Here are 16 very good keywords for your site. All results are globally based on actual search terms related to your niche. If a term you like or think is good and does NOT appear here, it's because of low-monthly-search-volume or high-competition-levels. Multiple selection criteria with NEW CROSS VERIFICATION OF TOP RESULTS have been used to find them. All have extremely low competition levels and, with proper on-page and off-page SEO, you can rank for any of them.

My first choice for you as a primary keywords for you – if content applicable - would be "how to be consistent in studies" because of relevance, volume, low niche competition across all metrics and high transactional value. A number 1 ranking page for this keyword could get 675 hits/mo. (42% of total searches ).

Additionally, all the work you do for SEO of this keyword will also help rank you for a higher volume, more competitive keyword which it encompasses - "how to be consistent". A number 1 ranking page for this keyword could also get 1,857 hits/mo. (42% of total searches ).

I would also create more sub-pages with titles equivalent to other keywords on the list you like and SEO each one for each keyword. Done properly – with more top-ranked pages - can increase your total hits per month.
