The FBI never reported the theft of their "esoteric items" (SF Chronicle) until their "tone generator and a walkie-talkie testing device" showed up in a pawn shop. In other words, we are a nation of goddamned liars.

We can understand, therefore, what Harry Reasner (ABC Chan 7) means when he described the US statement that obtained the freedom of the 82 crewmen of the Pueblo as an admission of "limited guilt."

We have had, of course, "limited guilt."

We have had, of course, "limited truth" for quite some time from our government, especially Sec. Dean Rusk. Proof?

WHAT KIND OF AN ASS IS THAT?

Bob Hope is an utter ass!

He sent "greeting" to Hayakawa. This week in Vietnam, he put down the students in front of the GFs at Long Binh, but in doing so, he put his big foot once more in his big mouth.

The GFs told newsmen that the V-sign meant peace - "as it does at anti-war demonstrations in the anti-war demonstrations in the S'' - not victory in a war.

Not only was this lost on Bob ope, it was (naturally!) totally lost on our top General in Viet-nam, Creighton Abrams. "When he was introduced by Hope, the standing troops raised their hands in the sign EN MASSE" (emphasis added).

Captain Lovell's words broke the hairy six minutues of silence when the spacecraft was out of sight and sound behind the moon. If we earthlings HADN'T heard those words, Lovell, Air Force Major William A. Anders, and AF Col. Frank Borman would have been trapped in the moon's gravity.

Four hours earlier, we got crystal-clear tv pictures of the moon at the elevation of 70 miles and experienced "live" what it would have been like to be on board Christopher Columbus' ship, Santa Maria.

Our earth, viewed from space, (round) looks just like any other "peaceful" planet in the heavens. Yet "down there" are wars, revolutions, politics making out under-neath those swirls of clouds. Is it the same on Venus, Mars (inside), or any other planet float-ing about? While this is nice to think about, one solid bit of fact comes closer into being, and that is the resolution of the "steady state" theory of creation vs. the "big bang" theory.

As explained by Sir Lovell, in his book "The Individual And the Universe" (Mentor, 50¢), the "steady state" thought is that matter is in a "continuous state of creation", an endless flow, with no beginning and no end. and no end.

The "big bang" thought (se

The "big bang" thought (see opening quote) however comes close to the Bible (quoted by the astronauts from the moon) in that Godsaid "Let there be light" and, if this is so, it was quite a bang!

Now, how can we "prove" this?

Lovell points out that by getting out in space with "space telescopes", ANOTHER fixed point of measurement can be made, other than that on the earth (he wrote this ten years ago, by the way). this ten years ago, by the way).

if other measurements show NO DIFFERENCE in relationships NO DIFFERENCE in relationships of planets, stars, etc., then the "steady state" is pretty steady. But, if there are EXPANDING differences in the measurements, then God (and the "big bang" or "expanding universe" theory) is here to stay.

Or, as Lovell says, "this can cause some interesting philo-sophical and religious problems." Over and out, and amen.

IS HE STILL ALIVE?

By Phineas Israeli

Is Eldridge Cleaver still alive?

A terse statement by his wife Kathleen, Monday, raises the chilling thought that death may already have caught Cleaver on the run.

"I don't think a possibility that Eldridge is dead should be discredited," Kathleen Cleaver told BARB.

Cleaver's wife recalled a fear that the revolutionary couple shared before he went underground, that if the pigs wanted him back in prison in order to assassinate him there is their next move to kill him on the run?

Perhaps the Man has already committed the brutal crime, perhaps he expects to do so tomorrow. All we can be certain of is Cleaver's resolve not to die in handcuffs.

Despite these fears, Kathleen and the Panthers are going about their lives and their work with the assumption that Eldridge is alive and free.

and free.

"Eldridge Cleaver is Minister of Information of the Black Panther Party, PERIOD," Kathleen responded firmly when we asked if his escape had cost the BPP his special services.

"He's helping the Party now," she stated flatly, "and he'll continue to help the Party unless he's killed."

We rapped with Eldridge's stal-

We rapped with Eldridge's stal-wart wife Monday after a press conference in the Alameda Coun-Courthouse.

Last April, in the cowardly tra-dition of Western bushwhackers, the Oakland Police Department surrounded and attacked an outnumbered party of Panthers on the public roads. The pigs killed Bobby Hutton, but Cleaver survived his wounds.

The Man set up a trial for the cornered Panthers. But then the Man switched gears, and decided he wanted Cleaver in a San Quen-tin grave rather than on an Oak-land witness stand, So the Adult Authority ordered Cleaver back Additionally of the cat had to duck out.

Eldridge did not pop up in Alameda County court.

Now a king's ransom must be paid for Cleaver's freedom. The $50,000 bail put up in April to spring him from Vacaville is forfeited because Eldridge was somewhere else on Monday.

A half dozen unfrigue souls moved up to link their fortunes with Cleaver's fate by guaranteeing his bail and now they have to fork over the whole fifty grand.

Paul Jacobs, author and Senatorial candidate of the Peace and Freedom Party, Godfrey Cambridge, the comedian, Edward Keating, Dr. Philip Schapiro and Kathleen Cleaver herself all put their names to the piece of paper which freed Cleaver from the clutches of the penitentiary porkers. The last member of the sextet is unidentified at this time. In a narrow hall on the sixth floor of the Alameda County Courthouse in Oakland Jacobs, Keating and Kathleen Cleaver ran it down for the media on Monday morning.

Jacobs, acting as spokesman, read a statement which attacked the Adult Authority of California as "a group of unqualified political appointees who control the lives of parolees," and which praised Judge Raymond Sherwin of Solano County as "a courageous judge who stated that the Adult Authority had revoked Cleaver's parole because of his political beliefs."

About the loss of the fifty grand,

Jacobs then told the newsmen how when he went to visit Eldridge at Vacaville. "When they brought him to me they cleared the aisles so he wouldn't come into contact with any of the other prisoners."

The confrontation between the workers and the police took place in front of Kaiser Hospital in San Francisco, on Lyon between Geary and O'Farrell Streets. Reliable sources say it was a put-up job from the beginning. Three police cars blocked off the entrance to the hospital from the O'Farrell side, and the Tac Squad waited around the corner on Geary.

The hospital workers formed a picket line in front of the loading platform. Having peace fully picketed at that location for several days, the group was minding its own business when a Teamsters truck pulled up to the platform and tried to deliver to the hospital.

The Teamsters until this point had respected the picket lines and refused to deliver. Speculation has it that the police encouraged the Teamsters to cross the line. The object of this tactic was simple: to remove the militants from the line. The confrontation between the

The Tac Squad arrested 2 young men and a 50 year-old woman right afterwards, handcuffed them and manhandled them with batons in view of the crowd. But it was hardly a good day for the Squad. One Tac pig had his jaw broken, another was knocked unconscious. The Hospital Workers Union claims a victory.

As a result of the Tac Squad action, the Union is now calling for the Squad's abolition. George Hardy, First International Vice President of the Service Employees International Union, wrote a letter to Mayor Alioto.

Another case which looks optimistic is the situation of six eiderly persons, four of them retired and living on a fixed income, who have been living in a south of Market Street hotel for some time. When their rent was upped from $35 to $100 a month, they refused to pay more than $75 of it. This announcement was made at a news conference called by the SF State strike committee, Mon-

Representatives from morethan 30 schools -- including private schools and high schools -- met last week-endto set up a state-wide strike committee.

They plan tentatively to ask students to converge on SF State Jan. 7 -- but first they want to clear the date with the Third World Liberation Front (TWLF), which is coordinating the Third World Community Week Jan. 6-13. Support is centered around the 15 demands. which are reguarded as inseparable and nonnegotiable. The chief demands call for creation of an autonomous Black Studies Department, amnesty for all student strikers and admission in Fall 1969 of all black and nonwhite students who wish it.

In a statement the committee said it recognized "that the Trustees and their puppet are not going to give up their racist policies unless we continue the protracted struggle which has been carried out for the last 7 weeks under the militant leadership of the TWLF... "Students all over the state realize that if the racist reign of terror of the Trustees is not defeated, it will spread to other schools. As one representative from Long Beach said, if you win, we win; if you lose, we lose." The committee says it is "calling upon and organizing Bay Area high school students to strike in support of the struggle at SF State. Several schools in ghettos and in predominately minority neighborhoods have already struck to express solidarity and we hope to broaden this support to white high school students as well."

Efforts are also being made to organize labor support for the strike. The committee -- which includes members of Students for a Democratic Society and Progressive Labor as well as unaffiliated students -- says Painters Union local #4 already has announced support. Additionally, Peace and Freedon Party (PFP) members are circulating petitions of support among workers.

Apparently, January is going to start with a bang at SF State (and elsewhere). The Third World Liberation Front will sponsor a "community week" on campus, beginning Jan. 6.

Roger Alvarado, TWIF spokesman, said the aim of this week is to bring nonwhite students to SF State.

The American Federation of Teachers have declared they will go on strike when classes start Jan. 6 if "significant agreements are not reached" by then.

One of the "significant agreements" seems to be found in their telegram to Channcellor Glenn S. Dumke, who triggered the whole scene by dumping BSU teacher Murray.

In 1948, television was around, in the large metropolitan areas, but people still mainly listened to the radio for entertainment. It was still the great days of the Grade B movies, and adult films were a long way off.

A few developments that were in the offing but had not yet made themselves felt were: Joseph Mc Carthy, the H-Bomb, JFK, the Beat Generation, Richard Nixon, the Volkswagen, NATO, the CIA, Fredric Brown, pizza as a standard dish, and paperbacks priced at over two bits.

MOSES 3 LOOK FOR VICTORY

by Phineas Israeli

Every court a graveyard, every judge an undertaker, and the corpse is dissent in America.

That's where it's headed if the conspiracy caskets keep closing on the 'enemies of the state.'

The Moses Three were indicted a week and a half ago by an Alameda County grand jury for conspiracy to obstruct officers, trespass and commit malicious mischief. Pete Camejo, Jack Bloom and Paul Glusman are the mischief. Pete Camejo, Jack Bloom and Paul Glusman are the latest targets of the Man's con-spiracy to repress student and minority group demonstrations by getting the 'leaders' on conspiracy charges.

All three Berkeley radicals took part in the seizure of Moses Hall on the UC campus in October to protest racism in the University and to demand credit for Social Analysis 139X.

The other sixty-some demonstrators who liberated Moses were given a deal in which they received ten day sentences and three hundred dollar fines apiece. The only charges which could be filed against them ranked as mis demeanors.

only charges which could be filed against them ranked as mis-demeanors.

But an old lawbook says that: it's a felony to conspire to commit a misdemeanor, dig? So if you commit a misdemeanor, dig? So if you commit a misdemeanor in the company of other persons and the Man isn't satisfied to get you on the misdemeanor, then he hits you with conspiracy. The maximum penalty if you're convicted of conspiracy is 1 to 3 years in a state prison and a fine of $5,000.

Glusman gave BARB this week the liner notes to the trial. Little subtlety is involved. "Coakley's very open about," the defendant told us, "The DA has latched onto this law as his opportunity to suppress political dissent."

"They obviously wanted to get us or they wouldn't have taken it to the Grand Jury," Glusman explained.

to the Grand Jury," Glusman explained.

If Coakley is out to earn a reputation as the Scourge of Student Rebellion, Glusman, Bloom and Camejo are determined to spoil his fun. "I think we can prove we're not guilty on the facts. We're gonna make a big political fight about this."

The Three intend to challenge the use of the conspiracy laws for political purposes, and to charge the DA with using the law to stifle political dissent.

As for the evidence in the case, all the State hopes to prove about Glusman and Bloom is that they spoke at Sproul Hall rallies on the day Moses was taken, which Glusman and Bloom is that they spoke at Sproul Hall rallies on the day Moses was taken, which was also the day after the Sproul Hall sit-in and mass arrests there. The 'evidence' against Camejo is that he chaired meetings of the rebels in Moses Hall. The only way the DA could get evidence like that would be from police agents who were sent into Moses with the demonstrators.

Glusman expresses indignation at the prospect of being convicted of speaking on the steps of Sproul Hall. 'To make that a felony is just an obvious breach of constitutionally guaranteed liberties.' The Three realize that challenges to the conspiracy laws haven't gone over well in the courts before, but this is the fifth time in recent months that the System has rolled out its conspiracy cannon against the forces in the state fearless enough to oppose It, and the Berkeley radicals are determined to make as strong a stand as they can against this ever more popular device of political repression.

The Berkeley CO-OP's annual dividend rate dropped "below the normal 4% for the first time since 1953," the CO-OP News reported 1933, the CO-OF News reported this week.

It didn't say why.
But on page 58 of the SF Chronicle, Dec 20, one of the reasons the CO-OP is fading fast was displayed in a full-page ad of a Wall Street stock broker, Dominick.

With nearly the whole page taken up with a typical supermarket ad, the copy reads as follows: "TO FOUR MAJOR FOOD CHAINS, THIS IS JUST A FRONT. Sure, their biggest volume is still in food. But for their biggest profits, they had to look elsewhere." It is not "looking elesewhere" that has loused up the CO-OP. "In an industry that barely managed to squeeze out net profit margins of less than 1% last year, it pays to look around."

Citizen's arrest is a little used law. According to the California Penal Code, any citizen who sees a misdemeanour or felony being committed can make an arrest. Its main use has been in cases of shoplifting in commercial establishments. The store detective will make a citizen's arrest of a shoplifter because the city police doesn't want the possibility of a false arrest suit brought against them. He will then turn the suspect over to the police.

ball to music at least once in a while, you're missing out on a hell of a lot of fun.

Most of the fun comes from following down somebody else's rhythm changes. This is especially true for couples who have been together for a while and understand each other's timing quite well. Not that I'd advocate taking well. Not that I'd advocate taking a REAL third person to bed. But a phantom "third person", the musician or a favorite record, can lead you into some interesting variations of rhythm and emphasis.

Okay, that takes care of WHY.
Next obvious question is, which music? Following here is a totally subjective list of mostly current favorites and a few that have stood the test of time.

First and most obvious is bol-eros. Any old boleros. Ravel's "Bollero" (classic). Beck's Bolero (current favorite). All that juicy melodrama. And it builds, and builds, and BUILDS. Heavy stuff.

Second most obvious is ragas. Second most obvious is ragas.
These build very nicely too, if you can make it past that dull first movement where they explore their scale. And ragas have the added advantage of lasting a long time.
Now come some random samples.

Anything by Jeff Beck, Five stars. The most inventive and dramatic guitar player around (Drama is good in bed).
Anything by Jimi Hendrix. He has lots of interesting ideas on rhythm and time changes. Don't bother with Eric Clapton. You'll find he's a lot duller than he looks. looks.

The Rolling Stones. Whoopeel

Good Hard Rock. Little Richard, Chuck Berry, Fats Domino. This is best for a direct, straight forward sort of thing.

Janis Joplin for a ripsnorter. Billie Holliday for gentleness and subtlety.

John Coltrane's "Ole". An-

Bobbie Gentry and Laura Nyro. They have in common a great warmth and very erotic phrasing. The Bee Gees, for some reason or other that I can't quite figure Old group-style rhythm and blues. Very romantic.

Dr. John the Night Tripper. Five stars. Super duper — very sexy stuff.

The following is a transcript of a tape recorded conversation that took place between Bill Maraldo, John Schofill, and myself. Maraldo is the program director of the Center for Contemporary Music at Mills College, and Schofill ran the Cinema Psychedelica and Cinevolution film series. Together they composed XFILM, Maraldo the sound, and Schofill the image.

This conversation has been heavily edited because of space limitations. It is the first in a series of interviews I plan to do for the next several months, in the belief that the San Francisco-East Bay film scene is the most exciting in the world. I hope both artists and audiences will profit from what these filmmakers, and others, have to say.

LENS: Maybe you can't make a direct analogy between vision and hearing, but you can have rhythms, vertical and horizontal composition, you can have melodies and harmonies...

LENS: Only in the last decade are people beginning to deal with film very primitive ways ...

BILL: The relationship between contemporary music and film is somewhat more exacting because for the most part melody and harmony have been done away with mony have been done away with, because so many composers are offit from what these filmmakers, working towards using sound blocks or textures and relating one to another ...

LENS: Only in the last decade are people beginning to deal with film ... up until now it has been used in very primitive ways ...

JOHN: The whole trouble was that Melies was the first one to get a hold of it and he made it into a toy that the intellectuals laughed at for the next twenty years or so --it really retarded the whole thing.

BILL: Film has possibilities that thing.

BILL: Film has possibilities that music doesn't have ... It can be as specific as literature in a way ... for instance the protest films, well your (Lens) film WE SHALL MARCH AGAIN ... they can be very poignant in that sense. They can describe, as well as an article or a book, some particular political event and on the other hand film beautiful with a sense of color and two poles that you can work in.

Music--you can't do that ... That's the one frustration I feel as a composer ... I haver have a chance.
JOHN: Cage is always putting radio.
Programs and stuff into his pieces.
BILL: If I wanted to make any protest statement or political statement it doesn't work. I've never heard it brought off, in a musical sense ...
LENS: What you said you do when you compose a tape sounds identical to what I do when I make a film ...

BILL: I usually get sounds from natural sources, that is non-electronic means ...

LENS: You mean you use a portable tape recorder ...

BILL: I might go out and record
a little waterall or some water ripples ... LENS: Then what do you do to BILL: I modulate it, change the tape speed, I make a mix ...

LENS: Just like filming. I collect images and leave them as they are or manipulate them in the editing stage ..

HORSESHIT IS NOT EITHER OBSESSED WITH SEX!

OBSESSED WITH SEX!

A lot of people think that's all Horseshit Magazine is interested in. Sex. Sex. Sex. Sex. Sex. Sex. Sex. But that's not true. Horseshit has lots of interests. Horseshit is interested in the whole range of human life and activities, not just any one thing. Why we have all kinds of articles and pictures. Some are concerned with doing it standing up, others are concerned with something completely different, like doing it upside down. Horseshit is just a mass of variety. It's got stuff about kneeling positions, and ones sitting down, and sideways... does that sound like being interested in only one thing to you? Horseshit's also been condemned for its drawings which show pussy hair and the male cock. No, no, these things aren't our idea. We didn't invent the genitals. That's the way people pussy hair and the male cock. No, no, hese things aren't our idea. We didn't movent the genitals. That's he way people come naturally. Blame nature, not us. Just hink, of it this way, Horseshit is no more concerned with sex than a thirty-five year old female virigin is. It...hmm... well, no, it's not That concerned with sex. Look, dorseshit doesn't talk about sex any more haan the average person thinks about it. rait enough? Test your averageness. Subcreibe.

"Dear Dr. Schoenfeld,
Here's a reply to the reader of your column in OZ (the English underground monthly) who wanted information about circumcision.

I was circumcised as an adult, at the age of 24, some 14 years ago, I've never regretted it for a moment-nor, so she tells me, does my wife.

But there is one danger I would warn of by relating what hopped warn of, by relating what happen-ed to me. I went out on a date while the stitches were still in place, indulged in a very chaste good-night kiss on the steps of a wom-en's dormitory, had an erection that tore out a couple of stitches, and thereby managed to drench my trousers with blood. I've alsways wondered what the dry cleaner's staff thought when they had to clean those trousers.

staff thought when they had to clean those trousers.

For what it's worth, my own opinion is that I enjoy intercourse more because of being circumcised. Certainly it never occurred to me to be embarrassed about being circumcised as an adult. ANSWER: I plan to write to John Lennon telling him how significant I think the Lennon-Yoko photo has been and will be in contributing to a healthier attitude about nudity. When I do I'll enclose your letter. I'm not convinced that circumcision is necessary or desirable in most individuals but maybe Lennon will be--if so, a slightly clipped version of that famous photo may have to be issued. have to be issued.

have to be issued.
QUESTION: I have been living with the young man of my choice for a year now. Since my mother disowned me at that point I lack certain fundamental information.
With regular caval relation certain fundamental information. With regular sexual relations should I be douching? How, why, when, and what for?

ANSWER: From the standpoint of health, douching is unnecessary in normal women. Vaginal secretions and menstrual flow have a kind of cleansing action. A warmtapwater douche one or twice a week will not be harmful.

"Dear Dr. Schoenfeld,
I am a single woman of 25 and I, too, have a "hooded" clitoris. I had the same problem of not being able to achieve orgasm not being able to achieve orgasm except by cunnilingus or masturbation for 12 years -- that is until three months ago.

Six months ago, I began exercising the muscles of my genital area and my buttocks. I found that attempting to clench my vaginal muscles had a side effect of actually moving my clitoris a bit out of the surrounding skin and back again. This small friction made my clitoris mildly sensitive.

Experimenting further, I found that if I concentrated steadily on my clitoris while clenching, the mild sensations became very strong ones. I tried all of this under cottal conditions -- to no avail. I was very stimulated but no orgasm until one day I shifted my position (I was astride this time) so that the penis rubbed against my clitoris. The resultant friction combined with vaginal clenching produced a very interval.

friction combined with vaginal clenching produced a very intense climax for me.

In the primary position (while I lay supine) I find that I can achieve orgasm only if my partner shifts his body upward -again for better penile-clitoral contact.

Please pass this information on to other young women who are to other young women who are unnecessarily frustrated.

QUESTION: I have been going with a girl, she is in her 20's and we have been having relations together for awhile but there is one problem, and that is she doesn't have too much of a breast and sometimes it feels like you are on top of a board, and I ask here to see a doctor to see what can be done, but I helique she is the shy type. but I believe she is the shy type, so if there is any pill or any thing you can suggest please put it in your column and I will show it to her and not let her know who he is talking about without hurt-he is talking about without hurting her feelings.

ANSWER: Maybe your girlfriend doesn't want to have "too much of a breast" and is perfectly happy with her body. One thing is certain: many guys really dig small breasted girls. A tall slender blond told me one that despite being flat-chested and even having inverted nipples, her sex life suffered not at all.

Birth control pills often cause

Birth control pills often cause enlargement of the breasts and this also occurs in pregnancy. Plastic surgery produces good cosmetic results but the cost is about $1000.

he's not using it (John Whitney's film PERMUTATIONS) as a means of self expression—that's what he's got to expression—that's what he's expressing that you object to. John: No, I think that what he's doing is making illustrations for a text book. Pve seen nice designs in my book on analytic geometry too you know. Things I really liked. Nice. Three dimensional solid figures. When I see John Whitney's films I see the same thing but with emotion.
LENS: Pve thought about that, and I don't know the answer to what you're raising ... Perhaps the difference is between cool and personal art—but people who make cool art would also say it was personal.

cool art would also say it was personal.

JOHN: John Cage said that many years ago he started out to, he got interested in Indian music and the Indian way of approaching music and he decided that he thought it was wrong, in fact heretical, that artists should be making personal art. I kind of agree with that, you know. The fact that it is personal isn't important. I only said that word for lack of a better word. But I guess what I really mean is not that one is trying to express

JOHN: But that's not what I'm doing either. I can't find the right words for it. I'm not trying to communicate with people, but somehow I just want to find something that's worth putting on film. And it seems that certain things are worth doing and other things aren't. I think that LAPIS is a statement of a very intense experience that was worth putting onto film, but PERMUTATIONS is an empty hollow shell of a film that has nothing to do with any kind of feeling...

BILL: What I'd really like to see are works that are combinations of really fantasic film and a composition—a musical counterpart to that which is equally as good—it's either one or the other in every film I see.

LENS: XFILM is a very interesting example of that. To my esti-mation the musical portion is film. Perhaps thought it should be judged differently because it may be the first attempt of its kind with a tape composer and a modern filmmaker ...

JOHN: I don't know. I think that XFILM is not such a great film really, and I'm already very dissatisfied with it ... I think that XFILM is important because it was that collaboration ...

BILL: John and I are hoping to work on another project ...

JOHN: That's a first step toward something that has extraordinary possibilities.

BILL: I would really like to see more people around do things like this.

LENS: What is the basis for combining the image and sound in a really technical sense? This is an enormously complicated and relatively unexplored area. The crudest and most obvious thing they are the first through father is now relaxing," Terence "(*kayo'' Hallinan said of his defense attorney this week.

The young Hallinan is presently on trial in San Francisco Superior court for alleged felonious as sault on a cop at last May's confrontal there, reknown barrister Vincent Hallinan, put on a rousing one-man show in cross-examining witnesses of Deputy District Attorney Robert Maurer against his son.

"Now my father is sistifing back quietly and digging the action," Kayo told BARB.

The prosecution's witnesses my father is now relaxing," Terence "(*kayo'' tallinan sip resently on trial in Sea. Fracisco Superior court for alleged felonious as sault on a cop at last May's confrontal there, reknown barrister Vincent Hallinan, put on a rousing one-man show in cross-examining witnesses of Deputy District Attorney Robert Maurer against his son.

"Now my father is sistifing back quietly and digging the action," Kayo told BARB.

The prosecution's witnesses. "We could produce thirty people to back our story, but that would be too repetitious," Kayo said.

Monday several students, a faculty member, and an administrator all from SF State, as well as a news photographer, corroborated the defense version of what happened.

They testified that Kayo was the defense version of what hap-pened.

They testified that Kayo was clubbed down by Tac Squad cop Michael Brady after he intervened to protect Diane Feeley, a student knocked to the ground by another Tac man Norbert Gutierrez. "We are not denying that I grabbed Gutierrez. But I did it to prevent a felony against the girl," Kayo said.

Last Friday the prosecution showed TV films to bolster their case, but the move had just the opposite effect. The films contradicted prosecution testimony that Tac cops never use the ends of their three foot long riot sticks.

The packed courtroom clearly saw a cop jab his stick into Miss Feeley's abdomen and knock her to the ground. The films also showed Kayo being attacked by Brady from behind.

The trial adjourned Monday for the Christmas holiday to resume Thursday. Kayo expects it to be over by January 1.

Brilliant. GREETINGS really makes it. The three stars are completely ingratiating, each with a natural sense of comedy."
