

Policy name: Safeguarding Policy
Policy owner: Sr. Director, Global HR	Effective: 10-1-2018
Version: 1.0	Last Reviewed:

Audience: All FH personnel, directors, partners, representatives, board members, consultants, volunteers, and anyone else (“personnel”) associated with the delivery of Food for the Hungry (FH) work. This policy applies to personnel at all times, including when they are on duty, off duty, or on leave.

Purpose:

FH believes all people are made in the image of God and should be treated with respect, honored for their intrinsic value, and cared for in ways that glorify God.

The purpose of this policy is to protect all beneficiaries, including children and all vulnerable populations, from any harm that may be caused due to their involvement with FH programs. This includes harm caused by:

- The conduct of personnel or related personnel associated with FH.
- The design and implementation of FH's programs and activities.

FH strives to provide an environment free of sexual exploitation and abuse in all places where we implement relief and development programs. FH holds a strong, zero-tolerance policy for the protection against sexual exploitation and abuse between personnel and beneficiaries.

This policy affirms the commitments made by FH and informs personnel of responsibilities in relation to safeguarding.

Key Terms:

a. Safeguarding

- i. The process of protecting beneficiaries, including children and vulnerable populations, from abuse or neglect, preventing impairment of their health and development, and ensuring they are safe and have effective care that enables them to flourish.
- ii. FH is responsible to ensure that personnel, operations, and programs do no harm. This includes protecting children and vulnerable populations from the risk of harm and abuse.

b. Child(ren)

A child is an individual under the age of 18, irrespective of local country definitions of when a child reaches adulthood.

c. Child Abuse

The infliction of physical or emotional injury on a person under the age of 18 years old. There are four categories of child abuse:

- i. Sexual Abuse: Includes any actual or threatened sexual contact, prostitution, or pornography involving a child. A child is incapable of "consenting" to sexual activity with an adult. The mistaken belief that the person is 18 or older cannot be used as a defense.
- ii. Physical Abuse: Includes the actual or threatened physical injury of a child. Child physical abuse can include deliberately hitting, beating, shaking, and/or throwing a child.
- iii. Emotional Abuse: Includes severe or persistent mistreatment, or rejection of a child that may impair emotional or behavioral development. Emotional abuse can include telling the child they are worthless, unloved, or inadequate; inappropriate use of spiritual authority (for example, the Bible, church tradition, church authority, etc.); or forcing a child to act in any unhealthy way.
- iv. Neglect: Includes the persistent or severe failure to care for and/or protect a child from exposure to danger that results in the impairment of health or development. Neglect can include educational, physical or emotional elements.

d. Beneficiary

A resident of a community where FH partners that may be a recipient of services, and/or participate actively as a contributor of project service activities sponsored by FH and FH partners.

e. Vulnerable populations

Adults and children who are unable to protect themselves from harm or exploitation; or who for any reason including gender, mental health, physical health, disability, ethnicity, religious identity, economic, social status, and/or as a result of disasters and conflicts, are deemed to be at risk.

f. Sexual exploitation

Sexual exploitation occurs when someone uses, or tries to use, a differential power relationship or a person's vulnerable position or trust for sexual purposes. This can include coercing or engaging a person into a sexual act, prostitution, or pornography, with or without the person's consent, in exchange for goods and services, money, drugs, shelter, food, protection or other benefits.¹

g. Sexual abuse

Actual or threatened physical sexual contact, whether by force or under unequal or coercive conditions. Aid beneficiaries or other community members may be at particular risk of sexual exploitation or abuse. It is the responsibility of all FH personnel to create and maintain an environment that prevents sexual exploitation and abuse.

Policy:

Prevention of Sexual Exploitation and Abuse

In order to protect the most vulnerable populations, particularly vulnerable populations and children, from sexual exploitation and abuse ("SEA"), and to ensure the integrity of FH activities, the following core principles must be followed:

- A. SEA constitutes acts of gross misconduct and are grounds for termination of employment.
- B. Sexual activity with children is prohibited. Mistaken belief in the age of the child is not a defense.
- C. Exchange of money, employment, goods, or services for sex, including sexual favors or other forms of humiliation, degrading or exploitative behavior, is prohibited. This includes the exchange of assistance that is due to program beneficiaries.
- D. Sexual relationships between personnel and beneficiaries is strongly discouraged. Such relationships, as they are based on inherently unequal power dynamics, undermine the credibility and integrity of FH's relief and development work.
- E. When personnel develop concerns or suspicions regarding SEA by a fellow worker, whether in FH or not, he or she must immediately report such concerns via established reporting mechanisms.²
- F. Personnel are required to create and maintain a safe environment that prevents SEA and promotes the implementation of this Policy. Supervisors at all levels have particular responsibilities to support and develop systems which maintain this environment.

*Commitments*³

FH is dedicated to fulfilling the six core principles through implementation of the following commitments, FH will:

- A. Develop organization-specific strategies to prevent and respond to SEA. This includes incorporating appropriate job responsibilities in specific personnel positions, undertake assessments to identify areas of risks, and document steps taken to remove or reduce these risks.
- B. Incorporate FH's standards on SEA in relevant codes of conduct, onboarding materials, and training courses for personnel.
- C. Ensure that when engaging in partnerships, sub-grant or sub-recipient agreements, partnership agreements.
 - a) incorporate this Policy as an attachment;

²The established complaints mechanism may at times be an independent, third-party reporting mechanism. However, FH is committed to participating in inter-agency community based complaints mechanisms in humanitarian contexts, and therefore inter-agency complaints mechanisms may be the established system in some contexts.

³The Commitments are based on the Statement of Commitment Relating to Sexual Exploitation and Abuse by UN and non-UN personnel, August 2008.

- b) include appropriate language requiring contracting entities and individuals, their employees, and volunteers to abide with a code of conduct aligned with this Policy; and
 - c) expressly state that failure to take preventive measures against SEA, to investigate and report allegations, or to take corrective actions when SEA has occurred, shall constitute grounds for FH to terminate the agreement.
- D. Regularly inform personnel, non-personnel and beneficiaries on measures taken to prevent and respond to SEA, including complaint mechanisms. Confidentiality will be respected for all parties involved.
- E. Engage the support of communities and governments to prevent and respond to SEA by personnel and non-personnel.
- F. Ensure that reporting mechanisms are accessible and that FH focal points understand how to respond appropriately, including a reporting procedure in a relevant local language and policy for non-compliance.
- G. Provide support and assistance to SEA survivors. This may include medical treatment, legal assistance, and psychosocial support as appropriate, taking into account confidentiality, cultural sensitivities, and survivor safety.
- H. In compliance with applicable laws, prevent perpetrators of SEA from being (re)hired or (re)deployed. Managers and Human Resource teams must ensure robust recruitment screening processes for all personnel. This could include use of criminal background checks, personal reference checks, and interview plans that incorporate behavioral-based interview questions.
- I. Investigate allegations of SEA in a timely and professional manner.
- J. Take swift and appropriate action, including legal action when required, against personnel and non-personnel who commit SEA. This includes termination, and referral to the relevant authorities for appropriate action in the abuser's country of origin as well as the host country.
- K. Take appropriate actions to the best of FH's abilities to protect complainants from retaliation where allegations of SEA are reported involving personnel and non-personnel.
- L. Ensure high-level oversight on SEA reports received and actions taken, in order to monitor effectiveness, report progress, and improve efforts to prevent and respond to SEA.
- M. Personnel will treat all people with respect and not use language or behavior towards beneficiaries, children, and/or vulnerable populations that is inappropriate, harassing, abusive, sexually provocative, demeaning, or culturally inappropriate.
- N. When photographing or filming a beneficiary, child, and vulnerable populations, personnel will:
 - a. Comply with local traditions or restrictions for reproducing personal images;

- b. Obtain written, informed consent from the parent or guardian, before photographing or filming a beneficiary, child, or vulnerable populations, explaining how the photograph or film will be used. If the parent or guardian is illiterate, verbal explanation of guidelines for consent must be given in the local language, asking for thumb print or other marking to indicate consent on the form;
- c. Ensure photographs, videos and social media present beneficiaries, children and vulnerable populations in a dignified and respectful manner;
- d. Ensure beneficiaries, children, and vulnerable populations are adequately clothed and not in poses that could be seen as sexually suggestive;
- e. Ensure images are honest representations of the context and the facts, and;
- f. Ensure file labels do not reveal identifying information about a beneficiary, child, or vulnerable populations including full name, city, and/or country.

Duty to Report

- C. If personnel learn of potential safeguarding issues, he/she must report even if the alleged survivor does not want it investigated. While FH will strive to respect the alleged survivor's wishes, in some situations FH may need to investigate to ensure protection and prevention of future mistreatment. Also, in some situations, FH may be required to report the potential misconduct to local authorities for investigation.
- D. Personnel must report suspected or alleged safeguarding issues. If the alleged perpetrator is not personnel, FH will refer the matter to appropriate authorities.
- E. Personnel are to report suspected or alleged safeguarding issues and not follow-up or investigate on their own.
- F. Failure to report safeguarding issues can result in criminal liability and/or termination.

Retaliation

FH prohibits retaliation against anyone who:

- Opposes any act of abuse;
- Reports in good faith any suspected or alleged child and vulnerable populations; and
- Participates in the investigation of any alleged incident of child and vulnerable populations

Retaliation is grounds for discipline of personnel, including termination. Anyone who believes that he/she has been retaliated against should promptly inform FH using the reporting options listed previously.
