Introduction

The mystical landscapes that inspired W. B. Yeats, the wild beaches of Donegal, and the ancient pilgrim paths of Gleann Cholm Cille are on this adventure in Ireland's stunning north. Trip Leaders Con Moriarty and Ann Curran have conjured up a journey for both body and soul in this delightfully less-traveled realm, with great hikes (two levels offered many days), historic hotels, music, poetry, and a fascinating look into prehistoric and pagan Ireland. We'll hear the best local musicians, hike clifftop trails, and meet a host of Con and Ann's friends, including a Yeats scholar and an expert on Celtic myths. Along the way, each day is tailored for serendipity—that's what makes a journey with Con and Ann so unforgettable.

DAY 1 DUBLIN / MOURNE MOUNTAINS / BELFAST

Meeting in Dublin, we head toward Newcastle, County Down, stopping along the way at the Strandfield Estate in County Louth where a great café celebrates the organic Slowfoods of the estate and region. After picking up our picnic lunch supplies, we cross into County Down and come to the shapely granite Mourne Mountains, rising over the Irish Sea and the setting for our first hike. Our moderate hike brings us along a spectacular old trading and herders' track known as the "Brandy Pad," a stony trail that leads to a saddle, then contours across the southern ramparts of these dramatic peaks before descending. An easier option is to make a two-hour loop at the beginning of the moderate hike and/or walk at sea level along the great dunes and strands of the Murlough National Nature Reserve, Ireland's first nature reserve and home to rare moths and butterflies. A pleasant one-hour drive north brings us through a region steeped in the history of Saint Patrick and colonial plantations—in the 16th and 17th centuries, Irish-owned land was confiscated by the English crown and colonized by English settlers. We arrive at the center of Belfast and the 5-star Fitzwilliam Hotel. In the evening, we gather for a Welcome Dinner.

"I loved the blend of walks, scenery, and cultural experiences on this trip. The itinerary took us through the eons, from 10,000-year-old middens on the beach, to 6,000-year-old tombs, to centuries-old castles and the invasion by the Scotch-Irish, to The Troubles in the 1970s and modern Ireland. All while enjoying incredibly beautiful scenery and meeting lovely local people."

-Inge K., Concord, MA

DAY 2 BELFAST

Belfast has been the capital of Northern Ireland since the partition of Ireland in 1921. Our day will be spent walking and discovering the incredible story of this place, beginning with an overview of the city. Our sweep through evolving Belfast will look at the complex story of politics, identity, and the role of the Reformation in these parts as well as experiencing Titanic Belfast, a spectacular museum focused on the great liner that also provides a powerful insight into the industrial cauldron that was early 20th century Belfast and the social and political landscapes of the era. Tonight you'll dine on your own at one of the vibrant city-center restaurants that reflect a new and exciting era in Belfast's story.

Itinerary

Overnight: Castle Grove Country House Hotel

You can expect a warm welcome at this elegant Georgian house that stands on its own estate overlooking Lough Swilly. As country house retreats go, it lives up to its promise, with cozy charm and service to match. With just 15 guest rooms (with en suite facilities), it's a delightful and intimate place to stay while exploring the surrounding countryside. The dining room serves excellent food.

Meals: B, L, D

Hiking Details: (Option 1) 8 miles, 3-4 hours, 500' ascent/descent; (Option 2) 3-5 miles, 2 hours, 100' ascent/descent

Driving Time: 3 hours

DAY 3 CAUSEWAY COAST OF NORTH COUNTY ANTRIM / COUNTY DONEGAL

From Belfast we head north to Ireland's coast and one of its magnificent beaches (you can usually see Scotland from here—it's just 20 miles away). Our first walk is on the wild strands of majestic Whitepark Bay, ending at a little fishing village where we have lunch at a wonderful local café. We continue along the great North Antrim Coastal Path, a spectacular trail that traces the basalt cliff-lined "Causeway Coast" with breathtaking views of the cliffs and seascapes along the "top of Ireland." We end our hike at the famed Giant's Causeway, with its unique columnar geology. This famous World Heritage site lies at the foot of the basalt cliffs along the water's edge and is made up of some 40,000 massive black basalt columns rising out of the Irish Sea. We visit the world's oldest distillery at Bushmills before driving southwest through the ancient city of Derry to the Lough Foyle estuary and over again into the Republic to nearby County Donegal and the splendid Castle Grove Country House Hotel in Letterkenny, our base for three nights.

DAY 4 FANAD PENINSULA, NORTH COUNTY DONEGAL

A short drive takes us farther up the Fanad Peninsula and the little village of Kerrykeel where we'll pick up a picnic lunch of local produce from young foodie Aidan Friel. Our main hiking objective today begins with an ascent onto the spectacular Knockalla Ridge and over open heather slopes before dropping down onto the great sweep of Ballymacstocker Beach, which regularly features in people's list of most beautiful beaches in these islands. At hike's end we take a gorgeous drive back to our hotel, passing through the historic village of Rathmullan, from where the defeated and disposed Gaelic chieftains of Ulster went into exile in 1607, paving the way for the Plantation of Ulster with protestant settlers from lowland Scotland and northern England loyal to James I, the ancestors of today's Unionist population and many of those who style themselves as the "Scotch-Irish" in North America.

"We were impressed by the beauty of the countryside, mountains, and coasts, and the friendliness of the people we encountered. We also learned an enormous amount about Irish history and culture, greatly exceeding my expectations in that area."

-Rob C., Concord, MA

DAY 5 HORN HEAD AND GAOTH DOBHAIR, NORTHWEST COUNTY DONEGAL

We head northwest toward the little town of Dunfanaghy and Horn Head, the wild peninsula that juts north from a sheltered cove. Recent days have brought us close to some stupendous landscapes, the wildness of which will surely impress, but on reaching the far northwest of County Donegal at Horn Head, that wildness takes on a whole new meaning! After a morning spent hiking along the edges of giant sedimentary cliffs (in contrast to the columnar basalt of the Causeway coastline of County Antrim), we'll retreat to a great little local pub for lunch located above one of our very favorite of the wild beaches characteristic of this area.

Afterwards, we'll have the option to hike again, as much or as little as we wish, along the Magheraroarty Peninsula on a spectacular Atlantic beach with wild dunescapes. Later this afternoon, we turn south around another headland known as Bloody Foreland and travel down through the remarkable rural settlements of the Irish-speaking community of Gaoth Dobhair (Gweedore), where another page in the remarkable history of Ireland is etched on this rugged coast. This is a region rich in Gaelic culture, with particularly strong music, song, and dance traditions with many local internationally acclaimed artists, none more so perhaps than Enya (or Eithne Ní Bhraonáin). Arriving in the colorful village of Ardara in the southwestern corner of this great county of Donegal this evening, we check-in to our three-night base, the cozy Woodhill House.

Itinerary

Overnight: Woodhill House

Woodhill House is a modest period home dating back to the 15th century. Situated in the Donegal Highlands close enough to the Atlantic to hear waves crashing, the house is nestled in a lovely walled garden and has simple, pleasant rooms, each with its own design. An intimate bar and spacious dining room complement the quiet surroundings.

Meals: B, L, D

Hiking Details: (Option 1) 8-10 miles, 4-5 hours, 1,000' ascent/descent; (Option 2) 3-4 miles, 2-3 hours, 500' ascent/descent

Driving Time: 1 hour

DAY 6 GLEN HEAD AND GLEANN CHOLM CILLE (GLENCOLMKILLE)

A short, picturesque drive through deep valleys and over high boggy plateaus brings us past some of the remotest homesteads in Ireland to a hidden Atlantic cove nestled in the midst of this fierce coastline. On a stunning hike we cross an expanse of wild heathlands and over the great cliffs of Glen Head to descend into the secluded glen of Gleann Cholm Cille (or Glencolmkille). Named after the 6th century Christian Saint Columba, who is associated with places of learning, retreat, and prayer in these parts, he was the founder of the famed monastic community in Iona, Scotland. This hallowed glen remains a powerful place of pilgrimage, and is home to a dynamic community and a spectacular range of archaeology that dates from Ireland's Neolithic period. Return to Woodhill House for dinner and overnight.

Itinerary

Overnight: Woodhill House

Meals: B, L, D

Hiking Details: 8-10 miles, 4-5 hours, 1,000' ascent/descent; (Option 2) 3-4 miles, 2-3 hours, 500' ascent/descent

Driving Time: 1 hour

“Absolutely loved it—the guides and itinerary were fantastic. And the personal connections that Con has with fascinating people along the way really enriched the experience.”

—Diane S., Greenville, SC

DAY 7 SEA CLIFFS OF SLIABH LIAG (SLIEVE LEAGUE), SOUTHWEST DONEGAL

After a leisurely morning, we head south over the hills from Ardara to hike to the top of the biggest sea cliffs in these parts, the mighty Sliabh Liag. After taking an ancient pilgrimage trail to the site of a remote hermitage set 2,000 feet over the Atlantic, we set out on a hike along the cliffs, with options for treks of varying length and difficulty, all sharing the splendor of this towering place. After lunch at a great little local pub, we'll take our own charter boat to cruise beneath the cliffs—an awesome adventure that gets us close to these giant walls and deep into caves, often in the company of whales, dolphins, and the colonies of seabirds who nest here in the spring and early summer. We dock at Killybegs, home port to Ireland's largest fishing fleet, and return to Woodhill House for dinner and overnight.

Itinerary

Overnight: Coopershill House (or Temple House)

Built in the late 1700s, this Georgian manor is set amid 500 acres of private pastures, green meadows, and shaded woodlands. The home has been in the same family for centuries, currently occupied by the 7th generation of O'Hara's. It's decorated with its original antique furniture, and guests are welcomed with open fires and views of the rolling Sligo countryside. Electric blankets, cozy duvets, and fluffy towels warm the rooms, while the gardens are filled with fruit trees and local vegetables.

Meals: B, L, D

Hiking Details: (Option 1) 5-6 miles, 3-4 hours, 1,000' ascent/descent; (Option 2) 3-5 miles, 2-3 hours, 500' ascent/descent

Driving Time: 3 hours

DAY 8 DONEGAL TOWN / YEATS COUNTY OF COUNTY SLIGO

We head to picturesque Donegal town, where we'll explore the Gaelic castle of the O'Donnell Clan, discovering the stories and political history of these northern county cultures. We'll also have a chance to visit the historic Magee store, purveyor of classic Donegal tweed. We then travel southward into mystical County Sligo, a landscape carved in legend and history. Glaciers shaped Sligo some 20,000 years ago and left behind sparkling lakes, green valleys, and dramatic ridges along the Atlantic coast. After lunch at a local restaurant in the coastal village of Strandhill (home to one of Ireland's premier surfing spots), we traverse the spectacular limestone plateau of Knocknarea (Cnoc na Rí or "hill of kings"). At the summit is the great Neolithic cairn known as Queen Meave's Grave, a striking local landmark and a holy place of ritual dating back to Ireland's Stone Age. The tomb is the largest in the country outside of the famed UNESCO sites of the Boyne Valley. The whole Sligo region, bedecked with several 5,000-year-old cairn tombs, is rich in Stone Age archaeology and mythic significance. On checking in this evening at our magnificent country house hotel we will be treated to a very special "Yeats evening" in the company of local literary and theater friends. Dinner and overnight at Coopershill House or Temple House, among the "Big Houses" (country manor-type houses) in the Sligo area.

Itinerary

Overnight: Coopershill House
(or Temple House)

Meals: B, L, D

Hiking Details: (Option 1) 8-10 miles, 4-5 hours, 2,000' ascent/descent; (Option 2) 3-5 miles, 2-3 hours, 500' ascent/descent

DAY 9 YEATS COUNTRY / CARROWMORE / BELBULBEN

We begin our day with a gentle ramble through the incredible archaeological landscape of Carrowmore, a region of green fields and pastures on the Cúil Irra peninsula that holds the largest complex of Neolithic and Bronze Age stone circles and dolmens in all of Ireland. In the company of a local scholar, we will explore this enigmatic cultural landscape and the latest, exciting discoveries about the region's early farmers. We'll then hike the dramatic escarpments and high tops of the Benbulbin massif (1,726'), where uniquely shaped limestone uplands are dotted with rich history and archaeology—a magical mountain walk! Whether you choose the moderate or easy hiking option, you will experience the wildness of this stunning landscape known as “Yeats Country.” We'll also visit Yeats' simple grave in the churchyard of Drumcliff village. The renowned epitaph on his grave reads: “Cast a cold eye / On life, on death / horseman, pass by!” Wandering the landscapes around Glencar, we'll be immersed in the land that inspired some of his finest poetry. This evening, we enjoy a Farewell Dinner at the Temple House and celebrate Yeats with a very special cultural event.

ANN CURRAN

Ann Curran was born and raised in Dingle, County Kerry, and grew up surrounded by traditional Gaelic culture. Born into a family with farming, business, and community connections in this colorful market town, Ann enjoyed successful careers in real estate, banking, and guesthouse management. In 1997, she settled on her favorite career to date, one that allows her to share her place with others. It is a gift she is particularly blessed with, and time shared with Ann and her infectious enthusiasm for hiking and wandering in Ireland is an experience that is sure to warm the heart. Ann is widely traveled throughout the world, but Dingle remains her home, where she's actively engaged in community life, particularly with voluntary environmental and social organizations.

CON MORIARTY

Con Moriarty grew up in one of the world's very special places, amid the wild peaks of the McGillicuddy Reeks and Killarney Valley of Ireland's County Kerry. From an early age, Con has been awake to the spirit of this magical place, its shape and nature combining with its Gaelic culture and spiritual history to weave a rich tapestry of influence. Throughout his life, the intriguing story of Ireland and its people has been a passion for Con, and sharing this with travelers is a privilege he is grateful for. Traveling with Con and his friends in Ireland is truly a learning adventure, walking and experiencing the "hidden Ireland." Con has traveled and climbed throughout the world, extensively in the mountain environments of Scotland, the European Alps, the US, Nepal, Kenya, Irian Jaya, Australia, Patagonia, and New Zealand.

NAOISE O MUIRCHEARTAIGH

Born on the Dingle Peninsula and into the distinct Gaelic culture of his ancestors, Naoise O Muircheartaigh (the Gaelic spelling of Moriarty) has been steeped in the culture of Ireland since birth and comes from generations of mountain guides, including his father, Con Moriarty, longtime leader of our Ireland trips. Naoise (pronounced "nee-sha") has been hiking Ireland's mountains and coasts since he could walk, and his pursuits as a rock and ice climber have led him around the world, from New Zealand to North Africa and the US. He has a deep love of nature and for sharing world's wild landscapes and ancient cultures.

What to Expect

WHAT THE TRIP IS LIKE

This trip is rated a Level 3 or 4 (Moderate or Moderately Strenuous), depending on the hiking options you choose. You will need to be comfortable hiking 8 miles a day and being on your feet for up to 5 hours a day. You will need to be able to keep up with the moderate but steady pace of the group; however, there are alternative hiking options available most days. Trail conditions, weather, and the group's level of fitness can affect hiking times and pacing.

Average Hiking Day

- 5-6 miles
- 3-4 hours
- 500-600 feet gain/loss

Challenge Days

- Day 9: 8-10 miles, 4-5 hours, 2,000 feet gain/loss; alternative option of 3-5 miles, 2-3 hours, 500 feet gain/loss

TERRAIN

Some paths and trails are well-groomed, but many can be rough with rocky and uneven terrain. With the frequent rain, trails can be muddy or even wet underfoot. As is common in Ireland, we may sometimes hike off-trail where the terrain allows, gaining lofty summits via switchbacks across wide, grassy hillsides. Hiking boots with ankle support are always best and hiking poles are recommended.

GETTING IN SHAPE

We strongly urge you to train for your trip, as your enjoyment will be highly dependent on your level of fitness. The best training for a hike is to hike, especially over hills or rough terrain. Next best are running, swimming, bicycling, or other cardiovascular exercises. Stair-climbing machines are excellent preparation for hiking uphill. Your feet should also be well prepared—make sure your hiking boots are sturdy, comfortable, and thoroughly broken-in.

WEATHER

This trip takes place when Ireland has some of its best weather. Being the Emerald Isle, however, you must be prepared for rain showers at any time. Ireland's weather is dictated by the pressure systems coming in from the Atlantic and is notoriously variable. Gore-Tex outerwear, warm layers, and proper boots are necessary. Overall, Ireland's climate is milder than Britain's, thanks to the Gulf Stream, and a morning of rain can easily be followed by a brilliant blue sky and abundant sunshine.

ACCOMMODATIONS

Our accommodations range from historic "big houses" (family-owned and run guesthouses), to lodges and hotels. They are charming and comfortable, but since they are often in historic buildings, the rooms are not always of uniform or international size. Our leaders do their best to assign rooms in a fair way so that all participants experience an equal advantage throughout the trip as a whole. Single rooms can be requested but are not always available, due to the limited space in the hotels. If you prefer a single room, please make your request as early as possible.

What to Expect

CUISINE Most lunches are picnic-style during our hikes, but we occasionally stop at a local cafe or pub. Dinners will be at restaurants in town or at the hotels, and plenty of fresh seafood is available. Please note that in Europe, the dinner hour is considerably later than what it is in the US. We do our best to secure early reservations for our groups, but most often the evening meal will be at 7:30 pm.

TRANSPORTATION We will use a mini-coach/van throughout the trip, which will transport the group's luggage, so you only need to carry a backpack for items you need for the day (rain gear, sweater, camera, water bottle, etc.). Trip members are always free to skip a day's hike and travel to the next destination in the support vehicle (or remain at the hotel if we are not transferring that day).

Bonus gifts (T-shirts, luggage tags, vests, water bottles, and pullovers) will be mailed approximately three weeks prior to trip departure. Terms and conditions of Toucan Club bonuses are subject to change or cancellation at the discretion of Wilderness Travel, Inc.

Please be advised that California has established a Travel Consumer Restitution Fund under the California Seller of Travel Law that took effect January 1, 1996. This fund is designed to protect consumers from unscrupulous practices by discount airfare ticket sellers or air charter operators. Unfortunately, this law does not cover non-California residents and, even in the case of California residents, it does not cover any foreign travel where the foreign "providers of transportation or travel services" are not in compliance with the Sellers of Travel Law (compliance being defined as registered as a Seller of Travel in California and a participant in the Travel Consumer Restitution Fund). Thus none of Wilderness Travel's tours qualify and we are required by law to advise each client that they are not covered by the California Travel Consumer Restitution Fund. California law requires sellers of travel to maintain a trust account or bond. This business has a trust account. California Seller of Travel #100769640
