Hiking Montenegro and the Adriatic Coast

ALPINE MOUNTAINS, THE VIA DINARICA TRAIL, AND MAGNIFICENT KOTOR BAY

From soaring limestone peaks in the north to classic Venetian towns along the blue Adriatic, Montenegro is one of Europe's hidden gems—uncrowded and perfect for WT-style hiking. We'll hike our way from the alpine world of Durmitor and Biogradska Gora national parks to the gorgeous coast at the Bay of Kotor, Europe's southernmost fjord. Along the way, we hike sections of the Balkans' Via Dinarica, a "mega trail" from Slovenia to Albania (and named Best New Trail by Outside magazine in 2014), discover Montenegro's cultural patchwork, and sample delightful cuisine that reflects the region's blend of east and west. Our finale finds us hiking along the Bay of Kotor, one of the most spectacular settings on the entire Adriatic Coast.

Itinerary

Note: We highly recommend you arrive in Sarajevo the day before your adventure begins and visit several cultural sights including the Sarajevo Tunnel used during the Bosnian War, the intriguing Bosnian Pyramids, and the charming Old Town of Mostar. We are happy to book an extra night for you at our recommended hotel, an “on your own” expense.

DAY 1

SARAJEVO, BOSNIA-HERZEGOVINA

Arrive in Sarajevo, capital of Bosnia-Herzegovina and a storied crossroads of ancient civilizations. This city has both a stunning location and a rich history that entwines the Ottoman and Austro-Hungarian empires. The defining feature of Sarajevo for centuries has been its religious mix, with an Orthodox church, a mosque, and a synagogue all within the radius of a few hundred yards. Our walking tour of Sarajevo brings us to Sebilj Square in Bascarsija, the 16th century Ottoman quarter, where we walk through a bazaar composed of little shops along medieval alleys with streets named for the trade (bookbinders, coppersmiths) that once occupied them. Sebilj Square features the landmark dome fountain that was originally a watering place for the horses who carried goods on the storied Silk Road linking Istanbul and Venice. We also explore the old Viennese part of Sarajevo, where we can see relics of the brief rule of the Austro-Hungarian Empire and visit the ancient Latin Bridge on the Miljacka River, the spot where in June 1914, the Archduke Franz Ferdinand and his wife were assassinated, triggering events that led to World War I. This afternoon, we gather for a trip orientation, followed by our Welcome Dinner. Overnight in Sarajevo...D

Approximate Walking Time: 2 hours

DAY 2

SARAJEVO / DURMITOR NATIONAL PARK, MONTENEGRO

We awake this morning to the sound of church bells and the echoes of the Islamic call to prayer in this multi-cultural town. We then head out on a scenic drive crossing into Montenegro, with stops for refreshments at a cozy family restaurant above the Drina River, lunch at a restaurant in the Piva district, and other points of interest en route. In Montenegro, the breathtaking “road of a hundred tunnels” brings us to 200-square-mile Durmitor National Park, the largest park in Montenegro and a World Heritage Site. The park protects the Durmitor Massif, a spectacular mass of limestone topped by 50 separate peaks over 6,000 feet. The easternmost spur of the massif extends into the breathtaking Tara River Canyon, Europe’s longest and deepest gorge, where the raging waters of the 80-mile-long Tara River course between immense canyon walls. Today's loop hike begins in glistening green meadows and brings us up to the beautiful twin peaks of Komovi as we follow trails below these rocky summits. The views from here stretch to the mountains of Albania. Our lunch today is at an ecolodge that's a popular overnight stop for people hiking the Via Dinarica. MORACA MONASTERY / LAKE SKADAR NATIONAL PARK

This morning we head to Bjelasica Mountain, where we hike through the forest to the panoramic ridges of the peak. After a picnic lunch, we drive through the lovely Moraca Valley, a spectacular forested gorge that eventually opens out to reveal the Moraca Monastery, a 13th century landmark perched on a plateau just a few feet from the rushing Moraca River. From there we head to Lake Skadar, the largest body of water in the Balkans and one of Europe's most important waterbird sanctuaries. Studded with rocky isles and sharply indented bays, the lake is fed by the Moraca River and flows into the Adriatic via the Bojana River near the Albanian border. At Karuč, a lovely, hidden part of Lake Skadar, our boat awaits to take us on a journey through exotic bulrushes, water lilies, and river channels, where—if we're lucky—we'll come across "curly pelicans," the Dalmatian pelican, one of the rarest pelican species in the world. After meandering along the Rijeka Crnojevica River to the fisherman village of the same name, our boat will drop us right in front of our hotel (if the water is high enough). Our van will have continued to the hotel to meet us with our luggage. Dinner and overnight at our waterfront pension in Rijeka Crnojevica...BLD

Heading to Lovćen National Park, we'll set out for a morning hike through this park's beech forests and summer pastures, with a picnic lunch en route. At hike's end, a 15-minute cable car ride brings us down to Boka Kotorska Bay, from where we transfer to the medieval walled town of Kotor, a UNESCO World Heritage Site and the jewel of Montenegro's Adriatic Coast. Kotor's picturesque natural harbor is one of the most spectacular places on the entire Adriatic Coast, and its Old Town is a triangle of narrow streets and tiny squares with harmonious Venetian Gothic architecture hewn from blocks of pale stone. After setting into our beachside hotel in Dobrota, just a short drive from the Old Town, we go on a walking tour and explore all the hidden places with a local guide. In the evening we'll enjoy a seafood dinner in one of the local restaurants...BLD

BAY OF KOTOR

Today's hike starts at around 2,500 feet above majestic Kotor Bay and follows the “Blue” trail of the Via Dinarica, which veers toward the coast of the Adriatic Sea. We follow a path past a nearly abandoned shepherd's village (only one person still lives there) and reach the old St. Andrew's fortress, with its stunning views of the bay. After a seafood lunch in one of Montenegro's most magical restaurants—a refurbished ancient windmill surrounded by naturally flowing watersprings—we visit some prehistoric rock carvings and 2nd century Roman mosaics, then enjoy an afternoon dedicated to relaxation or a refreshing swim in the transparent sea. Dinner is on your own this evening so you can choose from among the many cafes and restaurants in Kotor. Overnight at hotel...BL

Kotor Bay, Europe's southernmost fjord, is dotted with tiny stone-built medieval villages perched beneath soaring mountains. We head to the picturesque little fishing town of Perast this morning to enjoy its waterfront Venetian-Gothic architecture and head out into the bay by boat. One of the places we visit by boat is the tiny island called Our Lady of the Rock, one of Montenegro's great landmarks, sitting serenely offshore and hosting a venerated 17th century church that covers most of the island. After heading back to land, the afternoon is free for independent exploration. We gather for our festive farewell dinner tonight. Overnight at hotel in Dobrota...BLD

Depending on your routing, it is necessary to depart from the US one or possibly two days prior to Day 1 of the trip itinerary. The name on your airline ticket must match the name on your passport exactly, and your passport must be valid for at least six months after your date of return to the US.

Please do not purchase your tickets until you are confirmed on the trip. Once your tickets have been purchased, please forward us a copy of your email confirmation from the airline so we can reserve your airport transfers. VLATKO BULATOVIC Vlatko Bulatovic, of Montenegro, is a professional mountain guide with a passion for introducing his home country to hikers. With Montenegro emerging as one of Europe’s newest hiking destinations, he has been instrumental in recent years in developing hiking routes, marking trails, creating trail maps and determining locations for hikers’ huts in Montenegro’s mountains. A former restaurateur, Vlatko (short for Vladimir) has a degree in economics and speaks Montenegrin and English. When not guiding, he can be found indulging his love for music by playing the guitar, drums, harmonica, and sometimes the kaval (the Balkan shepherds’ flute).

TOMO PETEK

With a degree in economics and tourism, Tomaz “Tomo” Petek created a vagabond lifestyle, traveling to different continents. From Italy to India, Morocco to Belize, he immersed himself in new environments, and picked up a few languages along the way (he’s fluent in four, to be precise). Yet after so much time away from his home country of Slovenia, he decided to return and has been guiding trips ever since. “My wish came true—I live in a country with a lot of natural beauty and I have one of the best jobs in the world,” he says. When not leading trips, Tomo enjoys climbing, cycling, and photography, and has become a certified yoga teacher.

DENITZA PETROVA

Denitza Petrova was born in Varna, a town on Bulgaria’s Black Sea coast. She graduated with a degree in sociology from Sofia University and spent her college summers in California. She later completed a two-year stint in outdoor education in the Santa Cruz Mountains (Camp Campbell Outdoor Science School), where she taught students about the beauty and uniqueness of the California redwoods. In her time in California, she became a passionate advocate for nature conservation, and on return to Bulgaria, she joined her country’s anti-nuclear and environmental movement. Today she is the Greenpeace representative in Bulgaria. She loves the mountains of her native country and is especially keen to share their beauty with travelers. “Bulgaria still has many hidden treasures waiting to be discovered, and it’s the perfect place for people who want to be in touch with wild nature and feel the true spirit of the Balkans.” Denitza also enjoys sharing Bulgaria’s folk music, both the dances and the songs. As a youth, she danced with one of the folk groups in Varna.

STANISLAV SIMICIC

Stanislav Simicic, of Croatia, is a graduate of a culinary academy in Osijek. A fine chef, he was awarded a second-place ranking among all young Croatian chefs in a competition in 1997. Stanislav later worked as a chef at a restaurant in Poreč for three years, then began to manage several yachts that ply the Adriatic. He has been working with us as a chef and Trip Leader since 2007, bringing a thorough knowledge of Croatian history and culture to the trip, along with wonderful cuisine. Stanislav is fluent in English and German. When not guiding, he spends time exploring Croatia’s many beautiful places with his wife, son, and friends.

WHAT THE TRIP IS LIKE

This trip is Level 3, Moderate. It is a hiking journey with day hikes of four to six hours on most days over moderate to steep mountain terrain. Although we are not at altitude, the trails can be rocky and narrow, and there is a lot of limestone, which can get slippery when wet. You will carry just a daypack on the hikes. Hiking boots that go above the ankle are recommended for the extra support, as well as hiking poles.

The hiking itinerary is planned as we have described it in the preceding pages. However, as in any mountain trip, we will remain flexible with regard to weather and other local conditions in choosing our routes. And do remember that apart from the coastal areas, the tourism infrastructure in Montenegro is still in development and the services, facilities, and quality of hiking trails can be basic.

Please note that in Europe, the dinner hour is considerably later than what it is in the US. We do our best to secure early reservations for our groups, but most often the evening meal will be at 7:30 pm. Rooms in the hotels and inns we stay in are not always of uniform or international size. However, our leaders try their best to assign rooms in a fair way so that all participants experience an equal advantage throughout the trip as a whole. Please note that single rooms in European hotels tend to be small by US standards.

WEATHER

Temperatures are likely to reach the 60Fs and 70Fs during the day, with cooling breezes and occasional rain. During evenings in the mountainous interior of Montenegro, it can get quite cool, with evening temperatures as low as the high 40Fs and low 50Fs. In the mountains, the weather can change quickly from blue skies to cloudy, wet, and cold, so you should have rain gear and warm garments handy in your daypack. You are likely to experience a full range of weather conditions in Montenegro—pack accordingly, with layers for warmth and weather protection.

Discounts on the cost of your trip begin! You receive a 4% discount on the tour cost.

FIVE AND MORE TRIPS

You receive a 5% discount on the base trip cost. On your sixth trip, you receive a 6% discount, and so on up to your 10th trip. The maximum discount is 10%, with a ceiling of $500.

Note: Due to special pricing considerations, Toucan Club discounts do not apply to our Private Journeys or Special Events. However, your participation on these trips does count toward your Toucan discount on future departures of Wilderness Travel's regular adventures.

TERMS & CONDITIONS

Bonus gifts (T-shirts, luggage tags, vests, water bottles, and pullovers) will be mailed approximately three weeks prior to trip departure. Please be advised that California has established a Travel Consumer Restitution Fund under the California Seller of Travel Law that took effect January 1, 1996. This fund is designed to protect consumers from unscrupulous practices by discount airfare ticket sellers or air charter operators. Unfortunately, this law does not cover non-California residents and, even in the case of California residents, it does not cover any foreign travel where the foreign "providers of transportation or travel services" are not in compliance with the Sellers of Travel Law (compliance being defined as registered as a Seller of Travel in California and a participant in the Travel Consumer Restitution Fund). Thus none of Wilderness Travel's tours qualify and we are required by law to advise each client that they are not covered by the California Travel Consumer Restitution Fund. California law requires sellers of travel to maintain a trust account or bond. This business has a trust account. California Seller of Travel #100769640
