

ANNUAL REPORT 2023

UNLOCKING VALUE FOR FLOURISHING COMMUNITIES

FOOD FOR THE HUNGRY

I am honored to lead an organization of committed and capable individuals who are relentlessly pursuing impact for the nearly 10 million people we serve in 18 countries.

Motivated by our faith to go to the hard places and engage some of the world's most extreme challenges, our work to reconcile broken relationships and transform systems is restoring health, wholeness, and hope for communities across the globe. From the Philippines to Ethiopia to Bolivia, Food for the Hungry staff collaborate with children, families, and communities to bring innovative solutions that build resilience and catalyze long-term, sustainable impact.

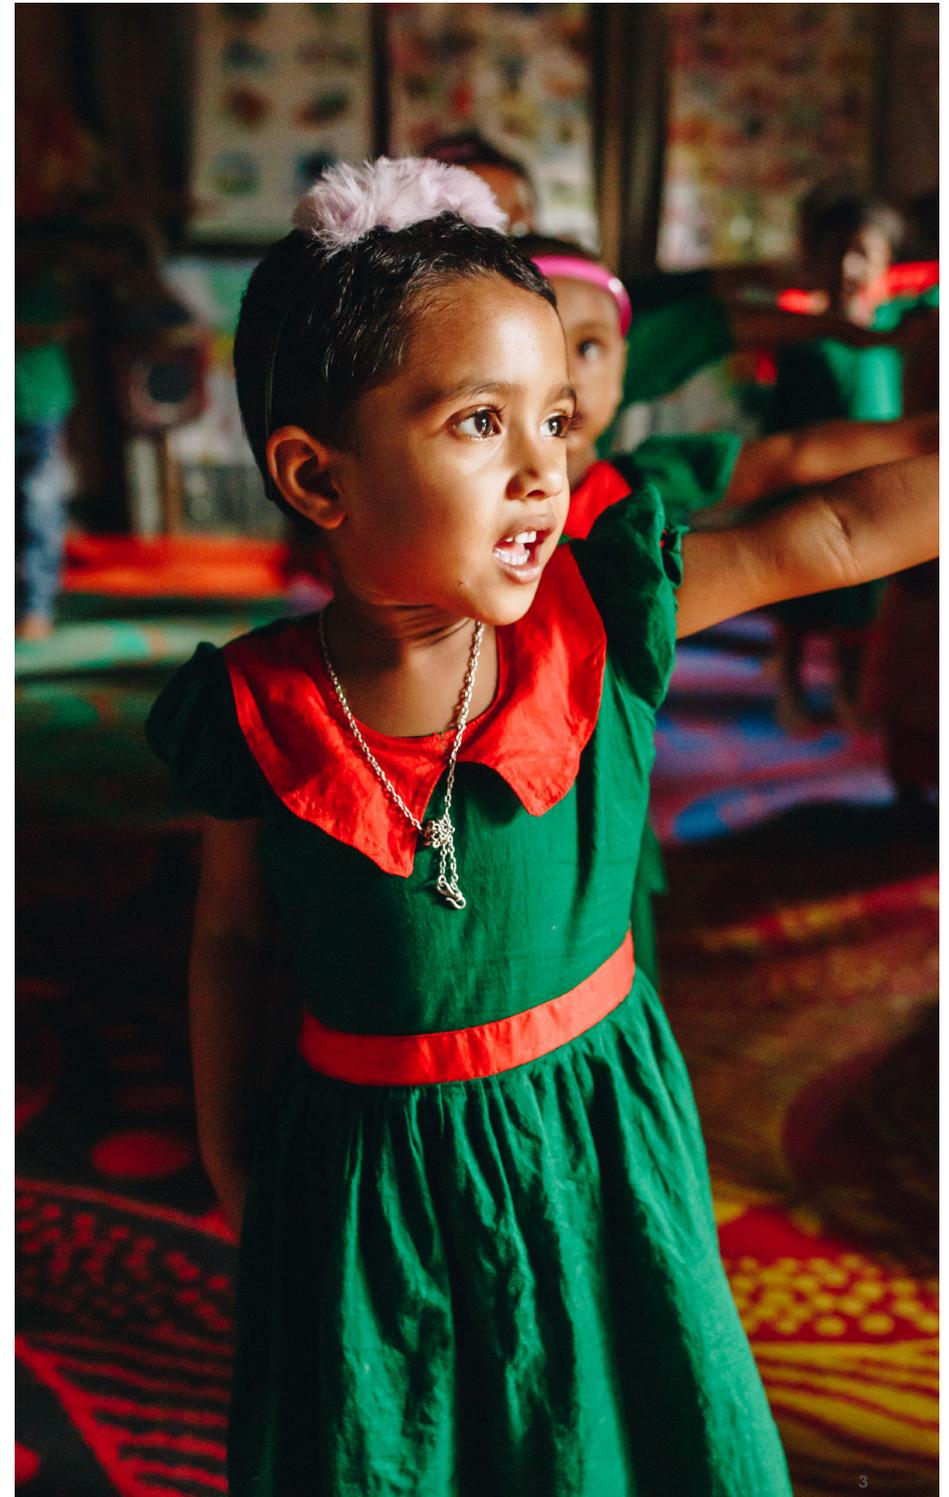

I am reminded by Isaiah 40:31 that "those who hope in the Lord will renew their strength." I am encouraged daily by the Lord's faithfulness and inspired by the transformative power of our collective efforts. In the face of real challenges, hope remains.

We appreciate the ongoing efforts and financial contributions of our generous donors, investors, and partners – working in concert to alleviate suffering and rebuild the resilience of those we serve, especially the most vulnerable people.

On behalf of all of us at Food for the Hungry, thank you for being part of this journey.

Mark Viso
President & CEO
Food for the Hungry

As we reflect on the past year's endeavors and accomplishments, it is with immense gratitude that we humbly serve alongside the most vulnerable communities.

God has a heart for the poor, and so does Food for the Hungry. The underlying causes of poverty, injustice, and marginalization are broken relationships with God, ourselves, others, and nature. That's why our relationships with local communities and leaders reach across the full range of economic, social, spiritual, and cultural interests – bringing all of us to the table to create comprehensive and innovative solutions that endure.

In the midst of adversity and turbulent times, our faith-inspired values and principles guide us, inspiring hope and resilience – reaffirming our resolve to combat poverty, injustice, and marginalization together. Whether it's providing life-saving aid to families affected by natural disasters, supporting local farmers to improve food security, or empowering women and children with access to education and healthcare, our work brings hope, acting as a catalyst for impactful change.

Embarking on the journey ahead, we remain steadfast in our commitment to serve with compassion, integrity, and excellence. Together, we have the opportunity to sow seeds of hope, catalyze transformational change, deliver value to those we serve — our shareholders, and build communities where every person – created in the image of God – has the opportunity to flourish.

On behalf of the Board of Directors, I extend my deepest gratitude to our shareholders, dedicated staff, generous donors, and invaluable partners for their unwavering support and partnership. Your commitment inspires us to press onward, knowing that together, we can witness flourishing within some of the world's most vulnerable communities.

Thank you for your continued trust, generosity, and advocacy on behalf of Food for the Hungry.

With heartfelt appreciation,

ABOUT FH

Food for the Hungry (FH) is a Christian humanitarian organization that has designed, developed, and delivered solutions for vulnerable communities for more than 50 years. FH supports the realization of resilient and flourishing communities in hard places to address the systemic challenges of poverty, injustice and marginalization. We work in hard places across Africa, Asia, and Latin America to foster community-led and transformative solutions in education, agriculture, health, livelihoods, clean water, and disaster risk reduction.

OUR FH HEARTBEAT VALUES GUIDE US IN ALL THAT WE DO:

We Follow Jesus

Our Work is Relational

We Invest Wisely and Focus on Results

We Serve With Humility

We Pursue Beauty, Goodness, and Truth

UNLOCKING VALUE FOR FLOURISHING COMMUNITIES

FH ensures that communities have the agency and resources necessary to realize their God-given potential. This is achieved through life-changing development programs and advocacy for the most vulnerable.

Since 1971, we have walked alongside the most vulnerable people in the hard places, delivering lasting impact. Nearly 10 million people in 18 countries were reached in 2023 through FH programs.

2023 IMPACT HIGHLIGHTS:

$14,185,932 in assets were created and invested

538,036 young women and mothers experienced improved nutrition

719,957 individuals benefited from water, sanitation, and hygiene programs

28,764 community leaders implemented disaster preparedness plans

WORKING TOGETHER

FH sincerely thanks all of our donors and partners who make this work possible. The diversity of our partnerships – comprising individuals, organizations, institutions, families, corporations, governments, and foundations – enables FH to fulfill our vision of helping communities challenged by poverty, injustice, and marginalization.

USAID/FH PARTNERSHIP IMPROVES CURRENT, FUTURE FAMILY NUTRITION

With support from USAID's International Food Relief Partnership (IFRP), a Title II-funded program, Food for the Hungry (FH) is working with communities in the Western Highlands of Guatemala to build resilience and food security and improve the nutritional status of vulnerable individuals and families in areas with some of the highest rates of poverty, hunger, and child malnutrition in the country. Thanks to this partnership with the U.S. government, FH local staff have reached over 14,000 children in more than 112 communities through the distribution of a fortified micronutrient soup mix used to supplement meals, alleviating hunger and addressing vitamin and nutrient deficiencies.

FH also provides support to create home gardens that further diversify diets, as well as hands-on training and cooking demonstrations that incorporate locally available and affordable ingredients to create traditional, nutritious dishes. These investments address hunger and malnutrition in the immediate term, while also building long-term resilience and food security by equipping families with the knowledge, skills, and resources to diversify their diets and improve their nutritional status.

CHILD SPONSORSHIP

Children Sponsored in 2023: 162,453

Khoun, a mother of three in Cambodia, was grateful when her 12-year-old daughter Sievminh became a sponsored child through Food for the Hungry (FH). But she had no idea that her own life would be transformed.

Khoun and her husband, Chanthon, were rice and cassava farmers. But their income couldn't even provide the basics for their family.

Their health was affected by drinking dirty water and poor household sanitation, and they constantly pulled their children out of school to help farm.

Khoun's first experience with FH was educational training to help her children in school. She set up a learning space for her children in their home so she could help with their homework. Both parents started reading books in their native language, Khmer, to Sievminh. They also learned how to engage effectively with her teachers.

As a result, Sievminh's sponsorship didn't just help her. It empowered her whole family. "Now my parents encourage us to attend school regularly," Sievminh says.

FH also trained Sievminh's parents in improved agricultural practices, health and hygiene, nutrition, and business practices. As a result, they're earning higher wages and taking better care of their family.

Now Khoun wants to ensure her children will go to college, ending the family's generational cycle of poverty.

As for Sievminh, she dreams of pursuing a career that will impact families like hers. "I want to become a teacher to help children in my community have a good education and brighter futures."

Thanks to child sponsors partnering with FH, this whole family is growing, learning, and reaching their God-given potential – and eager to expand that impact throughout their community.
