ARIA PHOTO & DESCRIPTION

The 147-foot Aria first set sail in 2011. Spacious and indulgent, yet intimate enough to feel entirely exclusive, the 16-cabin ship incorporates generous dining and lounging areas, including an outdoor Jacuzzi overlooking the Amazon's river views. The striking ship can accommodate up to 32 guests, plus a crew of 24 crew including a paramedic and 4 English speaking naturalist guides. Floor to ceiling windows face the Amazon River (with blackout windows for maximum privacy) in each of the 16 Design Suites, 4 of which can interconnect for families. Handsomely decorated with natural fibers and neutral hues, these air conditioned accommodations with sitting areas and en suite bathrooms each measure 250 square feet.

AQUA NERA PHOTO & DESCRIPTION

Drawing inspiration from the mystical blackwater lagoons of the Peruvian Amazon, the Aqua Nera's sleek design and contemporary décor is an elegant setting for cruising the exotic Amazonian waters. Her 20 spacious suites feature air-conditioning, en-suite bathrooms, generous closet space, and floor-to-ceiling windows with panoramic river and rainforest views. Award-winning Peruvian chef Pedro Miguel Schiaffino prepares excellent cuisine using locally sourced ingredients—you'll enjoy dishes like hearts of palm soufflé, scallops with wild almonds and umari fruit, and yucca gnocchi. Head to the Observation Deck for birdwatching and photography, and relax with a cold drink at one of the two outdoor shaded lounge and bars. The ship also has complimentary laundry service, an air-conditioned indoor lounge and bar, a river-facing plunge pool, an outdoor cinema for screenings under the stars, a spa, library, game room, bikes, kayaks, and gym.

FUEL SURCHARGES

Because the prices published by cruise operators are set so far in advance of the trip dates, they are occasionally faced with exceptional cost fluctuations due to increase in fuel costs that affect the actual cost of running the trip. In most years, no price changes are necessary. However, they do reserve the right to raise or lower the trip price if there is a significant change in costs. If this is the case, your final invoice will reflect the difference in trip cost.
