"What looks like a double cross," was charged against BART by a JOBART spokesman this week. "BART is a discriminatory organization," the spokesman, Benjamin Lusk, JOBART polit-ical action committee chairman, went on to say, "and should re-ceive no more federal funds until it changes its ways." Basis of the charge was alleged breach of an informal agreement between Tom Fike, Eugene Drew, and Mr. Lusk with Iron Workers and Mr. Lusk with Iron Workers Union business agents Taylor and Weaver, both members of the East Bay Local's Joint Ap-prenticeship Committee. The meeting was designed to give East Bay Negroes and Mexican-Americans an opportunity to get into the union and advance into skilled construction jubs. The union's representatives said they are getting ready to release 500 applications for ironworker apprenticeships to the State Employment department on June 1, Lusk told BARB. The top 150 applicants will be given union membership. The conferees agreed that the above information would not be announced until May 28, so that there would not be time for the union to give white Anglo workers the jump on minority applicants.

In reliance on this agreement In reliance on this agreement the Negro community had been preparing to bus 500 Negroes to the State Employment Offices on June 1st, with CORE, Urban League, Neighborhood House and various churches cooperating, Lusk reported.

Lusk reported. Then, on May 24, James Browne, BART community re-lations officer speaking at a civil right hearing sponsored by the Beth Eden Baptist Church, Oak-land, revealed the agreement which was not to have been made see page 2 succeeded in stopping the prog-ress of work.

Un-mealy-mouthed Maxim to Avoid Heat

"Sleep with your friendly, neighborhood policeman" was jokingly suggested as a Sexual Freedom League maxim as members discussed ways to main-tain good relations with law-enforcement officers. Some members at the May Some members at the May 22 meeting were heated over the penetration of an SFL party by Berkeley police, as reported in last week's BARB, (See accom-panying photos for a BARB's-eye view.) They wanted to press hard on the issue of violated rights. But the main thrust of the argument was borne by those who wanted to "stay cool" and "help the police be more loving," This position was taken by most in attendance.

To stiffen the "security" at future parties, the League em-braced two motions. One pro-vides for a doorman to permit entry only of card-carrying, of-age members, and formally bans "illegal substances." The other makes members responsible for the behavior of their guests. Members may be ejected from the League for breaking the security rules.

SFL president Richard Thorne gave a progress report and an inspirational talk about Jesus. He (Thorne) announced that the League would sponsor "get-ac-quainted" gatherings of fully clad members. He reported that the "lessons in eroticism" would become biweekly, on Fridays. A speaker from the California

Committee to Legalize Abortion blamed Roman Catholic conceptions of the entry of the soul in-to the human embryo as the major barrier against legalized abortion. The Committee will gather signatures to place the issue on the 1968 California ballot.

Despite a girl's protest that the League was biting off more than it could chew, president Thorne affirmed that the SFL will offer things good enough to eat, at Telegraph and Bancroft. To raise funds, they will sell Sexual Freedom Sandwiches.

From 500 to 1000 persons attended parts of the day-long rally, described by one wind-blown observer as an "endur-ance contest." Last year's May protest drew 30,000 spec-

Isaac Deutscher, Marxist scholar and biographer of Trot-

Deutscher concluded, "I'm convinced that the greatness of the American radical intelligentsia will one day be proven by people who go on believing it is possible to awaken the sleeping glant of the American work-ing class, and not to believe that you can end this war sing-

Janitor's Right to Peek Challenged

Is a faculty member's office his private domain? Are his per-sonal effects subject to inspection of other university employees, especially janitors?

These questions will be raised by Local 1474, American Federa-tion of Teachers, in a letter to Vice Chancellor Earl Cheit, along with a request for clari-fication of university policy. At a meeting May 24, AFT Local 1474 (faculty and professional researchers) decided upon the letter to Cheit and set up a committee to draft it. Committee members are lo-cal Union President Richard Strohman, Vice President Harry Rubin, Alameda Labor Council Delegate Beck, Attorney Joel Goldfarb and Assistant Professor John Leggett.

John Leggett, Leggett's discovery of a head janitor rifling his private files was responsible for the union's action. This was reported ex-clusively in the last issue of BARB; also the refusal of As-sistant District Attorney David Dutton to take action in the case. It has been widely discussed among faculty members this week.

Entering his office during the evening, Leggett found Head Jani-tor Riley at his desk, beside an open drawer containing a file of correspondence. In Riley's hand, correspondence. In Riley's hand, Leggett said, were a letter from Chancellor Heyns to Leggett, dealing with a contemplated re-primand of Leggett, and copies of letters pursuant to that one, from Leggett to Heyns and Cheit. "I have reason to believe that the janitor knew where my cor-respondence with the Chancel-lor's office was located," Leg-gett told BARB this week. This was based on Leggett's obser-

Electronic machinery in the bus humming with prophecypaper signs blowing in cold wind. mid-Sunday afternoon's silence in town under at frost-grey sky that covers the horizon--That the rest of earth is unseen, the outer universe invisible, Unknown except thru language airprint magic images or prophecy of the secret heart the same in Waterville as Saigon one human form: When a woman's heart bursts in Waterville a woman screams equal in Hanoi-On to Wichita to prophecy! O frightful Bard! into the heart of the Vortex where anxiety rings the University with millionaire pressure, lonely crank telephone voices sighing in dread, and students waken trembling in their beds by dreams of a new truth warm as meat, little girls suspecting their elders of murder committed by remote control machinery, boys with sexual bellies aroused chilled in the heart by the mailman with a letter from an aging white haired General Director of selection for service in deathwar all this black language writ by machine! O hopeless Fathers and Teachers in Hue do you know the same woe too?

I'm an old man now, and a lonesome man in Kansas

but not afraid to speak my lonesomeness in a car, because not only my lonesomeness it's Ours, all over America, O tender fellows & spoken lonesomeness is Prophecy in the moon 100 years ago or in the middle of Kansas now. not the vast plains mute our months that fill at midnite with cestatic longuage when our trembling bodies hold each other breast to breast on a mattress -Not the empty sky that hides the feeling from our faces nor our skirts and trousers that conceal the bodylove emanating in a glow of beloved skin, white smooth abdomen down to the hair between our legs, It's not a God that bore us that forbid our Being, like a sunny rose all red with naked joy between our eyes & beilies, yes! All we do is for this frightened thing we call Love, want and lackfear that we aren't the one whose body could be beloved of all the brides of Kansas City, kissed all over by every boy of Wichita-O but how many in their solitude weep aloud like me-On the bridge over Republican River almost in tears to know how to speak the right language-on the frosty broad road uphill between highway embankments I search for the language that is also yoursalmost all our language has been taxed by war. Radio antennae high tension wires ranging from Junction City across the plainshighway cloverleaf sunk in a vast meadow lanes curving past Abilene to Denver filled with old heroes of loveto Wichita where McChure's mind burst into animal beauty drunk, getting laid in a car in a neon misted street 15 years ago- . to Independence where the old man's still alive who loosed the bomb that's slaved all human consciousness and made the body universe a piace of fear-Now, speeding along the empty plain, no giant demon machine visible on the horizon

Now, speeding along the entry plant, no giant demon machine visible on the horizon but tiny human trees and wooden houses at sky edge I claim my birthright! reborn forever as long as Man in Kunsas or other universe—Joy reborn after the vast sadness of War Gods!
