GIANT FLYING PLASTIC JET— NOW ONLY $1

Yes! Gleaming silver plastic twenty-one inches long! Slashes through the air at 600 scale miles an hour—every second under your complete control.

So life-like that it even SOUNDS like a real jet! So authentic that Pan American Airways has authorized it as an Official Model! And now it is yours complete—with nothing else to buy!—FOR A PRICE SO LOW THAT UNTIL TODAY IT WAS ENTIRELY IMPOSSIBLE.

No Fuel! No Danger! Yet It Flies 600 Scale Miles An Hour!

Simply attach the U-Control Line as we show you to the left wing. Then suspend the model from this control line, and begin slowly to swing it through the air. Before your astonished eyes, you will see one of the most thrilling aerodynamic sights of your entire life!

This model is perfectly designed for high-speed flight! As soon as it picks up power from the motion of your hand, it will lift up its nose, its wings will begin to cut through the air, it will flash upward and streak ahead of you! As you give it more and more line it will turn wider and wider, fly faster and faster! You have perfect control every second of its flight! You can fly it in circles only five feet wide, or you can take it outdoors and fly it in gigantic arcs one hundred feet wide—the size of an entire city lot—so fast that your eye can hardly follow it—BUT EVERY SECOND UNDER YOUR COMPLETE CONTROL!

You can make this plane soar upward—stall at fantastic heights—dive towards the ground—and then pick up speed and flash upward again in a breath-taking rescue! You can make the engines on your plane scream like fighters at bursts of 600 scale miles an hour! You can make them purr softly at cruising speed—hear them roar again as your plane picks up altitude and speed!

You can spiral this magnificent model down into a perfect landing! You can fly two or more planes in perfect formation! You can have jet races! You can have an entire fleet of breath-taking models flown by every member of your family—and you can have them all for only $1.00 a piece plus 25c postage & handling—LESS THAN ONE-FIFTH THE PRICE YOU'D EXPECT TO PAY!

CHECK THESE INCREDIBLE FEATURES!

All plastic! Almost twenty-one inches long, six inches high, twenty-one inches in wingspan!

Full brilliant official colors! Silver engines and wings—red, white and blue body! All colors already printed on the plastic! Nothing to paint! No chance of a mistake!

Fits together—without glue, without tools, without hard work! All parts already die-cut for you! Nothing to cut! Nothing to shape! Nothing to paste!

So incredibly beautiful that it is authorized by Pan American Airways and Douglas Aircraft! Try it completely at our risk—TODAY!

THE PROUD KING

Once, in the kingdom of Avalonia, there was a very proud king. And the most valued thing he owned was a beautiful red coat.

The king was always happy when he wore his coat. He never bothered any of the citizens, he lowered the taxes, and he never got into any arguments with the noblemen.

But one day it happened . . .

"My coat! I've lost my coat!" the king shouted one Sunday morning. "What am I going to do? I'm not the same without my coat!"

The very next day the king made a great announcement. "My people," he said, "I will give anything wished to the man who finds my coat! . . . But if it's not found, my people, watch out!"

Everyone in Avalonia immediately began to look everywhere for the coat. It wasn't only the reward they were interested in; they were also thinking of the king's anger.

Then one day, a poor shepherd while tending his flock came upon the king's beautiful red coat.

"I must return it at once," said the shepherd. "The king must be made happy again."

So that very day, the shepherd rushed to the palace. But he was stopped at the gate.

"I see you have the king's coat," smiled the guard.

"Yes, I must return it," answered the shepherd.

"But I won't let you in," grinned the guard, "unless you give me one-third of the reward!"

The shepherd knew that the people of Avalonia would never be treated well again until the proud king had his coat back. So he willingly offered the guard one-third of the reward.

But there were two other guards the shepherd had to pass to get to the king. And each one of them demanded one-third of the reward. But at last he reached the king.

"Your majesty," the shepherd told the king. "I found your coat, and have come to return it!"

The king was overjoyed. He rushed to put on the coat. And when he was wearing it, he said, "Now what reward do you ask for, my good man?"

"I want nothing for a reward, your majesty," answered the shepherd. "You see, I've been forced to give one-third of my reward to each of three of your guards which would leave nothing for me anyhow. And besides, your majesty, I would want nothing but your happiness and for you to be good to your people."

The king was proud, but he was a smart king also.

"My good man," he said to the shepherd, "you are a sincere and honest man. But I have been good to my people only when I have felt good myself. I want you to take my red coat, my good shepherd. It has given me a false pride. Now I want to be proud of my actions to my people."

And from that day on, the people of Avalonia not only had a proud king, but also a king they could be proud of!

CASPER'S DIARY

Dear Diary:

There were some interesting thoughts that came to my mind this month that I'd like to tell you about.

I began thinking of people who were slightly different than others. People who might even be called ugly. People who had terrible diseases. But these same people who became some of our most wonderful citizens . . . and were loved by all.

I began thinking of Abraham Lincoln, dear Diary. Here was a man who could easily be called ugly. I'm sure many people at first turned away from him. I guess they didn't particularly care to look at his face. But luckily they found that the face wasn't important. And then they saw that the greatness that was inside Abraham Lincoln made him one of the handsomest men of all time.

I also thought of Franklin Delano Roosevelt. Here was a man who could hardly walk. He had a horrible case of infantile paralysis. There were many things he couldn't do. But it didn't take people long to see that this was one of the greatest men of our times . . . and anything else didn't matter.

I wish, dear Diary, that all people would treat each other that way. That they would look beyond the first impression. That they would accept differences in each other, and realize that each of us is in some way different from the other fellow. Then we could see each other as we really are . . . not what we SEEM to be.

I guess I can feel it more than most individuals. You know better than anyone of the troubles I have in being a ghost. And there are times when those troubles really get me down. But when I meet just one friend, who is willing to accept me for myself, I feel wonderful again and feel there are many who can be my friends.

This isn't the kind of thing I usually like to write to you of, dear Diary. But I felt I wanted to tell it to someone, and you're the easiest person to talk to.

If you see some of my friends, dear Diary, ask them what they think about these thoughts of mine. Ask them if they haven't had experiences like that themselves. Ask them to write and tell me about them and as to how they solved them.
