Hemingway's home

Did you ever meet Castro in person? No? Well, the good news for you is that the photojournalist you meet this morning had virtually unfettered access to him. So, you'll have the chance to hear stories of the last half-century as well as to learn the backstories behind some iconic photos. Next, a local chef invites you into the kitchen to help prepare some popular Cuban dishes in a cooking instruction. Then you sit down to lunch on the very tasty results.

No American was ever more identified with Cuba than Ernest Hemingway. This afternoon, with a local friend you'll visit Finca Vigía, the author's Cuban home. On the grounds, you'll get a fascinating look into rooms that are furnished as they were from 1939 to 1960, the period when the author lived here and wrote works including "For Whom the Bell Tolls."

Your dinner this evening is at Havana's most elegant paladar, famous for its role in the Cuban movie "Fresa y Chocolate".

OVERNIGHT: HAVANA

DAY 4

BAY OF PIGS / TRINIDAD

- Snorkel in the clear waters of the Bay of Pigs

This morning, you head for the Caribbean coast. A local naturalist will introduce you to the rich habitat of the Zapata peninsula, a rich and biodiverse ecosystem that is one of the best-preserved anywhere on the island. The peninsula's most famous spot is the Bay of Pigs, the otherwise quiet bay that was fixed in our collective memories by the failed 1961 attempt to invade Cuba. Linguists say that the name "Bay of Pigs" is actually a mistranslation of a word that means "triggerfish." When you look down into the bay's coral reef through a snorkel mask, you'll agree that the real name makes more sense. In the company of a private Cuban guide, you might spot striped goatfish, peacock flounder, or Creole wrasse among countless others.

The day comes to a climax as you arrive in the World Heritage City of Trinidad. After settling into your accommodations, enjoy dinner on your own. Your guide will be happy to help organize dinner on-site or recommend one of the city's excellent paladares to you and help arrange transportation if necessary.

OVERNIGHT: TRINIDAD

DAY 5

SUGAR HISTORY / TRINIDAD

- Learn about Cuba's sugar cane history
- Explore Trinidad with a local

As you walk through El Valle de los Ingenios – the Valley of the Sugar Mills – this morning, the scenic vistas are spectacular. But this historic area is also the best place to look into the history of sugar. In the first half of the 19th century, this was the world's most important source of sugar. San Isidro de los Destiladeros was once typical of the local plantations. With your expert local guide, you'll learn about the tremendous scale of the enterprise, the dependence on slavery, and why the ruins of the hacienda, bell tower and slave quarters are an archeological site today. At another of the old plantations, Manaca Iznaga, a soaring tower offers sweeping views and you have a chance to sip guarapo, the classic sugarcane juice drink.

The city of Trinidad has a vibe all its own as you'll instantly realize while you explore with a local who is your insider guide. It can feel like time has stood still since the mid-19th century when Trinidad was the unofficial capital of the sugar industry. The sense is made even stronger as you move through the streets and learn about the forces of business, colonialism and politics that gave birth to this city. Along the way, you'll meet talented husband-and-wife artists at work in their home. Lázaro is a master of woodcarving, Lianis specializes in crochet, and the shared passion is wonderful to behold.

After dinner tonight in Trinidad, your evening ends with a tasting of rum and cigars, two of Cuba's most important exports.

OVERNIGHT: TRINIDAD

MEALS: B, D

DAY 6

COFFEE PLANTATION / TRINIDAD

- Taste the coffee on a mountainous, family-owned plantation
- Join in salsa lessons

In the nearby Escambray Mountains, a longtime Cuban tradition continues at a family-run coffee plantation where you are welcomed this morning. With the next generation of coffee-growers, you learn about the agricultural heritage of the industry – and even have a chance to help with harvesting, sun-drying, roasting, or grinding the beans. Of course, you also get to taste the ultimate cup of home-grown, homemade coffee.

Back in Trinidad, your day ends in a wonderful burst of music. The afternoon includes a salsa dance class. After a festive farewell dinner, retire for the evening, or our guide can point you toward Casa de la Música, an alfresco music and dance party on the sweeping staircase in the city's main square.

MEALS: B, L, D

DAY 7

CIENFUEGOS / HAVANA

- Stroll Cienfuegos with a local historian

A brief morning drive takes you to Cienfuegos, a seaside UNESCO World Heritage Site known as the "Pearl of the South." Its story is unique, as you'll discover on a walk led by a local historian. Founded in 1819, the city was settled by immigrants from France and Louisiana. Even now, you see clear hints of Paris and New Orleans in the architecture. It's also very well preserved thanks to its role as a prosperous center of shipping and industry.

You'll transfer back to Havana, with lunch along the way, and arrive at the airport for flights home.

Special thanks to the Cuban people.

Thanks to the personal hospitality and generous spirit of the individual Cubans who have become our friends over many years and repeated visits to the island, all of the interactions and activities you enjoy during your time in Cuba are fully compliant with the U.S. government's "Support for the Cuban People" general license guidelines. Count on Classic Journeys to make sure your trip is 100% legal and to do all of the record-keeping for the Office of Foreign Assets Control (OFAC) on your behalf.

ENJOY THE UNEXPECTED

When you travel with Classic Journeys, you can expect handcrafted surprises built into every trip, but some things just can't be anticipated. Unusual weather, a once-a-year festival or an unscheduled site closing will inspire us and your local guide to improvise and modify this itinerary. Likewise, the hotels named here are used on the majority of our trips, but occasionally one of them can't accommodate us. If that happens, you can count on us to let you know before departure and make sure you're in a hotel of equal or better quality. It's our goal to make your trip exceptional!

Any discount offered cannot be combined with other offers, and only applies to published (regularly scheduled public) departure dates in our catalogs or on our website.

“Enthusiasm is Contagious”

AS TRAVEL + LEISURE NAMES CLASSIC JOURNEYS THE WORLD'S BEST TOUR OPERATOR FOR 2019, FOUNDER EDWARD PIEGZA REVEALS HOW IT FEELS. ENTHUSIASTICALLY.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Just before publication of this issue, Travel + Leisure magazine announced that its readers have voted Classic Journeys the World's Best Tour Operator for 2019. It's the second time Classic Journeys has won that recognition and the 14th consecutive year the company has been in the Top 10.

Congratulations! How did you get the news?

I received a top-secret email and phone call from the editor of Travel + Leisure a few weeks ago with orders not to tell ANYONE. Friends and neighbors must have wondered why my smile has been so extra big lately. Now they know.

And how does it feel to be the World's Best Tour Operator again?

Awesome. Humbling. So, so satisfying. Deeply gratifying to learn that we have achieved what we set out to do which is to handcraft trips of a lifetime for every guest who travels with us. I'm known as long-winded, so I could probably come up with 10 or 15 more ways to describe it if you want me to keep going.

Why do you think Travel + Leisure gave you this recognition?

Actually, it isn't the T+L editors who make the decision. That's the best part. Their readers cast the votes. So the people who do the traveling, the guests who explore the world with us and our competitors — they are the ones who raised their hands to tell T+L that Classic Journeys is the World's Best Tour Operator based on their own experiences. Let me say it right here: "To all of you who voted for us, you are the World's Best Guests!"

What do you think makes your guests the World's Best Guests?

That's easy. They are curious. They care about connecting with people of different cultures and immersing themselves in the world. They treasure experiences more than things. Like the old ad slogan went, they go for the gusto and crave the chance to have one-of-a-kind moments. They are incredibly interesting and interested people, and all of us at Classic Journeys count it as a real privilege to share in their passion for travel. And we feel that way on the other 364 days of the year when we're not celebrating recognition like this.

I guess this is what you meant when you told me that "Enthusiasm is contagious."

Absolutely. That's not our official motto, but it could be. We love what we do. We enjoy helping guests figure out how to invest their precious time and budget. I can honestly say that all of us feel that way — the Guest Services folks who interact with you while you're planning your trip, the Tour Operations team members who plan all of the logistics, the local guides who lead each one of our trips full time. There's just a huge amount of positive energy in what we do, and I think it truly is hard to resist. We'd climb into every one of our guest's suitcases and go along with them if we could. Because we can't, we call each guest while they're on tour just to be sure they are having a trip of a lifetime.

Has anyone ever called Classic Journeys obsessive?

I hope so, because we are. Everything is in the details. For instance, we've created a special tour for the total eclipse of the sun which is going to pass over parts of South America in 2020. We've already analyzed likely traffic patterns in the most remote areas and figured out how to structure our itinerary so that our guests will be in place in the path of totality while the people who don't plan ahead will be stuck in jams on remote dirt roads. We enjoy obsessing about details like that so that our guests never have to.

How can you top this?

Oh, we never let ourselves think of it that way. We just continue to approach every single guest on each and every departure like the most important guest we've ever had. It seems to be working! Of course, we keep looking for new ways to win more converts. For 2019, we've launched a new series of Classic Journeys that are based from

"I voted for you!"

We've heard that expression so many times lately from guests who registered their votes with Travel + Leisure. Given the results, we know it's true ... and you know that your votes really count!

STAFF AND GUIDES

"I always feel like I'm traveling with a best friend. I prefer your local guides to the ones that other companies fly in."

ITINERARIES AND DESTINATIONS

"If it's on my bucket list, you always seem to go there. Of course, with so many options you always seem to make my list longer and longer!"

ACTIVITIES

"On your trips, I've cooked with Michelin chefs, sung songs with Quechua schoolchildren, and walked on glaciers with the descendants of Vikings. Fun doesn't begin to describe it."

ACCOMMODATIONS

"How you manage so many 5-star properties on these trips shocks me. But please, please, please keep it up!"

FOOD

"I have never eaten so well so often so happily. When you people claim that you are foodies, you aren't kidding."

OVERALL VALUE

"We have never had a better vacation at any price."

river cruise boats. On a different note, seeing how many travelers can't always find as much vacation time as they really want, we have developed a series of 6-day or shorter quick trips that go as far afield as Iceland, the Galápagos and Morocco.

Final thoughts?

It's always an honor to win recognition. But, for all of us at Classic Journeys, the biggest privilege is to share the dreams of our guests and make those dreams come true. That connection is the best feeling of all.
