

letters to the editor

To the Editor:

All the large student conferences in New York this weekend, without fail, had a common theme: the growing challenge of economic reality. Many speakers in Berkeley, San Francisco, and the University Center for the Studies offered not lectures but sessions of creative social activities, many designed to stimulate individuals for maximum effectiveness.

Just speaking for United College in an open-house style, I had the opportunity to meet a new group called Students Action Movement (or Action League, as it was first called), from the University Center for the Studies, and they were very interesting. Their program for the next year is to do a lot of work in the area of social and political involvement, and they are going to do a lot of work in the area of social and political involvement, and they are going to do a lot of work in the area of social and political involvement.

1970 is coming. I think it will be a good year for the students. I think it will be a good year for the students. I think it will be a good year for the students.

Dear Editor:

On Saturday November 14, eight members of Valley State College SDS were arrested for "trespassing and disturbing the peace" at the time they had gathered there. They were arrested for being in the area of the building. They were arrested for being in the area of the building. They were arrested for being in the area of the building.

They were arrested for being in the area of the building. They were arrested for being in the area of the building. They were arrested for being in the area of the building.

They were arrested for being in the area of the building. They were arrested for being in the area of the building. They were arrested for being in the area of the building.

They were arrested for being in the area of the building. They were arrested for being in the area of the building. They were arrested for being in the area of the building.

Thank you
