

A Story of Hope

Marie and her family struggled to produce enough food. "We were stuck," Marie told FH staff. "There was nothing we could do." Then someone like you shared the gift of vegetable seeds and helped Marie learn new skills for cultivating a bountiful harvest. Now, Marie and her family can farm nutritious food to eat and have a reliable, sustainable source of food and income. Without worry about where their next meal will come from, Marie and her family are healthier and have hope for the future!

A LIFE-CHANGING GIFT has been given IN YOUR HONOR

This gift will enable vulnerable families to access resources and new skills to provide for their families far into the future! Agriculture and livelihoods gifts provide training on how to farm, raise animals, and use new skills to make sure that each child has food to eat and every family has a steady income.
