ORDAZ VICTIM GIVES THE LIE TO HANGMAN

(The following letter was sent by Daniel Camejo to the New York TIMES. He is the brother of Pete Camejo, West Coast YSA organizer, active in Berkeley. Daniel has been in Lecumberri since July.)

Lecumberri Priso Mexico City October 12, 1968

Dear Sir:

Dear Sir:

As one of the hundreds of political prisoners being held by the Diaz Ordaz regime, I consider that it might be of interest to inform your readers of some brief but important facts which the Mexican press, strongly censored and controlled by the government here, has not seen fit to print. Many of the other political prisoners here in the Lecumberri Prison are also particularly interested in that the people of the United States know the truth concerning the recent events here and the existence of political prisoners in Mexico.

I should note that I am a Venezuelan citizen who was arrested in a framed-up case of a "conspiracy plot" which the Mexican Federal Security Police cooked up in July of last year, three weeks after I had entered Mexico legally as a tourist. Since July 17, 1967, twelve Mexicans, a Salvadorean and myself have been imprisoned without any sentence.

Presently, there are over 200 political prisoners here in Lecumberri Prison alone, all awaiting a trial and sentence. Some have been here over four years!

Then there is the case of Demetrio Vallejo, the uncorruptible Railroad Workers' Union Leader, held in prison since 1959 and presently on a hunger strike so that he be granted "confinement".

sently on a hunger strike so that he be granted "confinement", which means that he would have a given city as jail. He is legally entitled to this after the nine years he has been held behind bars. Diaz Ordaz has repeatedly denied him this right. this right.

this right.

The case of Valentin Campa, also imprisoned since the 1959 railroad workers' strike, is likewise notorious. In his case, the government has admitted in official documents that he is being held because of his dangerous ideas.

One could go on detailing the particular case of each of the political prisoners, but it would make this letter far to lengthy. Suffice it to say that in an interview which doctors Miguel Cruz Ruiz and Gilberto Balam Pereira (both political prisoners here since Ruiz and Gilberto Balam Pereira (both political prisoners here since August, 1966) granted to Terry Hillman of the U.S. Committee for Justice to Latin American Political Prisoners (USLA), they estimated that at that time (early September, 1967) there were approximately 3,500 political prisoners in all the jails and military camps of Mexico.

In this context, one can measure the sclerotic cynicism of the pre-camps of Mexico.

In this context, one can measure the sclerotic cynicism of the present regime when Diaz Ordaz straightfacedly declared in his recent State of the Union Address to the "rubber stamp Congress," that there were no political prisoners in Mexico.

I should add that I am a Civil Engineer by profession, having graduated from Cornell University in 1961. While held here, I have been threatened on various occasions with being handed over to the notorious Venezuelan Digepol Police, who would be "advised" to see to it that I "disappeared." It is quite possible that I may be subjected to reprisals for having sent you this letter, If such be the case, I hereby hold the Mexican authorities, particularly the Army, which administers this prison, responsible for such reprisals.

There are so many concrete facts which unquestionably prove the criminal attitude taken by the regime of President Gustavo Diaz Ordaz, not only in relation to the Tlatelolco Massacre of October 2, 1968, but from the beginning of the present student movement, that a mere compilation of these crimes would constitute a lengthy document. Undoubtedly, these facts must, and are being compiled, including photographs and filmed scenes of the bestial police and Army brutality which has already cost the lives of hundreds of human beings since July 26 of this year. Your newsmen presently in Mexico beings since July 26 of this year. Your newsmen presently in Mexico have surely confirmed some of these facts in their reports.

Since the beginning of the mass student and popular movement protesting the government's violence, the Diaz Ordaz regime has tried, on three successive occasions, to couple a crude witch-hunt with the bloody repression of the students and people in general. Three separate "plots" were "discovered", resulting in the incarceration of hundreds of men and women of all ages, but particularly young students, accused of a wide assortment of crimes supposedly committed in their intent to overthrow the present government. committed in their intent to overthrow the present government.
Each "plot" has brought in a new wave of political prisoners into Lecumberri Prison. These do not include the thousands being held at a concentration camp

This strategy has consisted of a) ignoring the peaceful petitions of the students and b) utilizing all the repressive forces available to crush demonstrations in the streets. The crudely invented the streets. The crudely invented "plots" and the monolithic political pressure which the official party — four decades in permanent power — exerts over the commercial press were used as auxiliaries to converte the auxiliaries to carry through the plan of cold-blooded repression of a peaceful popular movement involving democratic demands. plan of a

Immediately after, the 10,000 troops which surrounded the peaceful meeting fired at the unarmed crowds of men, women and children. The signals for the troops to open fire were first green and then red flares fired from Air Force helicopters hovering over the Plaza, Police agents in civilian clothes quickly put on white gloves on their left agents in civilian clothes quickly put on white gloves on their left hand, to distinguish themselves from the victims. It is now clear enough for the entire world to take note of the fact that the cold-blooded murder of hundreds of the best of the forces here has not been due to "unfortunate" spontaneous incidents, nor to student "provocations," but to carefully planned actions of direct, unwarranted across of was peacefully assembled, Among the thousands of eye witnesses of what happened at the Tlatelolco "Plaza of the Three Cultures" on October 2nd, are many newspaper reporters and photographers from all over the world, including Oriana Fallaci of L'EUROPE, who received two bullet wounds.

The strategy which the Diaz

The strategy which the Diaz Ordaz regime has followed has been the exact opposite of what could reasonably be expected of could reasonably be expected or a "democratic, progressive government." All the events since the end of July to date demonstrate that the present government in Mexico is far from democratic or progressive in a real sense, not just in verbosity. It is characterized by political scleracies. In the forty traces. is characterized by political sclerosis. In the forty years of uninterrupted political power, the so-called Partido Revolucionario Institucional (PRI) has been incapable of carrying through a real, effective agrarian reform; of doing away with the rampant misery which prevails among the Mexican peasantry; of wiping out illieracy, still at an average of 30%; of creating the conditions for jobs at livable wages; of solving the acute housing crisis which in Mexico City alone has reached an explosive level.

Olympic Games on October 12th.

It must be granted that he has been partially successful, via the severest repression seen here in many decades. The ferocity of this repression surpasses anything done by the most barbarian of the military gorilas of Latin America in recent times.

But it would be a mistake to assume that the working people of Mexico City, or even the students, have been subdued by the tanks and bazookas. On the contrary, what can be assumed is that not only the students, but workers and peasants as well, will draw worthy conclusions from their experience. They have seen will draw worthy conclusions from their experience. They have seen that the "legal," "Constitutional" or parliamentary road for the solution of their problems has been blocked by Diaz' troops.

The present Olympic Games, the meeting of the youth of the world, are taking place here while the blood of the best of Mexico's young boys and girls can still be seen on the steps and on the esplanade at Tlatelolco.

NEW BATTLE CRY--

'PIGS OFF CAMPUS'

"PIGS OFF CAMPUS" - a thundering volley of angry voices has raised a battle cry.

Students of the Berkeley campus numbering upwards of three or four hundred were enraged Thursday morning by the parade of over eight hundred Bay Area riot policemen across Sproul Plaza.

Many of the students who began throwing rocks and other objects at the tail end of an incredible pig parade had been up all night involved in the fifteen-hour liberation of Cleaver Hall. Others had just arrived on campus at 8 o'clock to find walls of stormtroopers blocking their routes to class.

At 7:50 a.m. the first bus carrying the liberators passed through the final cordon of cops. The prisoners changed "Fight! Fight!" The crowd, though visibly antagonistic to the cops, refrained from taking any

"Come back without all that uniform weapon shit and we'll beat the crap out of you," they called. "Don't make any plans for tonight. You'll be right back here, and this time we'll be ready for you." "Get a woman," was a particularly effective taunt at that hour.

Pigs either ignored the comments or grunted accordingly. The front of the file reached Sproul Plaza as the rearguard was still unmo-

INSIDE CLEAVER FORTRESS

"It was incredibly calm. The police knew what they were there to do, the students knew what they were there to do. The whole thing was quiet." That's the way it was inside the main room at Cleaver Hall when the pigs broke in.

According to BARB's man inside, "After the decision was made, we just waited. There was no tension. The police came and broke the door down while we sat in the main room and waited."

Earlier, when the lower floors were sealed up by University police, the liberating squad within the building built barricades out of office furniture.

Their tactics were made public very early in the evening, perhaps eight or more hours before the police appeared, "When the cops come," their announcement began, "we will will maintain barricades as long as possible."

"When the cops are breaking in, we will leave the barricades and congregate in the main room. We will not sit down but will remain standing. We will defend our selves but not be provocative, We intend to get arrested; we will not attempt to escape."

Some of the vocalists of the revolution who had been spending their time screaming to everyone nearby to "free yourselves" finally proved they were free by shutting up and leading small groups into action.

up and leading small groups into action.

The Moses Hall occupation and the Sproul Hall support action were marked by a lack of organization. There were no communications, no scouts, no one in charge of fortifications, provisions, or supporting ground action.

Those were all supposed to materialize somehow, and the participants wouldn't be too disappointed when they don't. They know that they are going to go down fighting inside the hall unless some startling concessions are made.

There won't be any concessions, if reports are correct that Chancellor Heyns has turned the campus over to the cops.

Holding territory is a utopian dream among radicals. Guerilla tactics would require the longest possible holding action followed by a retreat. Use a building as bait but have most of your forces outside with barricade material. When the cops finally bust through the doors they should find no one there. Five people can hold a building just as effectively as five hundred, and disappear a lot faster. But the state of military thinking among radicals is still getting over the confrontation syndrome.

The occupants of Moses Hall at least recognize in principle that defense in depth yields the best results. The occupiers are barricaded on the third floor, with the stairways wet down. They can use firehoses to impede the cops outside and inside.

The barricades were placed around the area to prevent the approach of police vehicles without adequate warning. Some were faced with plywood and nailed together (albeit in a haphazard fashion) and situated in naturally constricted spaces.

Unfortunately, there was no

GUESS WHO LOVES BARB?

RICHMOND MOTHERS THROW THEIR WEIGHT ON BARB MAN

by John Maynard

BARB went to the Richmond City Council meeting Monday night. The occasion was the sad report of Mrs. Marion Gant, Chairman of the Richmond Library Commission that censorship had become a fact in Richmond.

The BARB and Avant Garde had been voted off the shelf by the commission, under tremendous pressure from local Birchers and against the better judgment and the vote of Mrs. Gant herself. But the event was not entirely unpleasant.

BLACK POLICE POINT FINGER AT WHITE FUZZ

About 100 persons filled the meeting room of the San Francisco Police Commission Monday evening with a petition for the recognition of a black police off-icer's organization, but the Com-missioners were not there to hear

Reverend Cecil Williams told the crowd of mostly black persons "This action of the Commision is an insult to the people gathered here, and I think the Commissioners owe the people either a good explanation or an apology for their conduct."

The recently-formed OFFICERS FOR JUSTICE, an organization of black policemen from the San Francisco department, stated in their petition that the present voice of policemen in the area, the Police Officers' Association, has an image of being "a septic tank of white killer cops".

The petition by the black policemen declares recognition of the OFJ does not necessarily mean a condemnation of the POA.

"In its wisdom and without conferring with any Black policeman, the POA carries out all of its business, says the petition. "In all of this, not one Black police officer has had one vote or any voice in what the POA had done."

Even if we assume that all that the P.O.A. has done is because it thinks the things it has done are best, and the best qualified men are in the positions, Maybe there is no faulting them for this??"

The Black officers feel that they cannot be represented by the existing organization because "We have no way of altering or preventing policies which we find repreapprove of "Gas Huey"

"In silence, we have carried the double burden of Black officers and Black men," says the OFJ in explaining their prior lack of dissent with the POA.

"We have submitted ourselves to white leadership from the beginning to the present," the Black officers state. "But what have we gained?"

"No longer do we feel it necessary, for the sake of "saving face" of the POA, that we maintain the appearance of 'blue brother' togetherness. Those blue brothers that are men enough to stand up and be counted in the fight for equality, we welcome. And those blue brothers that will stand up and be counted in the maintenance of "white is right" no matter what, will be attacked."

The OFJ recognizes that today the image of the policeman is bad, but they feel that they can do much to improve that image.

The AWOL soldier came to the BARB office after reading of the killing of Richard Bunch, 19, by a Presidio guard October Il. Bitter about the incident, he said it looked like "outright murder."

"I know the situation that exists there," the informant said, "The guards can always know what the prisoners are going to do," He pointed out that guards all have close personal knowledge of individual prisoners because of the frequent contact that exists in the brig,

Most of the inmates are young AWOLS, according to BARB's informant, but there are also hardline criminals in the Presidio prison. These are soldiers in on murder and rape charges from Vietnam, en route to Leavenworth.

According to the AWOL soldier, prisoners trying to commitsuicide received punishment, not psychiatric treatment. In fact, several who tried to slash their wrists were charged with "defacing government property," themselves, and put into solitary.

The routine described was: every morning inmates are aroused by 4:30 am to do an hour off physical exercises. After an hour off for food they go out on work details. The work usually consists of gardening, and cleaning up officers clubs. At noon prisoners have an hour off for funch, followed by more work details till 5 pm. "The president has the power of a dictator," he charged, "And usually only 350 members vote, the rest are apathetic."

Markey, who is running for secretary-treasurer, believes that if 1000 people vote the Unity Slate can be elected. The election date is November 12.

The platform of the Unity Slate calls for more democracy in the union, representatives, and more rank and file voice in negotiations.

"The Humphrey, Cohelan-type incumbents are scared," Markey said, "For the first time there is a threat to their power."

Markey urged all "democratic minded and progressive people" to help get the vote out. Those desiring to help or get further information should call him at 849-3747.

WITH LENN!

Look, I don't want to lose the strneglehold I have on the filmmaking community, anymore than I want to let down my readers. So I ought to write about films this week.

It's not so much that I feel like I've got a gun pointed at my head, for filmmakers, you know full well that you would run out of steam, never create another work if it weren't for two things: Festivals and critics. Negative stimulation has positive effects, face it. And you, the movie going public, you herd of boobies, don't think that I would trouble to write for the likes of you, Filmmakers, do not delude yourselves into believing that I have any concern for our ridiculous "movement."

I write for myself. I am on an ego trip. What a terrible horrible that I must be endearing myself to nameless multitudes who think that I am someplace they are not. Continue in this delusion, it pleases me. I am far beyond you. Revile me or worship me. It's all the same.

There are some films it is easier to writ about than others, and those are the ones I write about. I operate on the principle oo min-

I operate on the principle of minimum effort, having learned long ago that I cannot do well at what I strain to do.

Lately though, and I am loathe to admit it, although it takes nothing away from me, many good films have been made by local experundermentalground filmmakers. Boys you're churning out good stuff.

We have for example, the outrageous barbaric yawp of Herb Jean DeGrasse. I find DeGrasse easy to write about because I dig his films, and they speak to me. For my money (ha) DeGrasse is the most intelligent filmmaker going.

You liberal assholes who applaud the works of the great Godard, you wonderful leftists, I call to your attention to the films of DeGrasse.

your attention to the films of De-Grasse.

I call to your attention THE LAWYER, a brilliant study of revolution. DeGrasse is one of the few didactic experundermental-ground filmmakers. He is able to get to the heart of matters. In THE LAWYER, he has laid out thesis and counter-thesis, discussing society and revolution, and from it all he has practically dramatized Fanon, or turned WRETCHED OF THE EARTH into an American nightmare.

I could either devote too little or too much space to this film. What profit then if I were to say how wonderful, how brilliant, when in fact THE LAWYER is these things.

It is a film that has got to be hated. It cannot go down. I don't see how. Those left-leaning students who think M. Godard is such a revolutionary would do

I write for myself. I am on an ego trip. What a terrible horrible trip. Poor Lenny, how did he ever get so fucked up? If it weren't for the egomaniacs who think every word I write is directed at them, to more or less balance the great grey herd of indifferent blubber masquerading as humanity, I might fall into a swoon.

There are some films it is easier.

You poor neglected artists whose names or latest works have failed to gain space in this column, what a pity! I know you'll not be able to go on and create another little ditty, or whatever it is you think you do. And how perceptive of you to recognize an ego trip when you see it.

Easily the gentlest best look at commune living is TRIBAL HOME MOVIE #2 by Loren Sears, Idon't know what happened to TRIBAL HOME MOVIE #1, or if in fact there is such a film, Sears' technique is manipulation of single frames or frame clusters in some sort of an optical printing device.

This film is a celebration of the simple, that elaborates on uncluttered activities that would go on in most homes—eating for example. In this case though, the setting is a San Francisco tribe of hippies.

By the way, there are no hippies.

In this case though, the setting is a San Francisco tribe of hippies. By the way, there are no hippies. I just thought I'd point that out to you. You become a hippie though, for a moment, when some prosterously straight dude points his finger at you and sneers. At least nobody I ever knew wanted to call himself a hippie.

Of course that observation was made long ago, when hip was killed in the Haight last year. The term hippie is the equivalent of Negro. The term freeman was tried out for a while, but it fell flat on its free face. Yippie refes to a political "hippy," The BARB has used the term street people, but I don't think this has gone down with anybody, especially the street people.

Maybe Sears has a better idea. The structure of the "hippie" society is obviously tribal, as is the structure of straight society. Perhaps better names would be tribesmen or natives, but both sound like words taken from a Tarzan movie.

A TRIP TO THE MOON is a sermon, and as such it marks a giant step in what Ithink is an area of fruitful exploration for Bartlett. I don't mean that he should make sermons, I do mean that I suspect he will be making films which are less design films, and more message trips—of course

The film is an accurate reflection of the dark groping and despair that fills the hearts of our left-leaning countrymen. Most of the dialogue of the characters is incomprehensible. Brief snatches of worlds are heard, and then go under like a drowning man.

The maddening desire to know what these people are talking about creates a terrible tension. All three of Bartlett's films are united are united by this element, tension, (I started to write this elephant of tension, which I like better).

DAS BALLET by Ron Finne made me laugh very hard. It is a great comedy, absurd and as well crafted as this kind of madness must be. Finne reveals a great talent for melding together shots. In simple language, he isan intuitively fine film editor. Either that, or hard labor, has given the effect of effortles sness.

If you can imagine the grace and pomp of the ballet, and then imagine your friends dressed in ballet costumes clutzing around, in all deadpan seriousness, youbegin to get a fair idea of DAS BALLET.

But not really. The most beautiful aspect of the film is how deadpan the people are, They are trying to do the ballet thing, and the jape is that they are what they are.

The maddening percussion persisted. Some moved back uncertainly. The Cleaver Hall command bullhorned down: "They're coming now. Sty where you are." But some began to run slowly and carefully away. "Don't run" the command cautioned.

"Pigs Off Campus," the cry bebehind the police-appointed lines, far behind the liberators' ownbarriers. Pushed all the way north to the temporary buildings. Taken away from their Cleaver Hall. The arguments ended. For the people inside, no longer was there the heavy question of What To Do When The Police Come. "Pigs Off Campus," they cried.

Until now, there was no way of getting that bus onto the campus, The barricade-building that occupied the night's many hours delayed that bus just a few more, Now it must also pass through a three-or-four deep wall of 54 cops strung out across the path at Wheeler.

SUPPORT

Much early support for the demonstrators, aside from SOURCE (a group formed specifically to back the 139X students) came from the Young Socialist Alliance.

According to YSA members on the scene, soundtrucks and leaflets were operating in the City of Berkeley to bring more supporters to the liberated area. Many YSA members could be seen huddling together just beyond the barricaded areas in conclaves of their own, Spiritual assistance came from gether just beyond the barricaded areas in conclaves of their own. Spiritual assistance came from the Most Reverend Holy Hubert Lindsey who preached hellfire before the bonfires, attracting crowds of note, even for the great Hubert. Uproars rose from wherever Hubert took his parish.

A religiously-inspired quartet roamed through the crowds intoning "Joshua at the Battle of Jericho, etc." The 6 o'clock belltower concert chimed out a rousing rendition of Dylan's "When The Ship Comes In."

A major windfall of support also came from the American Federation of Teacher local which met earlier in the evening. AFT Local 1570 issued a statement calling for a boycott of classes for Thursday and a special general meeting for Monday. a special general meeting for to those outside that Chancellor Heyns had already issued a statement denouncing the sit-friand all of its participants, both within the building and on the grounds.

A surprise handout from the Astronomy department denounced the Regents as "unreasonable" and the actions of the students as unreasonable. It went on to censure participating students and support the Chancellor.

Medical crews stood by on the steps of Wheeler Hall and at the base of the Campanile. Medics circulated through the crowds wearing white armbands with the red cross, and offering instruction in the event of tear gas and/or mace attack. Supplies of water and saline solution were available beside each bonfire.

Below the Campanile medical site but situated on a slope above the liberated building, a group of athletic "toughs" huddled, threatening to interfere with the activities of those celebrating on the lawn.

The control group asked that the demonstrators ignore them, dismissing them as "a bunch of fraternity boys."

Occasionally during the night, a man identified by the control group as a plainclothesman would seek to remove one of the barricades only to be outdone by an ad hoc repair committee.

Another plainclothes-type was often seen walking slowly through the crowd with a spotlight and camera held over his head.

Other sports-jacketed gentlemen assumed to be faculty were gathered into groups of their own, or into small conclaves. They argued theory, while others talked action.

Straight media personnel, some of whom had ventured in earlier in the afternoon, remained on the portico of South Hall during most of the vitil.

A delegation of 35 SDS members arrived from San Francisco State to show solidarity. A spokesman for the SDS chapter said they had come to add their knowledge, gained at SF State, to the defense of the Berkeley position.

A message of support was also received from the students of the University of Vancouver.

University and Alameda County cops made the bust. BARB's reporter told how policemen, once they entered, threw the furniture around violently and began breaking and scattering pencils. A police department photographer then recorded the mess on film.

A group ortrait was also snapped by the pig-fotog. Then quietly and systematically the arrests began at about 5:40 a.m. The liberators were moved one by one to the second floor where they were frisked, photographed, and fingerprinted.

The man did not frisk women until three county matrons arrived well after six.

During the fifteen hours in the building, the scene was cool. "Those inside thought the outside crowd was great. We appreciated the music they furnished. We wanted the sound very much to 'scare away the demons' we said."

Much of the time inside was spent talking about and trying to obtain food, cigarettes, and something to drink. "Everybody was a little perturbed that the cops took so long to get here," the BARB's man said. Earlier on Wednesday, a rally attracted several thousand to Sproul Plaza where support for the Sproul Plaza where support for the arrested sit-inners was easily mustered. No plans were being announced because University officials had acted early to prevent a suggested occupation of Sproul Hall. The front of the building was securely locked and a garrison of police stood guard at it's only remaining entrance.

Originally scheduled as a Peace and Freedom rally, the noon event became a mouthpiece for supporters of the arrested students.

"Let the man have his sign, let him" Seale shouted. "Let him have it." Seale told the crowd parenthetically after the disturbance that there are those who are holding up Wallace - Racist - Humpty - Dumpty signs.

"And they've got more signs than you do." he told the responsive group. "But we've got to let this man have his sign. Everybody has a right to exist here."

Professor Richard Lichtmann spoke next and turned the meeting from tactics to theory. In a rather lengthy class-like lecture, Lichtmann discussed the issues at stake. As a Marxist, the speaker said that he should be more of a threat to the Regents than Cleaver.

"There are other more radical couses than the Cleaver coursemine for example—which pose no threat to the Regents, Why? Because Cleaver stands for a black group of people militantly dedicated to overthrow that which the Regents control."

"Thus it is only necessary that he be censored." The instructor went on to criticize his fellow faculty members for their failure to support the movement. "The faculty acts as a guild," he said, interested only in proctecting itself."

FACULTY 'NIL'
Lichtmann later told BARB that faculty support as late as 6 p.m. Wednesday was 'nil.' A meeting of teaching assistants was taking place at the time, but the professor said he did not expect any show of strength from it.

"What's going on in there?" the dude inquired.
"Absolutely nothing," was the blunt reply. "Just like a faculty meeting,"

I asked if they were going to break up the rap session before the heat got there and was told,

The loudspeaker from the bastion stronghold blared, "You never win without a certain amount of risk, But we're fighting RACISM here. Black people are dying for this cause every day."

The shelving comment was, "This was supposed to be a sympathy demonstration in solidarity with the people in that building. It has degenerated into a debate over the merits of violence and non-violence. This whole thing has become entirely absurd."

Seale lectured before a speech department class Wednesday morning prior to the noon appearance. Although Seale didn't specifically state which course he had addressed, it was speculated that it was either a Speech course or a Public Address 191 group.

Seale, a candidate for State Assembly on the Black Panther and Peace & Freedom Party slates, also addressed his remarks to the state and national political scenes at the rally.

Carrying on Eldridge Cleaver's comic-book references to "Donald Duck Rafferty" and "Mickey Mouse Reagan," Seale spoke of the "Superman fallacy."

"Lois Lane," he said, "is finally finding out that Superman don't have a steel penis like she always thought. Superman is a punk," Seale said, "And Batman Gain and his Oakland pig Robins with their utility belts, they're just punks."

"We've got to stop these comic book characters," Seale implored, He said that electing Huey P. Newton to Congress would help.

Seale's remarks regarding the University, the arrests and sitins, and the political scene were well-received by the large group, Many compared it to Cleaver's public remarks which created such a controversy over obscentities earlier this month.

Meanwhile, Cleaver was on campus this week for his weekly lecture to his 139X class, "Do Your Thing" was the subject of his remarks Tuesday, 100 members of the 139X course did just that and were arrested for it. Seale lectured before a speech partment class Wednesday

The BBC plans to vote on whether to back the P & F amendment or draw up one of their own at the next meeting.

So what's next? Even McCarthy, even Clean Gene, really didn't deal with what we all saw happen in Chicago. And Jerry Rubin carrying a plastic gun to HUAC is just as silly as appearing there in a Revolutionary War army uniform [he didn't even know who Paul Revere and the Raiders were].

Humphrey spoke in San Francisco and I saw a picture of Steve Weisman being arrested. Weisman was one of the leaders of the FSM at Berkeley, a brilliant tactician and a marvelous speaker. But what can be more symbolic of all the depth of the frustration than to be arrested protesting a Humphrey rally? Such dedication deserves a better incident, if not a better cause.

Is there a death wish in America? Is it true, as it seems to be true the deeper you go into it, that there is, somewhere inside the human organism, a desire to self-destruct that cannot be altered? Is it really true that it must all be done wrong, in basic evil, by people who insist on never knowing what really happened and base hard actions on halucinations? As the Viet Nam War has been based?

Has all of history been like this? Must it always be thus? Must we be asked to storm the beaches in a frontal assault even though more people get killed that way? We did in World War II, Must we always make the decision that it is better to have more tanks that are less safe and win with abundance than to redesign the tank for safety? We made that decision in World War II and it's documented in the U.S. Army official History, Department of Ordnance.

We made that decision in World War II and it's documented in the U.S. Army official History, Department of Ordnance.

There were never any riots on the Berkeley campus, yet even Paul Goodman acquiesced in the concept that there were [as well as calling Deans and Regents by their first names, and FSM leaders by their last and saying "you people" to the students.] Millions now believe that the cops were provoked beyond reason in Chicago, that professional agitators took over Berkeley streets, and blah and blah.

What makes West.

What makes Wallace so attractive to labor unions [to labor unions] Shades of Woody Guthrie], as well as to middle class citizens everywhere? He stands for specific things and he makes them feel the issues can be dealt with. He speaks to the mythology in their blood, handed down from their parents and reenforced by TV and the flicks. The Great Scriptwriter In the Sky can control the action. So the cops are not just knocking in the heads of blacks and Latins and Indians and minorities now, they are clubbing their own children, What is next? How can it be stopped? Is there, really, anything to do?

Jimi Hendrix plays the "Star Spangled Banner" as the introduction to "Purple Haze." He does not do it as Jose Feliciano sang it at the World Series, He does it screwing the guitar and it is, I submit, a revolutionary act surely as important as getting arrested at a Humbert Humbert rally.

Make no mistake, The System runs like a computer and ran like one before the computer was invented. It will automatically co-opt whatever it can. Big Brother & the Holding Co. and Janis Joplin play for money now. When they played a "benefit" for The Matrix, a tiny club where they worked in the early days, they asked for and got 1% of the club. And they got their 60% when they played at The Carousel, even though it was operated by the last stand of the hippies. The System will buy everything it can. It always has, It always has.

It always has.

And it doesn't have to kill the rest, either. It isolates rather than destroys. My out of control paranoia, Goddess of the Sixties, keeps hinting that LBJ will declare a national state of emergency prior to election day, using some obscure law that Abe Fortas is busy looking up, with help from the other Supreme Court Justices all but Douglas right this minute. And he will suspend the constitution, declare the election is off and stay in office and Hubert and Dick will join ranks.

I don't know. will join ranks.

I don't know. It could happen. What is any wilder about that than about the rest of it which we know HAS happened? And what is truth and what is history anyway? And who knows?

The hippies presented no program for the New Life, they say. And when asked for his program for social justice, Joe MacDonald of Country Joe & the Fish said "Free mu-

Joe MacDonaid of Country Joe & the Fish said Free must stated so tist. Not Deal with that! Do not dismiss it, saying the billyclub is the answer to poetry. No, it is not. When I hear the grams of the word culture I reach for my gun. Oh yeah?

Politics has failed, My God if we need more proof of that than any hour of the evening news on TV, we are the plans.

No, the hippies and The Beatles and the Pop musicians present no Program for Improvement of the Society. What they do is to present a program for improvement of the human race beginning with the changing of the heads of the young people of the world. You can't change the society until you reach a state of grace and, as poet Jerry Greenberg asked "What is the capitol of the state of grace?"

You say the killing in Viet Nam is murder? I agree, Who is guilty when the demonstrator gets killed? As he will, as he will, will, as he will.

The political radicals have the right enemies, they have courage and, some of them, even have a program for Improvement of the Society which makes a kind of sense.

But they all have the old approach. You can't make an omelet without breaking eggs. True, man, true. But you better figure out how to make a revolution without killing people or it won't work. We've had all that. We really have have,

Nothing I have read by the SDS and the rest is as relevant as Allen Ginsberg's poems. None of it says as much to me as Bob Dylan and none of it inspires like the simple thing of the Beatles singing "Hey Jude" on TV.

Religion may very well have been the opiate of the people and we may not need religion again in this world. But we need hard politics less, Automation, technology, communication and the rest have made a world in which neither Richard Daley, Lyndon Johnson nor Chairman Mao has the real answer. real answer.

It's all very well to talk about dying on your feet being better than living on your knees. Just don't ask me to do it. I'd rather be red than dead and I would also rather be it, I'd rather be red than dead and I would also rather be alive than inside, The Beatles aren't just more popular than Jesus, they are also more potent than the SDS.

What do you think Dylan is doing up there in Woodstock? Counting his money? You don't resign from being an artist. Not until you're dead. No. He and The Beatles started something which is beyond politics, past the programs of the planners and out there in McLuhanland changing the heads of the world.

Out of it will come the programs. Out of it will come the plans. When the time is right.

Charles Schwartz, professor of physics, the only faculty member imprisoned, also spoke at the rally. Approximately one hour after his own release from the Santa Rita work farm, he told thousands in the Plaza that the others would be out that same afternoon.

Schwartz described Tuesday night as "two shows," "There was a very lovely one inside, totally peaceful, totally non - disruptive, and a very ugly one outside," he said.

The physicist added, "as for the

and other buildings.

A skirmish immediately arose among those who didn't want to move immediately and those who began to march to Dwinelle. The shout down continued as students made for the Chancellor's office in the north wing of the building.

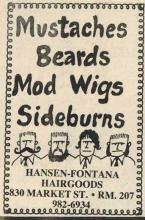

The corridor was full of sittersin while those who were hesitant kept up their arguments outside.

The sprawling multi-leveled Dwinelle hosted sitters-in in several corridors other than the north where Heyns' office is. But the sit-in was ineffective and others spread to other buildings.

NEXT TARGET

Campbell Hall, the site of the University's computing center was the next main target, though some students moved toward Moses and others penetrated further into the campus to Latimer.

others penetrated further into the campus to Latimer, Because the air - conditioning units were becoming ineffective, the glass door was ordered closed, student demonstrators and University police met in the corridor. Some reported that the door was broken.

"As I understand it," a student told BARB on the steps, "the police broke the door,"

Whatever the case, a small mob on the steps waited uncertainly for commands.

The building began to empty. Some called, "Let's take it now while we're here." The strongest of the organizers, an unidentified black, urged the crowd to move on to Moses Hall where a liberation had begun ation had begun

First he launched the quarterly Eros, a magazine dedicated to the joys of love and sex. Eros was an instantaneous succès de scandale and over a quarter of a million people ordered subscriptions, despite the fact that they cost $25. But the U.S. Post Office declared Eros "obscene" and drove it out of business (and, incidentally, obtained for Ginzburg a five-year prison sentence, which has since been appealed).

Then he brought out the crusading bimonthly Fact, which was the first major American magazine to inveigh against U.S. involvement in Vietnam, cigarette advertising in the mass media, and Detroit's ruthless disregard for car safety (Ralph Nader was a Fact discovery). The intellectual community was galvanized by Fact and bought-devoured!—over half a million copies, despite the fact that Fact was not available at most newsstands (most newsdealers found it too controversial) and it was priced at a steep $1.25. But certain Very Important Persons got mad at Fact—including Barry Goldwater, who sued the magazine for $2 million—and it, too, was driven out of business.

Undaunted, Ginzburg rallied his forces

Undaunted, Ginzburg rallied his forces and last year launched still a third magazine, Avant-Garde, which he describes as "a pyrotechnic, futuristic bimonthly of intellectual pleasure." This magazine, he predicted, "will be my wildest yet, and most universally wanted."

From all indications, Ginzburg's pre-From all indications, Ginzburg's prediction is proving correct. Although still in its infancy, Avant-Garde already enjoys a readership of over one million, while its growth rate is one of the phenomena of modern publishing. Newsdealers report deliveries of copies sold out within a matter of minutes. Dentists report that Avant-Garde is the magazine in their waiting rooms most frequently purloined. And librarians order duplicate—and even triplicate—subscriptions in order to provide replacements for worn-out copies (and perhaps to obtain fresh copies for their own personal delectation). Everywhere, citizens who are normally upright, respectable, and law-abiding are being tempted to beg, borrow, or steal copies of Avant-Garde, the most spellbinding and desperately soughtafter magazine in America today.

What makes Avant-Garde such a tutti-

What makes Avant-Garde such a tutti-frutti frappe of a magazine? Why is it in such insane demand? How does it differ from other magazines? The answer is threefold: threefold:

threefold:

First, Avant-Garde is such rollicking great fun. Each issue really socks it to you with uproarious satire, irreverent interviews, madcap cartoons, cherry-bomb editorials, deliberately biased reportage, demoniacal criticism, x-ray profiles, supernova fiction, and outrageous ribaldry. From cover to cover, Avant-Garde is one big bawdyhouse of intellectual pleasure.

big bawdyhouse of intellectual pleasure.
Second, Avant-Garde stones readers with its mind-blowing beauty. It brings to the printed page a transcendental new kind of high. This is achieved through a combination of pioneering printing methods and the genius of Herb Lubalin, who is Avant-Garde's art director (and, incidentally, America's foremost graphic designer).
In just the first few months of its existence, Ayant-Garde has won more awards for design excellence than any other magazine in the world. in the world.

11

Third, Avant-Garde captivates readers with articles that have something to say. They're more than just filler between advertisements, as in, other magazines. Perhaps the best way to prove this is to list for you the kinds of articles Avant-Garde prints:

Will the Vote for 18-Year-Olds Move America to the Left?

Caught in the Act-An evening with New York's scandalous Orgy-and-Mystery Theater. The Secret Plans of Leading Tobacco Com-panies to Market Marijuana-If, as, and when pot prohibition is lifted.

Yevgeny Yevtushenko's Epic Poem in Defense of Dr. Spock

Living High on "The Hog Farm" - A visit to America's most successful hippie kibbutz.

Pre-Mortem—At Avant-Garde's invitation, 28 celebrities (including Art Buchwald, Harry Golden, Woody Allen, and Gore Vidal) dictate their own obituaries.

"In Gold We Trust"-A satire on America's changing spiritual values, by Dan ("How to Be a Jewish Mother") Greenburg.

The Case of Hitler's Missing Left Testicle— A round-table discussion on an intriguing detail of Russia's recently released autopsy of Der Fuhrer, (Satirist Paul Krassner specu-lates that "It's probably alive and well in Argentina." Philosopher Larry Josephson contends that "Hitler just wanted to prove that he was a consistent right-winger.")

My Son, the Revolutionary—A study of the family backgrounds of young American radicals.

Flowers of the Asphalt Jungle-A tour of Harlem's beautiful new African boutiques. The Love Poetry of Eugene McCarthy

Custom-Made Man-The portent of latest

Coitus Non Interruptus: The Erotic Tomb Sculptures of Madagascar

"Amnesty Now!"—An impassioned outcry by the editors of Avant-Garde for the release of Dr. Howard Levy, David Miller, and more than 1000 other antiwar heroes now in prison.

Making a Scene—Never-to-be-forgotten stills from the scene in Andy Warhol's film Romeo and Juliet in which superstar Viva falls victim to an unplanned gang-rape.

The Pedernales River Baptism-a-thon: A Fugs Happening

Concrete Poetry: The New Hard Rock Verse

All the World's a Stage-From The Theater of the Street in New York to the Guerrilla Theater of Stanford, dramatic groups all across the country are bringing plays to audiences that have never seen the inside of a theater.

The First Church of Love-Photographs of a phantasmagorical chapel being built in New York to celebrate sensual pleasure.

Fellini's "Satyricon"—On the set with II Poeta, filming his version of Petronius' bawdy classic (with a cast that includes Mae West, Groueho Marx, Anna Magnain, Jimmy Durante, Michael J. Pollard, Danny Kaye, the Beatles, and scores of other comedians and superstars).

Abreast of the Times—A report on the sudden return to breast-feeding by America's most highly educated, sophisticated, and sexually liberated women.

The Psychology of Political Affiliation—What character traits determine whether a person will become a Democrat or Republican, a radical or conservative?

Miami: Newest Haven for Abortion—A seren-dipitous result of the influx of refugee doc-tors from Havana.

And Now-Would You Believe?—Auto-Destructive Art—A feature entitled "Pop Goes the Easel."

The Electric Banana Tickle: Latest Pop

The "Birth Tax"-Duke University's J.J. Spengler presents a plan to make life for prolific parents unbearable.

Best-Sellers in Underground Bookstores The Natural Superiority of Racially-Mixed

First Class Suggestion—Harvard sociologist Daniel Patrick Moynihan offers an ingenious plan to double the number of mail deliveries as a means to reduce Black unemployment.

Are Colds Psychosomatic?—Psychoanalyst Merl M. Jackel, of the State University of New York, believes they are since they almost always follow periods of depression and give the same medical symptoms as weeping.

Hold It, Please!-The growing popularity of Polaroid cameras for instant-pornography.

Brain Food—A report on the recent discovery by Dr. John Churchill, of the National In-stitute of Neurological Diseases, that certain foods can increase the power of the intellect.

Bob Dylan's Suppressed Novel "Tarantula"

Very Original Sin—A report on the increasing number of avant-garde theologians who are using kissing, hugging, and caressing to re-store a sense of community to worship.

The Startling Increase in LBJ's Personal Wealth While in the White House feast of gourmet food-for-thought. It's the quintessence of intellectual sophistication.

In sum, Avant-Garde is a hip, joyous feast of gourmet food-for-thought. It's the quintessence of intellectual sophistication.

Small wonder, then, that critics everywhere have spent themselves in a veritable orgy of praise over Avant-Garde: "Reality freaks, unite! Weird buffs, rejoice! Avant-Garde has arrived bearing mind-treasures of major proportions," says the San Francisco Chronicle. "Avant-Garde is aimed at readers of superior intelligence and cultivated taste who are interested in the arts, politics, science—and sex," says The New York Times. "An exotic literary menu.... A wild new thing on the New York scene," says Encounter. "Ralph Ginzburg deserves considerable credit for having risked printing this," says Life. "Avant-Garde's articles on medicine, space, and psychology have made science the eighth lively art," says the Boston Avatar. "The fantastic artwork, alone, is worth the price of the magazine," says the New York News Project. "A field manual by the avant-garde, for the avant-garde," says New York critic Robert Reisner. "Avant-Garde's articles on cinema, rock, and the New Scene are a stoned groove," says the New York East Village Other. "Avant-Garde is the sawn-off shotgun of American critical writing," says the New Statesman. "Its graphics are stylish," says Time. "Borders on the genius," says the Miami Beach Sun. "It'll be the undoing of the strait-laced," says the Los Angeles

Free Press. "Avant-Garde is MAGAZINE POWER!" says poet Peter Schieldahl. "Wow! What a ferris wheel! I was high for a week after reading it," says the pop critic of Cavalier.

Avant-Garde's contributors include the Avant-Garde's contributors include the most brilliant artists, writers, and photographers of our time. Not only does Avant-Garde feature works by such acknowledged masters as Picasso, Arthur Miller, Norman Mailer, Kenneth Tynan, Karl Menninger, John Updike, Allen Ginsberg, Roald Dahl, Henry Miller, Bert Stern, William Styron, Eliot Elisofon, Kenneth Rexroth, David Levine, Richard Avedon, Leonard Baskin, Dali, Genet, Beckett, Sartre, Burroughs, Yevtushenko, Warhol, et al., but, perhaps more important, it hunts down the wild cats who will be the literary lions of tomorrow. tomorrow.

In format, Avant-Garde more closely resembles a $10 art folio than a magazine. It is printed on the finest antique and coated paper stocks by time-consuming sheet-fed gravure and costly duotone offset lithography. It is bound in 12-point Frankote boards for permanent preservation. The format of Avant-Garde, like its editorial contents, is intended to endure.

Subscriptions to Avant-Garde cost $10 per year. This is not cheap. However, right now, while Avant-Garde is still in its infancy, you may order a Special Introductory 8-Month Subscription for only $3.99!! This is a MERE FRACTION of the standard price.

Moreover, if you enter your subscrip-tion right now, you'll be a Charter Sub-scriber. This will entitle you to:

- Buy gift subscriptions for only $3.99.
- Renew your subscription for $3.99 for ever, despite any subsequent price increases.
- Start your subscription with one of Avant-Garde's early issues. This is not to be taken lightly since early issues of high-quality magazines often become valuable Gollectors' items (especially if they're Ralph Ginzburg publications; early issues of Eros now sell for $100; early copies of Fact are worth $25; and copies of Avant-Garde published just a few months ago are already bringing $15).

To enter your subscription, simply fill out the adjacent coupon and mail it with $3.99 to: Avant-Garde, 110 W. 40th St., New York, N.Y. 10018.

But please hurry. This Special Introductory Offer may be withdrawn without notice.

Then sit back and prepare to receive your first copy of the most wanted, arresting, and rewarding magazine in America today (and the only one put out by a publisher with real conviction).

110 W. 40TH STREET NEW YORK, N.Y. 10018

I enclose $3.99 for a subscription to Avant-Garde, the most wanted, arresting, and rewarding magazine in America today. I understand that I will be entitled to all Charter Subscriber privileges and that I am paying a MERE FRACTION of the standard $10-per-year price!

In George Orwell's '1984'', life is either canned ormonitored. In the current Rowan and Martin TV hit show ''Laugh In'', the laughter is canned ''and carefully metered out to exploit each line,'' explains Time magazine.

Thus, when you see the boys come out to a fanfare introduction and cheers, NOBODY IS THERE! There are no human reactions from a live studio audience.

The weaker the joke, therefore, the louder (''metered out')' the laughter. A new ultimate has now been reached in the plastic Marshall McLuhan age of today – a laugh show without laughter.

What we can look forward to will be an act show without actors, a book show without books, an art show without art. The applause (canned) should be terrific!

Now – can't all this technology go into producing a war without soldiers without homes without an art show without art, ine applause (canned) should be terrific!

Now - can't all this technology go into producing a war without soldiers, without bombs, without people getting killed? Why not-the applause (real) would be terrific!

"What the two shows have in common (the Smothers Brothers and Laugh In) is their audience: both draw the majority of their viewers from the 12-to-18 year old bracket," Time says, completely ignoring an irony, i.e., that this is the age-group that produced the first "Sit In" against the war and the draft,

Roy Kepler, the anti-war activist, told me two years ago: "The ability of the establishment to absorb its critics is infinite."

Hence - "Sit In" to "Laugh In". (Incidentally, the Smothers Brothers have live laughter from a live audience).

The excuse for "no audience" in the Rowan Martin show is that it is produced from "about 350 snippets of video tape (which) scatterguns some 300 jokes and sight gags per show." Then, after "two days of casual rehearsal, they head for the stage for two twelve-hour days of taping."

Okay - a live audience would be a problem, but then, would it?

"Verrry Interesting...but Wild" is the way Time's cover-story describes "Laugh In."

(Okay, the Wedding of the Century has taken place; and both JFK and RFK are reliably reported to be revolving in their graves. Repeat after, me: YECCCHHH, BLUUHH, Now on to something more pleasant:)

It's been a long wait, or at least it's seemed long, But at least it's seemed long, But at last the Magic Theatre is back at the Steppenwolf (Sat., Sun., Mon. each week, 8:30 PM).

Currently in production are two lonesco plays, The Leqson and The Leader, presented as a double bill, Jarry's Ubu Roi, done in a new and far-out presentation, is in the works; time of production to be announced.

The Magic Theatre looked good last spring, and it now looks even better. A summer of European touring, Shakespearean acting, and Berkeley rioting seems to have really shaped up the cast. And

Berkeley rioting seems to have really shaped up the cast. And speaking of shape, it's well worth the six bits entrance fee to see Kathy Harper in an itsy-bitsy teeny

Kathy Harper in an itsy-bitsy teeny—weeny.

But to approach it more seriously. Director John Lion has told me that in his opinion conventional theatre is a dead art form, and that the performing art must find a new dimension. And he is showing that he's just the guy to do it. The costumes are minimal, the props largely simulated, but under his direction the effect is overpowering.

nis direction the effect is overpowering.

A full definition of Magic Theatre is not yet possible, because the medium is still in process of development. Costume and make-up may be of the simplest or of the most fantastically elaborate. Acting technique may be anything from simple going-through-motions to deliberate obvious overacting. It all depends.

But a couple of characteristics have emerged. The action begins before the play itself begins; if you don't understand that, come and see for yourself. And the action tends not to be confined to the stage, but to spill over and into the audience, giving you a chance actually to be in the show, if you are alert and quick-witted enough. The stage is the locus of the action, but not its limitation.

Of course, this technique is not original with Lion. It goes back to the medieval mystery plays, and beyond that back to Aristophanes. But to a generation conditioned to being cut off from the action by the limitations of the screen, it can be a readically new experience. 22In the two current productions, this is less so in The Lesson, showing itself mainly when the murderous couple dispose of te body by dumping it in the lap of the front-row audience. It comes out most strongly at the end of The Leader, when the cast storms the audience demanding "What's your name?" and if you don't come up fast enough with a comeback you feel as if you've forgotten your lines.

Anyway, the Magic Theatre is back at the same old stand. Minds blown at reasonable rates. —RR
