The morning is free to explore Darwin on your own. We'll meet in the afternoon at our group hotel for a trip orientation, then head over to the Northern Territory Museum and Art Gallery, the region's premier cultural institution, with exhibits on everything from indigenous arts and culture to native flora and fauna, including the introduced activities of gold mining, pearling, and the events of WWII and Cyclone Tracy. We enjoy a Welcome Dinner tonight at Pee Wee's at the Point, meeting early enough to catch the sunset.

Note: Flights to Darwin typically land between 11:00 pm and 1:00 am, so you would need to arrive in Darwin prior to Day 1. We can book rooms for you at our group hotel (an "on your own" expense).

DAY 2 KAKADU NATIONAL PARK / UBIRR ROCK ART

An early morning drive brings us to Kakadu National Park, an enormous, biodiverse nature reserve known for uncanny wildlife including wallabies, dingoes, bandicoots, and saltwater crocodiles. We'll stop along the way for a "Welcome to Country," a tradition in which the locals introduce us to their lands and culture. Later we stretch our legs on a walk to Ubirr, an ancient rock art site on a high plateau with views across Northern Kakadu and the floodplains. Our final destination is Coinda Lodge, a village-style property under shade trees along the Yellow Water Billabong. We'll check in and perhaps enjoy a swim in the pool before dinner at the lodge's restaurant.

Overnight: Coinda Lodge

Coinda is a village-style property shaded by trees along Yellow Water Billabong. Guest rooms have air conditioning and interiors are furnished to reflect the Kakadu bushscape. The lodge offers an inviting shaded swimming pool, bistro-style dining, bars, a petrol station, and a shop offering locally made crafts as well as a wide range of essentials for touring. We walk through monsoon rainforest along the trail, keeping an eye out for colorful birdlife including rainbow pittas and spangled drongos. Descending to the main pool at the bottom of the gorge, surrounded by a stone amphitheater, we'll have time to relax, with optional swims and a picnic lunch. Heading back to the lodge, we'll visit the Warradjan Cultural Centre, near our lodge. This stunning museum has interactive video and real-life artifacts that interpret personal stories from individual members of the surrounding tribes and collective histories that span thousands of years. There's also a gallery shop where you can pick up a variety of locally made arts and crafts.

Our next stop is Anbangbang Billabong (a billabong is a branch of a river forming a pond). It's a good place for a walk to look for birdlife and water lilies. After a picnic lunch, we head back to the lodge for downtime, and perhaps a swim. Before dinner, we enjoy a relaxing sunset cruise along the Yellow Water wetlands. The Yellow Water region provides easy access to the escarpment and southern Kakadu. Sunset is the perfect time to appreciate this peaceful setting.

Itinerary

DAY 5 KAKADU / LITCHFIELD NATIONAL PARK / DARWIN

We get an early morning start for the return drive to Darwin. Our first stop is Litchfield National Park, with its unique Magnetic Termite Mounds, some up to 100 years old. Termites have constructed these unique, six-foot-high mounds with the thin edges pointing north-south and broad backs facing east-west, thus regulating the temperatures inside. We'll stop at Florence Falls for a picnic lunch and time to swim. Dinner is on your own tonight in Darwin. The Trip Leader is happy to make suggestions, depending on how fancy or local you want to go.

A flight brings us to Alice Springs, “capital” of the Outback, famed for its soaring desert landscapes and colorful Outback characters. We drop our bags at our hotel then take a guided tour of Telegraph Station, the birthplace of the Alice Springs township. This is the place to learn about the early days when the Australian continent was only connected by telegraph, and we’ll learn about the Stolen Generation, when indigenous children were taken from their families to be raised in institutions or fostered by non-indigenous families. After a “bush tucker” presentation and appetizers, you have the option to visit the nearby Desert Park for lunch and a viewing of their much-loved Birds of Prey Show, or you can enjoy lunch on your own in downtown Alice Springs or at the hotel. Dinner is on your own this evening, with two great options at the hotels, and a wide variety of restaurants a short stroll into town.

In the remote East MacDonnell Ranges, we'll hike amid the stunning scenery of the Yeperenye Trail (The Three Caterpillars) from the Emily to the Jessie Gaps, key spiritual sights to the Eastern Arrernte Aboriginal people. The trail is on well-packed dirt with nice views of the range and arid landscapes. Emily Gap is a registered sacred site and home of a large rock painting. DAY 8 ALICE SPRINGS / ORMISTON POUND / SONDER CAMP

We depart Alice Springs and head to a fantastic overlook across the giant amphitheater known as Ormiston Pound, with Ormiston Creek winding its way through this mountain enclosure, flanked by the ridges of the West MacDonnell Ranges. Along the way, we'll visit the Ochre Pits, mined for generations by the local Aboriginal people. The ochre here has played an important part in Aboriginal culture and is used in everyday life for paintings and ceremonial body decoration. Our walk at Ormiston Pound crosses rocky slopes, descends to the floor, then circles back to the main waterhole (with some river-wading in places where the river laps across the trail). We'll finish with a walk up to the Ghost Gum viewing platform. At day's end, we'll find ourselves at Sonder Camp, set below the big mountain it is named for. Here we enjoy the Outback setting in comfortable safari-style tents furnished with camp cots. The camp has two shower tents, a shaded communal dining facility, and fresh-made meals created in the camp's kitchen.

At this beautiful spot, we'll catch the ethereal dawn colors painting the valley and the flanks of Mount Sonder. We'll head back down to camp for brunch, then pack up and head to Glen Helen, a sublime gorge that cuts through the MacDonnell Ranges, for lunch and an optional swim in the gorge's waterhole. The waterhole is part of the Finke River (called the Larapinta by the Arrernte people), which is thought to be the oldest riverbed in the world.

Itinerary

DAY 10 REDBANK GORGE / GOSSSES BLUFF

After packing up camp this morning, we'll drive to Redbank Gorge for a short stroll along the creek bed to the gorge for an optional swim in the waterhole's cold, deep waters. Both sites are sacred to the local Anangu people, who have lived here for more than 30,000 years. On arrival at the park, lunch is on your own, with time to browse the park's shops and restaurants. In the afternoon, we'll make a half-circumnavigation walk around the perimeter of Uluru. Each part of this flat trail feels a bit different, with some areas green and lush and others open and vast. Along the way, we can visit tranquil waterholes, take a break under a magnificent sheoak tree, or peer into hidden caves. She is a Kakadu National Park accredited guide, qualified in Wilderness First Aid, has attended multi-day workshops run by the Tasmanian Wilderness Guides Association, and has extensive personal bushwalking experience. What to Expect

WHAT THE TRIP IS LIKE

This trip is rated a Level 3+, Moderate, according to our trip grading system. You will need to be comfortable hiking 5-8 miles a day on uneven surfaces including up and down steep rock surfaces. Although you carry only a daypack, there are some steep ascents and descents and many sections that cross rough or rocky trails. Trail conditions, weather, and the group's level of fitness can affect hiking times and pacing.

Average Hiking Day

- 2-3 hours
- 3-5 miles
- 450 feet gain/loss

Challenge Days

- Day 10: 10 miles, 6 hours, and 950 feet gain/loss (this hiking day begins around 3:00 am)
- Day 13: 6.5 miles, 4 hours, and 1,500 feet gain/loss

TERRAIN

The terrain of the Larapinta, Kings Canyon, and Kata Tjuta is extremely rocky. Some trails are not “groomed” but follow the natural contours of the land and are therefore uneven. Some sections of trail are on uneven stairs built out of natural rocks, other sections are across smooth and solid rock, so it’s important to have good boot traction. Above-the-ankle boots and hiking poles are strongly recommended. There is one brief section of Valley of the Winds hike (Kata Tjuta) that is a particularly steep incline up a rock face. On Day 9’s hike through Ormiston Gorge, there is a required river crossing. The water is cold and waist-deep at the deepest section and we will have to carry our boots and daypacks over our heads as we cross the river. Bring a swimsuit or suitable under layers for this day. Teva-type sandals are good for this river crossing. The Ormiston Gorge hike is one of the very best along the Larapinta Trail, so wading the river is entirely worth it and it adds an element of adventure to the trail.

GETTING IN SHAPE

We strongly urge you to train for your trip, as your enjoyment will be highly dependent on your level of fitness. The best training for a hike is to hike, especially over hills or rough terrain. Next best are running, swimming, bicycling, or other cardiovascular exercise. Stair climbing machines are excellent preparation for hiking uphill. Your feet should also be well prepared—make sure your hiking boots are sturdy, comfortable, and thoroughly broken-in. For the most part, you can hike at your own speed because we always have a staff member hiking in the lead as well as one behind with the slowest hiker in our group.

WEATHER

The Darwin/Kakadu/Litchfield portion of the trip will be hot and humid, ranging from high 80s/low 90s in the day to mid-60s/low 70s in the evenings. The Outback portion of the trip (Alice Springs and Yulara/Uluru) is an arid environment, and it will be winter. The evenings and mornings will likely dip below freezing, so it important to bring multiple light layers to add/remove, especially for the nights of camping, stargazing, and pre-dawn hiking. Daytimes will typically be very mild in the mid-60s, but the sun will still be strong. Lightweight, long, sun-protective layers and wide-brimmed hats are encouraged.

What to Expect

ACCOMMODATIONS

We stay in excellent hotels throughout the trip. However, there are two special overnights while we are on the Larapinta that are at an eco-camp in the outback: Sonder Camp. This camp will be reserved for our group alone and operates with sustainable technologies such as composting toilets, solar lighting, and a hybrid grey-water disposal system designed for the arid environment. The camp is semi-permanent, and taken down off-season to allow the land to recover. Sonder Camp's tents are large enough to stand up in. There are two cots per tent, each with a foam mattress, sleeping bag, sleeping bag liner, and a pillow. Nights are cold in camp, but the sleeping bags are very effective. The camp's bathrooms are shared, and have a composting toilet with sinks and soap nearby. There are two one-person shower tents at the camp. Hot water for the shower is heated using a "Donkey" hot water boiler, and guests have a bucket of warm water to use in the shower, enough water to run for about two minutes. At the communal dining area, set on a raised platform, restaurant-style gas burners provide heating at night, along with the open fire traditionally lit outdoors at the camps. There are eight USB 12V camera/phone battery charging ports in the communal couch area, powered through our solar system. There is no cell phone reception.

CUISINE

Meals will be taken at the hotels and camps where we are staying or at restaurants in nearby towns. Australian cuisine includes a lot of grilled meats but there is also a huge Asian influence and well as a British influence. Breakfasts at hotels will generally be very familiar cuisine, and on the Larapinta trail will mostly be yogurts, granola, oatmeal, bagels, eggs, etc. Lunches on the trail are typically sandwiches with chutney, veggies, and sliced meat, as well as a variety of salads such as Asian noodle or quinoa/chicken/spinach.

TRANSPORTATION

Our transport during the trip will be in a comfortable 20-passenger bus that is fitted for rugged dirt roads and has large windows for viewing scenery and wildlife. There will be water and snacks available in our vehicle when we are traveling, and on travel days, we'll make stops at points of interest along the way. Our support vehicle will transport the group's luggage, so you only need to carry a daypack (rain gear, sweater, camera, water bottle, etc.).

Discounts on the cost of your trip begin! You receive a 4% discount on the tour cost.

FIVE AND MORE TRIPS

You receive a 5% discount on the base trip cost. On your sixth trip, you receive a 6% discount, and so on up to your 10th trip. The maximum discount is 10%, with a ceiling of $500.

Note: Due to special pricing considerations, Toucan Club discounts do not apply to our Private Journeys or Special Events. However, your participation on these trips does count toward your Toucan discount on future departures of Wilderness Travel's regular adventures.

TERMS & CONDITIONS

Toucan Club travel discounts cannot be used in conjunction with any other discount, unless otherwise specified. Discounts are deducted from the base trip cost and shown on the final invoice. The base trip cost is the main land/tier cost and does not include single supplement fees, extensions, internal airfare, or other additional charges. Bonus gifts (T-shirts, luggage tags, vests, water bottles, and pullovers) will be mailed approximately three weeks prior to trip departure. Terms and conditions of Toucan Club bonuses are subject to change or cancellation at the discretion of Wilderness Travel, Inc.

Please be advised that California has established a Travel Consumer Restitution Fund under the California Seller of Travel Law that took effect January 1, 1996. This fund is designed to protect consumers from unscrupulous practices by discount airfare ticket sellers or air charter operators. Unfortunately, this law does not cover non-California residents and, even in the case of California residents, it does not cover any foreign travel where the foreign "providers of transportation or travel services" are not in compliance with the Sellers of Travel Law (compliance being defined as registered as a Seller of Travel in California and a participant in the Travel Consumer Restitution Fund). Thus none of Wilderness Travel's tours qualify and we are required by law to advise each client that they are not covered by the California Travel Consumer Restitution Fund. California law requires sellers of travel to maintain a trust account or bond. This business has a trust account. California Seller of Travel #100769640
