Introduction

With rose-tinted pinnacles and towers soaring above glistening meadows and storybook villages, the Dolomites are an awesome spectacle. We explore this famous landscape with invigorating hikes in a variety of landscapes each day, heading across trails below regal Marmolada (10,968'), highest peak in the Dolomites, and the colossal and ghostly pillars of the Tre Cime di Lavaredo—their geometric angles and “golden hour” hues are spellbinding. By day, we savor some of Europe’s most eye-catching mountain scenery, and by night, we sleep in comfortable hotels. Italian-Tyrolean cuisine fuels our hikes, and we’ll spend one night at a spectacular mountaintop lodge to watch alpenglow on the peaks.

Overnight: Hotel Orso Grigio

This small boutique hotel is centrally located at the foot of the Dolomites, with wonderful access to nearby hiking trails. The hotel has a nice restaurant and bar, and guest rooms are comfortable, with a small seating area, nice bathrooms, and views of the valley and surrounding mountains. The hotel also has a lovely spa, perfecting for relaxing after a day's hike.

Meals: L, D

Driving Details: 3 hours

DAY 1 VENICE / INTO THE DOLOMITES AT SELVA DI CADORE

You will be met at 11:00 am at the Venice Airport by our Trip Leaders for the drive (with a stop for lunch en route) to our hotel in Selva de Cadore. During the drive, we'll have spectacular mountain views across the valley. After a group orientation meeting this evening, we'll enjoy our Welcome Dinner at the hotel.

During the next six days, our leaders present different hiking options most days, usually distinguished by the level of challenge, trail conditions, ascent/descent, mileage, or duration. Hikes may be weather dependent and depend on the group's abilities, but our knowledgeable Trip Leaders will always make the best decision so you have the best experience possible.

Itinerary

Overnight: Hotel Orso Grigio

Meals: B, L, D

Hiking Details: 7-8 miles, 5-6 hours, 1,300' ascent, 1,850' descent

“This is a fun, diverse, and well organized trip. We had a little bit of everything —great mountain scenery, beautiful refugios, a charming town, challenging and exciting hikes, and great food!”

-Janet R., Encinitas, CA

DAY 2 REFUGIO PALMIERE HIKE

Our hike today features incredibly varied views and wonderful walking to Rifugio Palmiere (6,740'). We will have the option to hike directly from our hotel or, for those wanting a shorter option, there is a short shuttle to our trailhead. We'll hike through lacy larch forest and then through a high alpine meadow where the skeleton of a Mesolithic hunter who lived 7500 years ago was found. The skeleton (now known as Mondeval Man) and the contents of his grave were in a good state of preservation and are now in a museum in Selva de Cadore. We'll cross the Abrizolla Pass, where a short descent will bring us to the lovely Rifugio Palmieri, set on the banks of the Lago Federa, which often provides an amazing reflection of the imposing Croda di Lago peaks above. After lunch, we return to our hotel in Selva di Cadore through beautiful larch forest.

Geology of the Dolomites: The long geological history of this region has created spectacular landforms with huge vertical cliffs, whitish, silver, or pink rock pinnacles, and towers rising from green slopes. The evolution of the dolomitic landscape began at least 250 million years ago. After their uplift from the sea, the Dolomite reliefs were sculpted and molded through millennia by the force of gravity, running water, and ice, all of which made them “the most beautiful work of architecture in the world,” as the architect Le Corbusier once remarked. These shaping activities took place in very different climatic conditions. At least five glaciation periods, each one followed by inter-glacial phases, have been identified in the Alps. The coldest phases ended some 15,000 years ago when the Alps were buried under a thick icecap from which only the sharpest and highest peaks emerged. The vast heaps of rock debris at the foot of sheer dolomitic cliffs provide the landscape with a moon-like aspect.

Overnight: Hotel Orso Grigio

Meals: B, L

Hiking Details: 5-8 miles, 4-5 hours,
1,500-2,000' ascent/descent

Driving Time: 2 hours

“Beautiful, challenging, fun, and full of culture and nature. I highly recommend it!”

-Kathy L., Des Moines, IA

DAY 3 SELLA MASSIF OR PASSO STAULANZA HIKES

We have a choice of Dolomite mountain groups for today's hike (weather depending): the majestic Pelmo, often referred to as the “Throne of the Almighty” or “the Doge's Cap” by patriotic Venetians, and the Civetta, shaped like an enormous trident, with its famous north face, “the wall of walls,” first scaled by British mountaineer Francis Fox Tuckett in 1867. Weather depending, our third hiking option is the magnificent Sella Massif, with its summit, Piz Boè (10,400'), the highest walkable point in the Dolomites. There are some cabled sections on the way up to the Boè and it's fairly steep with a small cable section on the descent. All these areas offer a range of great hikes of varying lengths and difficulties, and we have at least two different options. Dinner is on your own this evening. Your Trip Leader will be happy to make some restaurant recommendations, depending on how fancy or local you want to go.

Overnight: Rifugio Lagazuoi

360-degree panoramas of the spires of the Dolomites, including glorious Tofano, Cristallo, and Marmolada, are at our fingertips at Rifugio Lagazuoi, a privately owned hike-in lodge with a stunning location atop Mount Lagazuoi. Here we are above the clouds, amid the silence of the mountains. We stay in dormitory-style rooms with toilets/sinks down the hall, and hot showers available. The lodge has a beautiful wood-paneled dining room with huge windows and a terrace where we can watch breathtaking sunsets.

Meals: B, L, D

Hiking Details: (Option 1): 5-6 miles, 5-6 hours, 1,100' ascent, 1,500' descent; (Option 2): 8 miles, 5-7 hours, 2,000' ascent, 2,300' descent

DAY 4 TO RIFUGIO LAGAZUOI

Today we'll transfer to Passo Giau to begin our hike. We all hike much the same route, branching off on easier or more challenging trails to reach our lunch spot, Rifugio Nuvolau (8,500'). Situated on the edge of a cliff with sweeping views of the Dolomites, Rifugio Nuvolau was constructed in 1883 and boasts a fine lunch terrace with views of Tofane, Cristallo, and the Marmolada, the highest peak in the Dolomites (10,965'). After lunch, we descend together for about three miles, hiking down to Passo Falzarego. From this pass, a cable car brings us up to Rifugio Lagazuoi (8,400')—there is no road access for our vans, but your overnight belongings can be transported by cable car to the rifugio in a small bag. The rifugio is awesomely sited and, weather permitting, we'll experience one of the world's finest sunsets: the surrounding valleys disappear into the shadows, highlighting rock pinnacles that take on an extraordinary palette of ever-changing hues.

The Great War in the Dolomites: Between May 1915 and October 1917 during WWI, the mighty peaks of the Dolomites were the setting of an exhausting war of attrition between the Italian and Austrian armies. Soldiers of the opposing troops endured terrible battles, deprivation, and loss of life, especially during the two long winters spent on the peaks. Both armies dug a network of tunnels and trenches to bypass and surprise the enemy. It is thought that 6,400 Italian soldiers and 1,800 Austrian soldiers lost their lives in a single battle on the Col di Lana. After October 1917, the Italian army withdrew to the River Piave, where the famous Battle of Caporetto took place, a prelude to the Italian army's insurrection. Today these tunnels and high routes are used for climbing and recreation. The labyrinth of tunnels can still be visited at the Lagazuoi, Castelletto della Tofana, and Città di Ghiaccio, the "ice city" constructed by the Italian Alpini who fought on the Marmolada.

Itinerary

Overnight: Hotel de la Poste (or Hotel Cortina)

With a perfect location in the heart of the pedestrian zone, this chalet-style hotel is a Cortina landmark, originally built in 1835 as a stop for mail coaches. "The Posta" has been in the hands of the Maniago family for the last century and has a grand dining room and a celebrated bar. Rooms are very well appointed and have either town views or mountain views.

Meals: B, L, D

Hiking Details: (Option 1): 11.5 miles, 6-7 hours, 4,700' descent; (Option 2): 5 miles, 3 hours, 2,500' descent

DAY 5 THE TOFANE / CORTINA D'AMPEZZO

Cortina's most famous mountain massif is the Tofane: Tofane di Roses, Tofane di Mezzo, and Tofane di Dentro, three peaks all over 10,500 feet in height. These peaks are renowned by climbers and alpinists worldwide, and are of some historical interest: the physical scars left by World War I are still very much in evidence here, with tunnels, trenches, and barbed wire giving silent testimony to battles between Italy and Austria. Walking right from our rifugio, we travel all together to our first major col. We descend, passing the Austrian tunnels and lookout caves over the Passo di Falzerago, part of a World War I tunnel system that runs through the mountain, and which we may have time to explore. These tunnels were the Austrian counterpart to the important Italian stronghold on the Dolomite front during fierce combat with the Austrians in 1916 and 1917. While the Austrians controlled the summit, the Italians successfully held the ground below by building and using 3,500 feet of tunnels.

1956 Winter Olympics in Cortina d'Ampezzo: The first Winter Olympics held in Italy should have taken place in Cortina in 1944, as arranged by the International Olympic Committee as early as in 1930, yet in 1944 the war was furiously raging in Italy and Europe. Eleven years later, the little village of Cortina was awarded the event, even though it was accessible at that time only by a small railway. In a building frenzy, over 60 hotels and inns opened for the 1955-56 winter season. The Olympic flame left Rome, with the Pope's blessing, and ascended to the mountains between lines of enthusiastic crowds like those that greet the Giro d'Italia (Italy's version of the Tour de France). Although still in recovery from the war, Italy shone bright with a gold medal in the two-man bobsleigh race and silver medals in the two- and four-man competitions won by Eugenio Monti, an athlete from Cortina.

—David D. & Judy M., Vienna, VA

DAY 6 CORTINA D'AMPEZZO / LAGO DI SORAPISS OR RIFUGIO SENNES

Today in Cortina, we can choose between two hikes that both take us through stunningly beautiful areas. One option leads us out on the spectacular ledge of the northern flank of the Sorapiss Massif, where we are rewarded with breathtaking views of a dramatic turquoise-blue glacial lake set in a mountain cirque. The other hike begins with a jeep ride to the trail head at Rifugio Ra Stua, north of Cortina. We disembark from the jeep to make a wonderful and varied hike through meadows, forest, and alpine pasture to the Rifugio Sennes, a working farm with wonderful food. It is set in a gorgeous amphitheater. Dinner is on your own this evening in Cortina.

“Well designed, a good balance of hiking and social experiences, with flexibility for individual preferences.”

–Allan C., Chapel Hill, NC

DAY 7 CORTINA D'AMPEZZO / TRE CIME DI LAVAREDO

All hiking options today bring us northeast of Cortina to the Sesto Dolomites and the famous “Tre Cime Di Lavaredo” (Three Peaks of Lavaredo). The steep, yellow-pink rock of these giants offers quintessential Dolomite scenery. One possible hike begins from the Rifugio Auronzo beneath the south face. and follows a level path around the three peaks for about five miles, while a more challenging circuit features more up and down and rougher, rockier trails, with an ascent and descent of 1,600 feet. Another possible hike is from the Passo Tre Croci and offers spectacular views of Tre Cime. Both vans will return to Cortina for lunch with time for some shopping in the afternoon. For those not wanting to hike, you can enjoy the day in the Cortina area, perhaps with an optional cable car excursion to Tofane di Mezzo for spectacular views. This evening we gather for a festive Farewell Dinner.

Trip Leaders

Wilderness Travel Trip Leaders have a passion and a joy for creating an unforgettable journey. We are extremely proud of them and the incredible travel experiences they make possible. For more information, including client comments about them and which specific trips they will be leading, please visit wildernesstravel.com/leaders.

TANIA MASI

Born in Florence, Italy, of an American mother and a Florentine father, Tania Masi was raised with an appreciation for both American and European cultures. Her passion for hiking has started at a very early age and today she holds an International Mountain Leader license from Austria. She speaks nine languages, has a Masters in geography and is an avid climber. "Mountains are my antidote to the modern frenetic speed: they are made of beauty, challenge, solitude, and silence." When not leading trips, Tania loves to explore new mountain faces to climb. She currently lives in southern Tuscany with husband and daughter.

JOANN LANTZ

Originally from Long Island and holding a degree in education from New York University, JoAnn Lantz has lived in Italy since 1988, slowly restoring an old farm house outside of Lucca, learning about the wines of Italy, and continually exploring her adopted home country. Whether she's leading a hike up to the Rifugio Lagazuoi in the Dolomites or to the top of Monte Solaro on the isle of Capri, she has a gift for bringing out the local charm of each place our journeys visit. "I became a Trip Leader to share the wonders of Italy with others," she says. "The slowness to change and the depth of history that exists here gives people a chance to reflect on their own lives and see what is truly important." When not guiding, JoAnn nurtures her small olive grove near Orvieto, pruning the trees, picking the olives, and making olive oil for her own use and as a gift for friends.

TERESA BALDI

Teresa Baldi, daughter of veteran WT Trip Leader Stefano Baldi, grew up on a farm owned by her family on the hills surrounding Florence. She has a degree in art history at the University of Florence and when she is not helping on the farm, a working agriturismo, she is employed at a nearby first-class restaurant, where she developed a passion for good food and wines. "It was great for me to grow up on a farm with plenty of animals and fantastic trails to explore and, at the same time, have the opportunity to study the beauty of art right in the streets of my home town. A hop on the bus and you step from nature to the glories of the Renaissance."

GABRIELE MASTRILLI

Gabriele Mastrilli was born and raised in Sicily, the southeast region of Italy, where he still lives when not traveling around the world. He has a master degree in ecology and biogeography and an immense interest in nature, hiking, and photography. In 25 years as a Trip Leader, he has traveled to all the continents and loves telling and hearing stories about different cultures around the world. When not leading trips, Gabriele travels on his own and exercises his passion for photography. Some of his photographic work has been published in Italian travel magazines.

What to Expect

WHAT THE TRIP IS LIKE

This trip is rated a Level 4 or 5, Moderately Strenuous or Strenuous, according to our trip grading system, depending on what hiking options you select. We have two hiking options to choose from on most of our 6 hiking days. You will need to be comfortable hiking 8 miles a day, being on your feet for up to 7 hours a day, and hiking on uneven surfaces including downhill over loose scree. No climbing or mountaineering experience is necessary. Trail conditions, weather, and the group's level of fitness can affect hiking times and pacing.

Average Hiking Day

- 6-8 miles
- 6-7 hours
- 1,100-1,600 feet gain/loss
- Altitudes range from 5,000-9,100 feet

Challenge Day

- Day 5: 11.5 miles, 6-7 hours, and 4,700 feet loss; alternative option of 5 miles, 3 hours, and 2,500 feet loss

TERRAIN

While the Dolomites are not exceptionally high, they are steep and rugged, and this trip, while not technically difficult, is aimed at those who have at least some experience mountain hiking. Trails can be uneven, with large rocks or loose scree, so participants must have good balance and be confident on their feet. Hiking poles are highly recommended.

GETTING IN SHAPE

We strongly urge you to train for your trip, as your enjoyment will be highly dependent on your level of fitness. The best training for a hike is to hike, especially over hills or rough terrain. Next best are running, swimming, bicycling, or other cardiovascular exercises. Stair-climbing machines are excellent preparation for hiking uphill. Your feet should also be well prepared—make sure your hiking boots are sturdy, comfortable, and thoroughly broken-in. Altitude is generally not a problem on these trips. The itineraries are designed to take you gently to higher altitude, giving you plenty of time to acclimatize. However, some people still experience a few problems when they first reach high altitude. Slight headache and sleeplessness are the most common symptoms.

WEATHER

Temperatures are likely to reach the 60s°F and 70s°F during the day, with cool breezes and occasional rain. At night the temperature will drop quite a bit, depending on the altitude. The months we run these trips have the optimal weather conditions, but still can be fickle. It can range from blue skies to cloudy, wet, and cold conditions, making rain gear and warm garments necessary items to carry with you on every hike.

What to Expect

ACCOMMODATIONS

Our accommodations are in comfortable, small hotels with private bathrooms. They have been chosen as much as possible for their ambience and history and are delightful for the local color and dining that they offer. These rustic and well-located hotels are clean and comfortable, but since they are often in historic buildings, the rooms are not always of uniform or international size. Our leaders do their best to assign rooms in a fair way so that all participants experience an equal advantage throughout the trip as a whole. Single rooms are offered when possible, but those who pay the Single Supplement may have to share a room for one night at Rifugio Lagazuoi. On this night, we stay in semi-private or dorm-style rooms with shared bathrooms and shower facilities. The bedding at the lodge is very clean, consisting of a down comforter, a bottom sheet, and a pillow. There is no vehicle access to this alpine lodge; your overnight items and a change of clothes will be transported to the lodge, while your main luggage will be stored at our hotel in Cortina for the night. A small bag will be provided for you to transport your overnight belongings if your own bag is too large. You'll carry your daypack with you on the trail as usual.

CUISINE

Most evening meals will be taken at our hotels and will be hearty, nourishing mountain fare, often with the cuisine the region is known for. Please note that in Europe, the dinner hour is considerably later than what it is in the US. We do our best to secure early reservations for our groups, but most often, the evening meal will be at 7:30 pm.

TRANSPORTATION

Please be conscious not to travel with excessive luggage. On transfer from the airport, this can be challenging to manage and cause discomfort aboard the bus. After Day 1, our bus will transport the group's luggage, so you only need to carry a daypack for items you need for the day (rain gear, sweater, camera, water bottle, etc.). Trip members are always free to skip a day's hike; just speak to your Trip Leaders and they will come up with the best solution for you. As noted, we will have one overnight at a lodge without vehicle access, but reachable by cable car.

Here's how it works:

YOUR FIRST TRIP

As a first-time traveler, you receive a lightweight Wilderness Travel T-shirt and set of durable WT Luggage Tags. On subsequent trips, we're happy to send you a new WT T-shirt and set of Luggage Tags by request.

YOUR SECOND TRIP

A top quality Wilderness Travel stainless steel water bottle by Klean Kanteen and a cozy Wilderness Travel fleece vest by Patagonia ($100 value).

YOUR THIRD TRIP

A versatile Wilderness Travel R-1 pullover by Patagonia ($130 value).

YOUR FOURTH TRIP

Discounts on the cost of your trip begin! You receive a 4% discount on the tour cost.

FIVE AND MORE TRIPS

You receive a 5% discount on the base trip cost. On your sixth trip, you receive a 6% discount, and so on up to your 10th trip. The maximum discount is 10%, with a ceiling of $500.

Note: Due to special pricing considerations, Toucan Club discounts do not apply to our Private Journeys or Special Events. However, your participation on these trips does count toward your Toucan discount on future departures of Wilderness Travel's regular adventures.

TERMS & CONDITIONS

Toucan Club travel discounts cannot be used in conjunction with any other discount, unless otherwise specified. Discounts are deducted from the base trip cost and shown on the final invoice. The base trip cost is the main land/tier cost and does not include single supplement fees, extensions, internal airfare, or other additional charges. Bonus gifts (T-shirts, luggage tags, vests, water bottles, and pullovers) will be mailed approximately three weeks prior to trip departure. Terms and conditions of Toucan Club bonuses are subject to change or cancellation at the discretion of Wilderness Travel, Inc.

Please be advised that California has established a Travel Consumer Restitution Fund under the California Seller of Travel Law that took effect January 1, 1996. This fund is designed to protect consumers from unscrupulous practices by discount airfare ticket sellers or air charter operators. Unfortunately, this law does not cover non-California residents and, even in the case of California residents, it does not cover any foreign travel where the foreign "providers of transportation or travel services" are not in compliance with the Sellers of Travel Law (compliance being defined as registered as a Seller of Travel in California and a participant in the Travel Consumer Restitution Fund). Thus none of Wilderness Travel's tours qualify and we are required by law to advise each client that they are not covered by the California Travel Consumer Restitution Fund. California law requires sellers of travel to maintain a trust account or bond. This business has a trust account. California Seller of Travel #100769640
