Introduction

Set in the North Atlantic halfway between Iceland and Norway, the Faroes are a truly surreal archipelago of soaring sea cliffs, harbor villages, and famously shaggy sheep (they outnumber people here 2:1). In this tiny island-nation, we'll hike the fjords, the sea cliffs, the emerald moorlands, and the black-sand beaches. Between hikes, we'll be welcomed into homes, watch traditional Faroese dancing, and savor meals in the company of knitters, chefs, and artists as we experience the genuine culture of the Faroes.

Itinerary

Overnight: Hotel Vágur

Set on the edge of Sørvágur city and surrounded by the intense greens of the hills, Hotel Vágur is the ideal introduction to the remote Faroe Islands. Just a two-minutes' walk along a gravel path from the only airport on the islands, the hotel has simple yet comfortable rooms with wooden floors, free WiFi, satellite TV, and there's a welcoming bar where you can enjoy a drink and watch the fog roll in. And with only 12 flights per day, the planes are never a nuisance, but more of an event. If you have time, enjoy a round at the mini golf course on the hotel's property.

Meals: D

Hiking Details: 4.5 miles, 3 hours, 1,200' ascent/descent

DAY 1 VÁGAR / TRAE LANÍPA / BØSDALAFOSSUR

We arrive on Vágur Island, home to the Faroes' only airport. We'll gather for a quick orientation before heading out for one of the most stunning hikes in Europe. Our trail leads along the edge of Sørvágsvatn Lake, the largest lake on the islands, resting in a cradle high above the Atlantic and flanked by towering headlands. From our vantage point high on the sea cliffs, we look back to see the mirror-smooth lake, which appears to be suspended in the sky, hovering between the turquoise-blue ocean and the high sea cliffs. The soaring sea stacks of the Vágur, Streymoy, and Sandoy islands are in view on the horizon, and the sound of seabirds are all around us. Reaching the end of the lake, we descend a trail to the cliffs' edge to see the 100-foot-high Bøsdalafossur waterfall, where the lake's waters plunge to the sea. We retrace our steps and head back to Sørvágur for our Welcome Dinner. Overnight at Hotel Vágur, a comfortable hotel set on the edge of Sørvágur near the airport. With only 12 flights a day, planes are not a distraction but more of an event, and our hotel gives us great access to our hikes.

Itinerary

Overnight: Hotel Vágur

Meals: B, L, D

Hiking Details: (Option 1): 3 miles, 4 hours, 700' ascent/descent (Option 2): 3.5 miles, 3 hours, 1,200' ascent/1,400' descent

Transportation Time: (Option 1): 2 hours by boat Driving Time (Either Option): 1.5 hours by van “I’ve wanted to hike in the Faroe Islands for more than 20 years and was glad that Wilderness offered the trip. There was spectacular scenery, great accommodations, and a guide who cared about our experiences—in towns, beautiful churches, and the arts. We had gatherings in private homes and the Faroese were so welcoming. I would highly recommend the trip to anyone.”

—Gay T. Fort Myers, FL

DAY 2 MYKINES ISLAND / THE POSTMAN’S WALK

Stretching out in a spine of glorious bluffs and sheer cliff faces, Mykines is the most westerly island of the Faroes, and a photographer’s and ornithologist’s paradise. Weather permitting, we’ll boat to the island, walking through the colorful fishermen’s village with its grass-roofed houses and have a chance to see puffins! Our hike leads us up the moorlands where thousands of bright-colored puffins soar through the air, preen on grassy tussocks, and stand on the cliff edges ready to launch themselves out to sea. Our hike crosses the narrow cable known as the “Bridge over the Atlantic” to Mykines Hólmur, where a red-topped lighthouse dominates the western end of the island. Built in 1909, the lighthouse was run by three lighthouse keepers who lived on this isolated spot with their families.

If the weather is unsuitable for the boat ride, we’ll hike the Postman’s Walk, where the postman traversed the mountain between Bøur and Gásadalur—the only route connecting the two villages—until a tunnel through the mountain was constructed in 1993. The path takes a zigzag route upwards, revealing sweeping views of the giant sea stacks at Dranganir and distant Mykines. Arriving at the crest of the hill, we’ll see the verdant hanging valley below, with its colorful houses sitting above the Dalsa River that plummets 300 feet into the Atlantic. It is absolutely stunning and one of the iconic sights of the Faroe Island. In Gásadalur, we’ll enjoy a warm drink in a local home before continuing on to the War Museum in Miðvágur and learn about the strategic importance of the Faroe Islands during World War II. Before dinner in a cafe set within an old family home, we’ll head out to Múlafossur Viewpoint to catch a glimpse of one of the Faroes’ most famous waterfalls.

Itinerary

Overnight: Gjáargarður Guesthouse

Blending into its natural surroundings, the Gjáargarður Guesthouse in the delightful village of Gjógv is a welcoming and authentic Faroese stay. With its grass roof, welcoming staff, and wood-paneled lobby, you'll feel as if you're staying with a local family. Rooms are quaint, with en suite bathrooms and views of the hills and Gjógv. Relax with a cup of coffee in the café and enjoy the convenience of its perfect location for our hikes up the surrounding hill of Fjalli.

Meals: B, L, D

Transportation Time: 2 hours by boat, 1.5 hours by van

DAY 3 VESTMANNA SEA CLIFFS / GJÓGV

From our hotel, a drive to Miðvágur brings us to the Kálvalíð House. Built in 1632, the house was an annex home for priest's widows and it shows how the Faroese were living up until the modern era. Afterwards, we'll drive in a tunnel 300 feet under the Sound of Vestmanna to Stremoy, the largest island of the Faroes, then boat out to the Vestmanna sea cliffs, which soar 1,000 feet above sea level, for fantastic wildlife viewing. Wind and weather have sculpted these dark, volcanic rocks into columns of craggy arches, sea stacks, and grottos, and they are home to thousands of nesting birds including guillemots and razorbills—not to mention hundreds of daring sheep that feed on near-vertical grassy patches along the cliff face. After a hearty lunch of fish soup, we'll continue to the quaint village of Gjógv on the island of Eysturoy. Named after a deep cleft in the coastal rock, Gjógv is situated in one of the island's most peaceful and enchanting settings and we'll have time to stroll through the streets and visit a local church. The Gjáargarður Guesthouse with its Scandinavian-style rooms, is our charming accommodation for the next three nights.

Itinerary

Overnight: Gjáargarður Guesthouse

Meals: B, L, D

Hiking Details: (Option 1): 3 miles, 3 hours, 1,500' ascent/descent (Option 2): 3 hours

Transportation Time: 2.5 hours by van

“This trip was wonderful. The islands are stunning, with incredibly dramatic scenery and weather. The birds, especially the puffins and oystercatchers, were amazing. The hikes were lovely, not too strenuous and appropriate for the group traveling.”

—Linda K. Saratoga Springs, NY

DAY 4 MORNING HIKE / KLAKSVÍK

From the back door of our guesthouse, a steep and rugged hike takes us from the “infields,” where the sheep are kept in winter, through the “outfields” (the source of our baseball terms!) with views overlooking Ambadaldur, where skuas wheel overhead and hundreds of birds nest in cliffs. With high mountains on two sides, and the ocean and a sweeping u-shaped glacial valley on the others, this spot feels far away from the cares of the world. For the ambitious hikers, you can opt to hike to the top of Ambadaldur as well. Weather depending, another option will be an off-trail excursion to the hanging valley, Dalur, with steep slopes that bring you to dramatic views of the most remote islands of the Faroes: Fugloy and Svínoy, where a mere 40 people live. Later, we head into Klaksvík for a relaxing afternoon. We’ll enjoy lunch at a favorite local restaurant, Fríða Kaffihús, where we’ll sample Faroese tapas such as smoked mussels and salmon with rhubarb. An old Faroese proverb says: “Ull er Føroya gull,” or “Wool is the gold of the Faroe Islands.” Sheep have been a source of food and clothing since the time of the early Viking settlers—today they still outnumber the Faroese people 2:1. You can be sure where there’s a lot of sheep, there will be a lot of wool—and fantastic woolen knits. Known for centuries for the quality of knitting, Faroese take great pride in their wool clothing and crafts, and we’ll get a chance to shop for them in the local wool store. We’ll continue to Viðareiði Kirkja, a church built in 1892, and the northernmost settlement in the Faroes before enjoying a lovely dinner in the garden (weather permitting) of Garðahúsið.

Itinerary

Overnight: Gjáargarður Guesthouse

Meals: B, L, D

Hiking Details: (Morning): 2.5 miles, 2 hours, 1,000' ascent/descent (Afternoon Option 1): 2.5 miles, 3.5 hours, 2,000' ascent/descent (Afternoon Option 2): 6 miles, 3 hours, 725' ascent/descent

Transportation Time: 1 hour

“A well-designed itinerary with a wonderful mix of hiking and cultural experiences. The cultural interactions with local residents were one of the high points of the trip. The hikes were very scenic, historic, and enjoyable.”

—Sandra C. Seattle, WA

DAY 5 EIÐI VILLAGE / HIKING ON EIÐISKOLLUR AND SLÆTTARATINDUR

A short drive to Eiði, a small village arcing along the northwest tip of Eysturoy, brings us to the church that dates back to 1881, where we will be met by local artist Sigrun Gunnarsdottir. Sigrun was born in Eiði and trained at the Royal Danish Academy of Fine Arts before returning to Eiði. She'll share the story of the recent interior restoration project of the church, which she helped coordinate (and paint). We'll also be welcomed to see her light-filled studio that looks across the water towards Slættaratindur (2,893'), the highest mountain in the Faroes that towers over the hills and valleys below. From Sigun's door, we'll hike up nearby Eiðiskollur and hear stories and legends from the land including that of Risin and Kellingin. These two most famous Faroese sea stacks are said to be the remains of a giant and giantess who came at night to drag the Faroes to Iceland. However, the sun rose before they could finish and they were turned to stone by the light. From just over 1,000 feet, we'll look down at the waters crashing against the feet of these sleeping giants before descending back to Eiði for lunch in a nearby café. Weather permitting, we'll also climb Slættaratindur. Translated to “flat peak,” Slættaratindur's peak is so level that it's said that Faroese chain dancing (a medieval circle dance) can be done on the summit. The climb is strenuous, up a steep grassy slope, but rewards those who make it to the top with serene views. If the weather is not on our side, we'll opt for a coastal hike with one higher pass between two mountains from Elduvík to Oyndarfjørður. Return to the guesthouse. For departures where this day falls on a Wednesday, we'll trade in our hiking boots for dancing shoes as we enjoy a folkloric celebration with traditional Faroese chain dancing and song at the guesthouse.

Itinerary

Overnight: Hotel Brandan

Noted for its eco-friendly policies (it received the Green Key certification in 2020), the Hotel Brandan is located just a few minutes' walk from Tórshavn's town square. Both the public spaces and the well-appointed guest rooms are decorated by the striking artwork of Faroese artist Edward Fuglo. Amenities include a fitness center, sauna, and hot tub.

Meals: B, L

Hiking Details: 4.5 miles, 3.5 hours, 1,700' ascent/descent

Transportation Time: 1.5 hours

DAY 6 HIKE SAKSUN TO TJØRNUVIK / TÓRSHAVN

Lush green valleys crowned with mist lead us to Saksun on the island of Streymoy. This picturesque hamlet of grass-roofed houses with its small white church sits surrounded by high mountains, spectacular waterfalls, and a sandy lagoon, giving the whole area a mystical feel. Our hike follows the old church “coffin route” to Tjørnuvík, traversing the side of a mountain to a saddle between the two bays. We'll keep an eye out for purple and starry saxifrage growing in areas that sheep are unable to nibble, and tiny yellow tormentil as we descend through the green fields right into the village. Sitting in a glacial circular valley, Tjørnuvík's brightly-colored houses contrast beautifully against the jade-colored landscape, while the views face the rock giants of Risin and Kellingin. In the late afternoon, we'll drive to Tórshavn, the Faroe Islands' capital and the smallest capital in Europe—just 20,000 inhabitants. Dinner is on your own this evening.

Itinerary

Overnight: Hotel Brandan

Meals: B, L, D

Hiking Details: 3.5 miles, 2 hours, 200' ascent/800' descent

Transportation Time: 1 hour

DAY 7 HIKE KIRKJUBØUR / TÓRSHAVN

Our final hike brings us to Kirkjubøur, one of the oldest settlements in the islands. A gentle climb brings us to a high moorland past grazing sheep, and we'll revel in the expansive views of Hestur and Sandoy islands. In Kirkjubøur, we'll see the whitewashed church, dedicated to St. Olav, the island's patron saint. Behind the church stand the bulky ruins of St. Magnus, a medieval gothic cathedral built in the 14th century, which was once the center of religious power in the Faroes. We'll be welcomed into Kirkjubøargarður, the turf-roofed 11th century farmhouse, the oldest inhabited house in Europe and once the Bishop's residence. The Pattursson family has lived here for 17 generations, and today's custodian, Joannes Pattursson, will share the history of his home as we enjoy a cup of tea and home-baked cake. Back in Tórshavn, the afternoon is at your leisure to explore this tiny, yet vibrant city. Join a walking tour of the Old Town visiting the wooden, turf-roofed government buildings of Tinganes, the remains of Sanskin Fort, which once defended the important harbor, and wander through the narrow old streets lined with multi-colored wooden houses. Or, simply relax with a coffee or beer at one of the cafés overlooking the lively little marina and soak up the city's easy-going feel. For dinner tonight, we'll make our way to a local restaurant for a festive farewell.

Meals: B

DAY 8 DEPART

We bid farewell and transfer to Vágur Island (45 minutes) for homeward-bound flights or choose to extend your adventure in Europe.

If this is the case, your final invoice will reflect the difference in trip cost.

Arrival & Departure

ARRIVAL & MEETING PLACE

Suggested Airport: Vágur Airport (FAE)

Suggested Date & Time: Day 1, by midday

Meeting Place: You will meet your Trip Leader in the lobby of Hotel Vágur in Sørvágur at 3:00 pm on Day 1. Hotel Vágur is located right next to the airport. It is a short 5-minute walk to the hotel or you can take a taxi. Taxis are available right outside of arrivals and the cost should be minimal.

DEPARTURE

Suggested Airport: Vágur Airport (FAE)

Suggested Date & Time: Day 8, anytime

On Day 8, your Trip Leader will arrange airport taxis from the group hotel.

INTERNATIONAL AIR TRAVEL

Trip members are responsible for making your own arrangements for flights to and from Sørvágur. Travel to the Faroe Islands from the US is primarily routed through Copenhagen, with daily flights available on Atlantic Airways and Scandinavian Airlines. Atlantic Airways also offers weekly flights to the Faroe Islands from Reykjavík, Edinburgh, Paris, and Bergen.

Atlantic Airways

www.atlanticairways.com

Scandinavian Airlines

www.flysas.com

There are many online consolidators for booking travel, but for more personal help arranging air transport, you can contact Exito Travel at 1-800-655-4053 in the US or 1-800-670-2605 in Canada. They are very adept at putting flight itineraries together, to even the most far-flung places. More information can be found on Exito's website at www.exitotravel.com.

Depending on your routing, it is necessary to depart from the US one or possibly two days prior to Day 1 of the trip itinerary. The name on your airline ticket must match the name on your passport exactly, and your passport must be valid for at least six months after your date of return to the US.

Please do not purchase your tickets until you are confirmed on the trip. Once your tickets have been purchased, please send us a copy of your airline schedule. It is your responsibility to ensure your flight times coordinate with the arrival and departure logistics for this trip.

Trip Leaders

Wilderness Travel Trip Leaders have a passion and a joy for creating an unforgettable journey. We are extremely proud of them and the incredible travel experiences they make possible. ANGELA GILLESPIE

Based in a small fishing village in the Northwest Highlands of Scotland, Angela has been leading travelers on adventures for more than 28 years. She has guided in parts of Africa, Asia, Europe, the US, and Canada, but spends the bulk of her summers guiding on mountain and coastal trails in the Northwest Highlands of Scotland, the Faroe Islands, and Shetland. She dons her snow skis in the winter months working as a ski instructor in the French and Swiss Alps. Her personal journeys have taken her on a month-long skiing expedition in Greenland, to the snowy peaks of the Lofoten Islands in Norway, and on a sailing adventure from Menorca to Valencia, to name a few. She has a son and a grandson—her newest skiing and mountaineering companion.

PER HANSEN

Per Hansen was born and raised in the capital of the Faroe Islands, Tórshavn. For 20 years, he worked at the National Faroese Tourist Board as head of destination development, and in 2012 he decided to work as a guide, welcoming travelers to his home country. Per has traveled to almost every corner in the island group and loves to hike. He is passionate sharing the history, culture, geology as well as daily life of the Faroese, and has an answer to almost everything you might want to know about these fascinating islands.

What to Expect

WHAT THE TRIP IS LIKE

This trip is rated Level 4, Strenuous, according to our trip grading system. You will need to be comfortable hiking 4.5 miles a day, being on your feet for up to 5 hours a day, and hiking on uneven surfaces including downhill over loose rocks. You will need to be able to keep up with the moderate but steady pace of the group as there are no alternative hiking options available. Trail conditions, weather, and the group's level of fitness can affect hiking times and pacing.

Average Hiking Day

- 3 miles
- 3 hours
- 1,000-1,200 feet gain/loss

Challenge Day

- Day 6: 4.5 miles, 4 hours, and 1,700 feet gain/loss

TERRAIN

Trails are mostly grassy, and with the frequent rain, they can be muddy and slippery. There are sections with jagged rock, and very steep ascents and descents, often without defined trails. The Faroe Islands lack trees, so trails are often exposed and there can be occasional wind gusts. We cross a metal bridge on the island of Mykines, the bridge length is about 120 feet and it is 90 feet above the ocean. Some hikes are through boggy terrain, so waterproof gaiters are recommended, but not required. Hiking poles are necessary for the steep, slippery descents.

WEATHER

Temperatures should be in the mid 50s°F during the day and in the 40s°F at night. Weather in the Faroe Islands is always unpredictable, and can provide spectacular and clear days, but rain is very common, so you must bring appropriate rain gear. Even on sunny days, expect strong winds. The weather is a major factor in deciding whether a hike is possible, as strong winds, low clouds, and rain can make exposed hikes too dangerous.

ACCOMMODATIONS

Our accommodations will be in comfortable hotels and in a charming guesthouse while in Gjógv on the island of Eysturoy. Hotel Vagar is extremely simple and isolated with small rooms. Please note that the rooms are not always of uniform or international size. Our leaders do their best to assign rooms in a fair way so that all participants experience an equal advantage throughout the trip as a whole. Twin beds are often next to each other, but they will have separate bedding. If you prefer a single room, please make your request as early as possible.

CUISINE

Our lunches are picnic-style or at local restaurants and some dinners are in the home of locals where they will treat us to an authentic experience and share stories. Faroese cuisine is generally simple, and vegetables are not readily available, so vegetarian and vegan options are extremely limited. Vegan options, particularly, may not always be available. Gluten and dairy are also expected at every meal. We'll have the chance to sample a lot of traditional food, including fresh fish and beer.

What to Expect

TRANSPORTATION

Our van will transport the group's luggage, so you only need to carry a daypack for items you need for the day (rain gear, sweater, camera, water bottle, etc.). Trip members are always free to skip a day's hike and travel to the next destination in the support vehicle (or remain at the hotel if we are not transferring that day).
