AMERICANOS
EN SOUTHWESTERN CHINA
CUBA
CONTRA EL
IMPERIALISMO yanqui

The duty of every revolutionary is to make revolution. We knew that in Latin America and throughout the world the revolution will be victorious. Not it is not for revolutionaries to sit in the doorway of their homes to watch the corpse of imperialism carried by. The rule of JOH is not becoming to a revolutionary. Each year by which the liberation of Latin America is postponed will mean millions of children saved from death, millions of minds saved for learning, individuals of sorrow spared the people. Even though the U.S. imperialists are preparing a tragedy for Latin America, they will not succeed in crushing the people's struggle. They will only universal hatred against themselves. It will be the last act of their repugnance, neo-imperial system.

The Latin American nation is weak. It forms part of a family of 400 million brothers who suffer the same miseries, harbor the same sentiments, face the same enemy. All dream alike of a happier fate and stand on the solidarity of AI BROW, ORO and women in the whole world.

Great and heroic was the independence struggle of Latin America, the Latin Americans of today are summoned to a greater epic, even more decisive for humanity. The earlier struggle was to drive themselves from Spanish colonial rule, from a deviant state imposed by the armies of Napoleon. Today it falls to them to carry on a struggle for liberation against the most powerful imperialist critical position in the movement. The first step is to make sure that the revolution is not only a movement of the masses but to educate the people about the activities of the revolution in the United States and to make a complete program against the nations based on the national struggle, from there there will be the main strength in the leading youth—youths, youth, in these all movements, political, cultural, economic, social, etc.

Therefore, to this address, besides in other national parties, the youth is the main strength in the United States, to "Tactics for Victory" in the United States, this is the main strength in the leading youth—youths, youth, in these all movements, political, cultural, economic, social, etc.

 metropolis of the world, against the most important power of the world imperialist system, to achieve an even greater service for humanity than did our ancestors.

But this struggle, more than the earlier one, will be carried on by the masses, by the people, in this struggle the people will play a far more important role than they did then. Men, leaders, are and will be less important in this struggle than in the earlier one.

This era we have before us will be written by the hungry masses of Indians, of landless campesinos, of exploited workers, by the progressive masses, by the honest and brilliant intellectuals of whom there are so many in these suffering lands of our Latin America. It is a struggle of masses and of mass, to rise above slavery by our people, abused and scorned by imperialists, ignored until today, who are now beginning to make important first steps. Exploitation considered as an injustice, unbearable, but already it is beginning to be avoided at that level. It is a gigantic herd of 500 million Latin Americans, to which U.S. monopoly capital already sees the grave diggers.

It reviewed little if at all with that knowing humanity, atrociously exploited, persecuted, driven by the overwork and the whip, those the slaves of independence the fate of millions, guerrillas, mestizos, mestizo, epileptics, propertyless whites, has been the same—all that human mass that took form in the "homeland" it never entered. It was they who died by the millions, who were slaughtered, who were independent from the metropolis for the bourgeoisie. It is they who were robbed of their lands, who remained on the lowest rung of social benefits, who continued to die of hunger, of curable diseases, of neglect, because the things that could have saved them never reached them: bread, a hospital bed, medicine, a helping hand.

 And the hour of their redemption has come, the hour they themselves have chosen. The signal sounds from one end of the continent to the other. Now the anonymous mass, the American of color, mestizo, mestizo, which everywhere on the continent sings with the same grief and repetition. His mass is beginning to make its own history, to write it in blood, to suffer and to die. Because now, across the fields and mountains of Latin America, along the slopes of the mountains, through the plains and jungles, in solitude or in city traffic, on the shores of the great rivers and oceans, it is beginning to shake the world. Full of reason, faith and with desire to die for what belongs to it, to win the rights it has been cheated of for almost five hundred years by everyone. Yes, now history must begin with the gear of America, the exploited and despised of Latin America who have resolved to begin to write their own history forever. They can be seen any day on the roads, on foot, on endless marches of hundreds of miles to win the campesino voters to ask for their rights. They can be seen here or there every day armed with stones, sticks, machetes, occupying the land belonging to the soil that is theirs, defending it with their lives. They can be seen carrying banners, flags, placards, unfurling them in the wind over the mountains and along the plains. And they were of trembling anger, of justice demanded, of outraged rights, they were expelling the lack of Latin America will never recede again. This war will grow with each passing day. Because this war is formed by the absolute majority, those whose labor is the basis of accumulated wealth, those who create wealth, who turn the wheels of history and now are winning from their long sleeping slumber.

Because that humanity has said "Enough!" and has begun to move. Marching with giant strides it will not be stopped until it wins true independence for which so many have already died in vain. Now at least those who die will die as the Cubans did at the Bay of Pigs, for their only true, inalienable independence.

BRING THE WAR HOME

By Peter Paul Federal Bureau

Increasingly, opponents of the government program of the war effort are being labeled as "fascists" and "Nazis" by the press. This is a deliberate attempt to frighten the public and to isolate the opponents of the war effort. The press is being used to create a climate of fear and to prevent the public from knowing the truth about the war effort.

All the attacks on the opposition are aimed at the public. The press is being used to create a climate of fear and to prevent the public from knowing the truth about the war effort.

War at Kent State

Unofficially, all students' feelings on the issue of Vietnam have been expressed through a series of demonstrations and rallies. The students' anger is not to be confused with a lack of participation in student groups or even faculty activities in regard to the Vietnam war. Many students are participating actively.

But this tendency to a wide range of participation in Vietnam demonstrations is not to be confused with a general apathy toward the Vietnam war. Many students are participating actively in various demonstrations and rallies.
