Argentina Private Journey

PATAGONIAN PEAKS AND GLACIERS

The mountain majesty of Patagonia is truly awe-inspiring, with sheer granite peaks soaring to the sky above tumbling blue-white glaciers and gleaming turquoise lakes. On this Private Journey, explore the lively city of Buenos Aires, with its charming Old World architecture and tango halls, then head south to Glacier National Park, a World Heritage Site that protects some of the most impressive mountain scenery on the planet. Here the shark fin of the Fitz Roy Massif (11,703') and its surrounding satellites rise from the golden pampas, sculpted from solid granite into fantastic spires and towers by the tremendous force of glaciers. Some of the largest and most accessible glaciers in the world are here, including the mighty Moreno, with its 10-story-high ice wall calving icebergs into the cobalt waters of Lago Argentino. The wild beauty of Patagonia is unmatched anywhere on earth, and our Private Journey brings you into the heart of it on daily guided hikes—you decide how far you want to go! In the evenings, enjoy wonderful meals and cozy accommodations where you can raise a glass of fine Argentine wine and toast your amazing adventures.

Itinerary

We encourage you to arrive in Buenos Aires a day early to rest up from the flight and enjoy a relaxing day in the city. We are happy to book extra hotel overnights for you, an “on your own” expense.

DAY 1 BUENOS AIRES

Morning arrival in Buenos Aires airport, where you are met by your guide for a transfer to the hotel. The city’s architecture recalls Paris or London at the turn of the century, and is graced with leafy parks and artisan districts with galleries and antique shops. This afternoon, enjoy a privately guided half-day tour of this famous city. Explore the city’s historic neighborhoods, storied landmarks, and urban art culture on a tour of the city’s street art—colorful murals decorate the walls of buildings across the city, and your guide will take you to some hidden corners of the city to see them. Or, if you are more of a nature lover, try a walking tour where you can learn about the huge variety of tree species that fill the city’s sidewalks and parks. Jacaranda trees (including a rare variety with yellow blooms), Silk Floss trees, Lapachos, and Monkey Puzzles are a few of the city’s interesting species. Sample some favorite local foods along the way—try the empanadas filled with beef or homemade ice cream topped with dulce de leche. Overnight at Palladio Hotel in the heart of the Beaux-Arts Recoleta neighborhood...meals on your own

DAY 2 EL CHALTÉN / LOS GLACIARES NATIONAL PARK

Transfer to the airport and fly to El Calafate, a small town in the Santa Cruz Province on the banks of glacier-fed Lago Argentino. El Calafate is the gateway to southern Los Glaciares National Park and it is named for the thorny calafate bush, which blooms in the spring with yellow flowers and in summer with purple fruits. On arrival, a three-hour drive across the wilds of Patagonia brings you to El Chaltén (1,150'), a mountaineering mecca and a popular base for those exploring Los Glaciares National Park. En route, keep an eye out for herds of wild guanacos and ostrich-like, flightless rheas. We have suggested three classic hikes in the park, but there are easier options. Each day's choice of activities is dictated by weather and your preference of activity level. Overnight at Destino Sur, a comfortable retreat in this wild, untamed landscape...BD

DAY 3 LOS GLACIARES NATIONAL PARK / FITZ ROY HIKE

Strikingly beautiful Los Glaciares National Park, one of the natural wonders of South America, is an extraordinary wilderness that includes gigantic ice fields and the rugged, iconic Cerro Fitz Roy (11,703'), the park's crown jewel held sacred to the ancient Tehuelche people. The Fitz Roy Massif and the surrounding peaks rise at spectacular angles, sculpted from solid granite into fantastic spires and towers by the tremendous force of the region's glaciers. This complex of peaks and “needles” captivates experienced mountain climbers from all over the world.

“A beautifully planned and orchestrated trip. The hiking and scenery were fabulous. Thank you very much. WT runs a first class show.”

Alison F., Alton, NH

“Our first private journey but 4th WT trip. We really like the combination of guides, planned itinerary, and individual choices throughout the journey.”

*Patricia B. and Doug J.,
Granite Bay, CA*

Today, we suggest heading out on a private full-day guided hike to the Fitz Roy base camp and the beautiful mountain lake, Laguna de Los Tres. The trail leads through forest and open plains, with the first significant stop at Laguna Capri, which offers a distant, though inspiring, glimpse of Fitz Roy, which is also reflected in the crystal clear waters of the lagoon. This is the perfect place to enjoy your box lunch while taking in the magnificent views of the surrounding mountains from the shores of the lake. Your hike resumes as you head toward Laguna de Los Tres at the base of Fitz Roy, where three glaciers drain into a stunning mountain pool. From here, the views of Lake Viedma and the vast Patagonian steppe are spectacular on a clear day, and are a good way to break up the sometimes challenging uphill hiking. The hike will lead up onto a natural balcony looking over Laguna Sucia, and the Saint-Exupery and Poicenot spires. An easier hiking option offers beautiful views of the Piedras Blancas Glacier and the huge rock walls of Fitz Roy. Overnight at Destino Sur...BL

Hiking Details: The challenging option is a tough hike of 10 miles, with an elevation gain and loss of 3,000 feet; it is a steep 8- to 9-hour hike. The easier option is 3.7 miles (900 feet elevation gain and loss). With stops for rest and photography, the easier option usually takes 3 to 4 hours round trip.

DAY 4

LOS GLACIARES NATIONAL PARK / CERRO TORRE HIKE

The needle-like spike of Cerro Torre (10,280'), with its sheer 6,000-foot rise from the pampas, is famous for its beauty, and notorious for the difficulty of its climb. Countless expeditions attempt the summit every year, and it is considered one of the most challenging mountains in the world. With vertical walls, dramatic changes in weather, and winds of more than 60 miles per hour, this is not a place for the faint-hearted. Your full-day hike, however, will be far less strenuous! And, as always, you can choose how long and far you'd like to go. The trail begins with a gradual, scenic ascent toward El Mirador, a lookout point with a great view of Cerro Torre. From El Mirador, you'll hike the short distance down to the Fitz Roy River valley and along flat land, walking among shrubs and other native flora adapted to this environment, into enchanting woodland, and eventually to the last glacial area surrounding the lake. The trail ends on the banks of Laguna Torre, which offers beautiful views of Cerro Torre and the Torre glacier, surrounded by the Egger and Standhard spires and the Adelas mountain range. Overnight at Destino Sur...BL

Hiking Details: 11 miles round trip, with an elevation gain and loss of 2,400 feet; 6-7 hours on a well-established trail. The easier option is 3 miles round trip (to El Mirador).

DAY 5

LOS GLACIARES NATIONAL PARK /

After breakfast, a three-hour drive brings you back to El Calafate. Drive along the shores of beautiful Lago Argentino to the spectacular and massive Moreno Glacier, one of the few glaciers in the world that is still advancing, where you'll walk along a boardwalk with phenomenal views of the towering wall of ice and the immense Southern Patagonian Ice Cap stretching into the distance. The sounds here are as amazing as the sight of the glacier's 10-story-high ice wall dropping chunks of ice into Canal de los Témpanos (Iceberg Channel) below. Overnight at Xelena Hotel and Suites in El Calafate overlooking Lago Argentino...BL

Hiking Details: 3 hours in the morning.

DAY 6

ESTANCIA CRISTINA

A morning departure brings you to the lake pier for a crossing of Lago Argentino by catamaran. Navigate around drifting electric-blue icebergs and enjoy superb views of the headwall of the Upsala Glacier, South America's longest, as you head to Estancia Cristina, set in a wonderfully remote location on the north arm of Lago Argentino. Surrounded by glaciers and the snowy peaks of the Andes, Estancia Cristina is a historic former sheep ranch accessible only by boat. Upon arrival, you have time for an afternoon of easy hiking. Options include a visit to the Los Perros Waterfall, a three-hour walk to a secluded waterfall with expansive vistas overlooking the valley, or a hike across the Caterina River Valley to Laguna de la Pesca—a picturesque lake and a delightful spot for birders and photographers alike. Overnight at Estancia Cristina in one of the cozy casitas with spectacular views of the mountains...BLD

Hiking Details: 3-4 hours for either of the half-day hikes.

DAY 7

ESTANCIA CRISTINA / FOSSIL CANYON

Spend the day exploring the stunning beauty surrounding Estancia Cristina. A popular hike starts with a 4WD vehicle on mountainous roads to the Upsala viewpoint for a full-day downhill trek through Fossil Canyon. This geological wonderland features glacial erosion where 170 million year-old marine fossils have been left exposed by an ancient ocean. You'll also see interesting flora and fauna like Patagonian nire and lenga trees and enjoy expansive viewpoints throughout the hike looking out over Lake Pearson, Cerro Norte, and the Estancia's Valley. Witness the Upsala Glacier in all its majesty, as well as Lake Guillermo, Cerros Cono, the Southern Patagonian Continental Icefield, and perhaps even an

Iguazú Falls Extension

One of the most stunning natural wonders in the world, Iguazú Falls stretches a full mile across the Rio Parana, with 275 separate cascades—one third on the Brazilian side, two thirds on the Argentinian side—laced with rainbows and plunging hundreds of feet in a mist-shrouded subtropical landscape, truly an other-worldly spectacle. The cascades form part of the Iguazú National Park, known for more than 400 different species of birds. A walk along the footbridges of the park is a chance to spot colorful toucans and other birds. The park was declared a Natural World Heritage for Humanity by UNESCO in 1984. The Falls can be reached by paths, footbridges, and Zodiac boats, offering a number of different perspectives.

Trip Details

WHAT THE TRIP IS LIKE

This trip is rated Level 3, Moderate. Although the pace of this trip is relaxed and you are free to choose the activities you like, this is an active vacation. The elevations on this trip are not particularly high. Unlike glaciers in other parts of the world that start at higher elevations, the glaciers in Los Glaciares National Park begin at a lower elevation (4,900 feet) due to the size of the ice cap. The elevation of El Calafate is 653 feet, and El Chaltén is 1,312 feet. Depending on the hikes you choose, you may experience elevation losses and gains of up to 3,000 feet in one day. The shape you're in is an important factor in the enjoyment of your trip. We recommend that you make a special effort to get in good condition by walking, bicycling, swimming, or other forms of exercise.

WEATHER

Buenos Aires is mild year-round, with temperatures in the 70s and 80s and moderate to high humidity from November through March. The ideal travel season for Patagonia and Glacier National Park is November through March ("summer" in the Southern Hemisphere). Temperatures average in the 50Fs to the high 60Fs during the day, dropping to as low as 40 at night. Patagonian weather is famously changeable—rain and snow can occur at any time. The Patagonian Andes are exposed to the strong winds that circle the Antarctic continent. Experiencing these winds is almost inevitable on any Patagonian journey. You should bring layered clothing and always have rain gear handy.

CHILDREN

This is an excellent trip for children and families. The recommended minimum age is 10. Please call us for more details.

CHOOSING THE RIGHT TRIP

levels of physical exertion, or activities you may not have participated in previously. We work hard to help you choose the right trip for you, paying attention to your individual interests, abilities, and needs. If you have questions about the level of comfort or any of the activities described in this itinerary, please call Wilderness Travel at 1-800-368-2794 and ask for the Latin America Manager or email us at latinamerica@wildernesstravel.com.
