TAJ MAHAL, JAIPUR, AND A RURAL CAMEL FAIR

Traditional desert tribes, camels painted with henna, airy Mughal palaces of marble and onyx—our Rajasthan adventure brings an unforgettable taste of India. We'll have sunrise and sunset visits to the Taj Mahal, a camel ride and sunset dune walk amid the herders' camps at the Pushkar or Nagaur fairs, and a rickshaw ride through Jaipur, where our accommodation is the atmospheric Rambagh Palace—once the home of the Maharaja of Jaipur. We'll also visit Ranakpur's fine Jain temples and take a Jeep safari in search of leopards near the village of Narlai. Our grand finale finds us in romantic Udaipur, exploring whitewashed havelis (mansions), parks, and temples on the shores of Lake Pichola.

DELHI, INDIA

Arrive in Delhi, where you are met by a WT representative and transferred to the hotel. Overnight at Claridges Hotel...meals on your own

DAY 2

AGRA FORT / SUNSET AT TAJ MAHAL

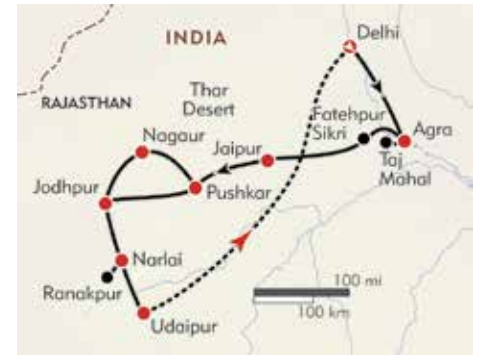

We head to the city of Agra, capital of the Mughal Empire from the 16th to the early 18th centuries. Our afternoon explorations include the beautiful four-gated Agra Fort, the first major building project of the Emperor Akbar, built in 1565 on the site of an earlier castle. Later in the day we make a sunset pilgrimage to the exquisite Taj Mahal, set on the banks of the Yamuna River. This white marble palace was constructed over a 21-year period from 1632 to 1653 by Emperor Shah Jahan in memory of his wife, Mumtaz Mahal, who died in childbirth. It was described by the English poet Sir Edwin Arnold as “Not a piece of architecture, as other buildings are, but the proud passions of an emperor’s love wrought in living stones.” Note: In order to be at the Pushkar/Nagaur fairs on the optimal days, your sunrise or sunset viewing of the Taj Mahal may take place at the Mehtab Bagh (“Moonlight Garden”), a beautiful viewpoint on the Yamuna River just opposite the Taj. In the evening we gather for a Welcome Dinner. Overnight at the ITC Mughal Agra...BLD
Approximate Driving Time: 4-5 hours

DAY 3

SUNRISE AT TAJ MAHAL / FATEHPUR SIKRI / JAIPUR / RAMBAGH PALACE HOTEL

After a sunrise visit to the Taj, we depart Agra for the haunting desert ruins of Fatehpur Sikri, once the capital of Mughal Emperor Akbar. The emperor and his court stayed here only from 1570 to 1586, and this fabulous city of red sandstone has lain abandoned ever since. The palaces and courtyards remain in pristine condition, offering us an extraordinarily accurate glimpse of a Mughal city. After lunch at the Bagh Resort, a 12-acre property with 200-year-old orchards and garden in the ancient town of Bharatpur, we head to Jaipur, the capital of Rajasthan. Along the way we stop at the baori, a 17th century stepwell that goes down nine levels into the ground with pillared hallways and verandas. Our unforgettable accommodation this evening and tomorrow is the Rambagh Palace Hotel, the former princely residence of the Maharaja of Jaipur, now a wonderful hotel managed by the prestigious Taj group. Set right in the heart of Jaipur, the palace is a beloved landmark full of original paintings, marble sculptures, and sparkling fountains. There are vast lawns where peacocks roam as well as a large indoor pool and places to play croquet. The Old India atmosphere has been lovingly retained while modern amenities add to the comfort...BLD

DAY 4

JAIPUR / RAMBAGH PALACE HOTEL

Jaipur, is a remarkable ancient city of palaces and fortresses of famed “pink” sandstone architecture. Built by Maharaja Jai Singh II in the early 18th century, elegant Jaipur is unsurpassed as a testament to the craftsmanship of the old masters. Fresco painting and mirror work were two renowned forms of adornment here, and the frescoed interior spaces in Jaipur’s forts and gracious residences show preening peacocks, caparisoned elephants or often floor-to-ceiling extravaganzas of flowers and stylized motifs.

Our full day of sightseeing includes Jaipur’s City Palace, a splendid blend of traditional Rajasthan and Mughal architecture, inside of which is the unique Jaipur Observatory, which looks futuristic although it was built in the 1700s. Also within this great palace complex is the Hawa Mahal (Palace of the Winds), not a palace at all but a five-story facade of more than 900 ornately decorated sandstone windows where the women of the royal family could look out over the street scene of the city but not be seen. We also visit the bustling market, one of the most vibrant in Asia, renowned for embroidered textiles, jewelry, and precious stones. In a valley near Jaipur, we visit the mighty Amber Fort, a Rajput hilltop stronghold fortified by natural hills and high ramparts. Overnight at the Rambagh Palace Hotel...BLD

DAYS 5-6

PUSHKAR OR NAGAU R CAMEL FAIR

November Departure (Pushkar Camel Fair):

Heading into Rajasthan’s countryside, we reach the ancient Hindu pilgrim town of Pushkar to witness the extraordinary Pushkar Fair, held each year in the Indian month of Kartik (Oct.-Nov.) for the two weeks leading up to the first full moon. The small, sleepy town of Pushkar comes alive with brilliant color as hundreds of thousands of pilgrims arrive for a ritual cleansing of the soul in the waters of Pushkar Lake, a holy lake in the center of town surrounded by bathing ghats and whitewashed temples. This two-week-long religious gathering in turn attracts all kinds of trading opportunities for Rajasthani villagers. In the desert, the raising of animals is far more important than agriculture, and with livestock trading so central to the culture, Pushkar has developed into one of the largest camel, cattle, and horse markets in the world.

The atmosphere on the dunes outside Pushkar, where all the animals are kept, is a lively one, with families dressed in their festive best, chatting and trading. Even marriages may be arranged in this great annual meeting place. In Pushkar town itself, families gather at over 300 temples, singing religious chants, performing age-old Hindu rituals, and making wishes for their loved ones and ancestors by the lakeside. Nearby, the Pushkar Fairground is abuzz with activity, from tented bazaars to itinerant musicians to camel and horse owners proudly showing off prized animals adorned in hand-tooled leather saddles and beadwork.

“A wonderful collection of the luxurious and the romantic!”

Peter F., Cambria, CA

We experience this spectacular fair with morning and evening walks amid the herder camps as the sound of temple bells drifts across the lake, on visits to the lakeside to watch Hindu priests perform pujas, and on camel rides through the fairgrounds, where singers and dancers celebrate around campfires. The Pushkar Fair is a dazzling experience of the vibrancy of India. It is also a coming together of traditional peoples to rejoice in the richness of their culture. Our Trip Leader will bring us deep into this world with his cultural insights and local connections. Royal Heritage Camp, our accommodation, is a comfortable tented camp with an excellent location for enjoying the fair. Please note that this property only serves vegetarian meals...BLD each day

Approximate Driving Time: 3 hours on Day 5

February Departure (Nagaur Fair):

We stop at the town of Pushkar for lunch and a short visit en route to Nagaur, a picturesque Rajput township that comes alive with activity as thousands and thousands of colorful camels and young bulls (the renowned Nagauri breed), along with oxen and horses, are brought in for trade and sale at the Nagaur Cattle Fair. These prized animals are lavishly adorned and even their owners flaunt colorful turbans and long moustaches. We spend the day enjoying the festivities of the fair, the second largest in all Rajasthan, held annually for eight days between late January and February. Along with camel and cattle trading, there are also events like tug-of-war and bullock races to entertain the fairgoers. In the evenings, there are campfires and performances of Rajasthani folk music. The fair is a great celebration, a coming together of traditional peoples to reaffirm their identity and rejoice in the richness of their culture. One evening at sunset, we enjoy a camel ride through the fair, a wonderful experience of this

“It was a splendid experience all around. I did not want to come home.”

Elizabeth P., Santa Fe, NM

JODHPUR

A morning journey brings us to Jodhpur, called the “Blue City” for the color of its traditional homes. We enjoy a walk through the colorful spice and textile markets, where craftsmen continue centuries-old artisan traditions. Overnight at the Raas Haveli, a charming boutique hotel set beneath the ancient Mehrangarh Fort...BLD

Approximate Driving Time: 4 hours

DAY 8

JODHPUR

This morning we explore the great Mehrangarh Fort, a grand edifice that straddles a steep rocky eminence rising over the desert valley. This red sandstone fort was founded in 1459 by Prince Jodha of the Rathore clan. Here we see the color and vibrancy of Rajasthan on a princely scale. Seven massive gateways lead into the walled city, with its temples and palaces, gardens and lakes. Passing through cannon-scarred gateways and walls that carry the poignant palm prints of proud Rajput queens who immolated themselves on funeral pyres, we enter a series of palaces and courtyards: the Pearl Palace, the Flower Palace, the Palace of Delight. Beautifully painted and delicately carved and ornamented, they house a royal collection of rare miniature paintings, silver howdahs, palanquins, armor and royal cradles. The remainder of the day is free to explore on your own...BLD

DAY 9

NARLAI

Departing Jodhpur, we head to Narlai, a village that once had a hundred temples (nowadays there are 22 that are open to visitors). We arrive at our hotel, Rawla Narlai, in time for lunch. In the afternoon we head to Ranakpur, famous for its marvelous complex of finely ornamented Jain temples. Nestled at the base of the Aravalli Hills, these hilltop temples are in a peaceful setting where peacocks and langur monkeys roam. One of the temples we visit is the Adinatha, the complex’s most noteworthy building, with its 1,444 engraved pillars, no two of which have the same carvings. We return to our hotel in Narlai for dinner and overnight...BLD

Approximate Driving Time: 1 hour

DAY 10

NARLAI

We spend the day exploring the village of Narlai. You can visit the temple dedicated to “Aye Mata” where a miraculous flame is reputed to have burned for centuries, producing saffron instead of soot. Wishes made here are said to come true. You can also visit the cave temple dedicated to Lord Shiva, a cool, serene and silent oasis. Feeling energetic? Climb over 750 steps (an easy

30-minute walk up) to the top of Elephant Hill (so called as there is a 12-foot elephant statue right at the top). The hotel staff can accompany you on simple village walks to local homes, which allow an insight into the villagers' lives. In the evening we depart on a Jeep safari in search of leopards—the rugged countryside around Narlai is an ideal site for these elusive creatures. Overnight at hotel...BLD

DAY 11 KUMBALGARH / UDAIPUR

We drive through peaceful rural villages to reach little-known Kumbalgarh, with its enormous fort, the most imposing of the 32 forts built by the Maharana Kumbha in the 15th century. Set atop a high ridge, the fort is encircled by massive and spectacular walls that measure more than 20 miles in length. It's a steep walk to reach the palace at the top but well worth the effort for the panoramic views. After lunch, we continue to Udaipur, one of the most romantic cities in the world, with its palaces, traditional havelis (mansions), parks, fortresses, and temples on the shores of Lake Pichola. The afternoon is free to enjoy the atmosphere of our hotel and relax. Overnight at the Taj Fateh Prakash Palace...BLD

Approximate Driving Time: 8 hours

DAY 12 UDAIPUR

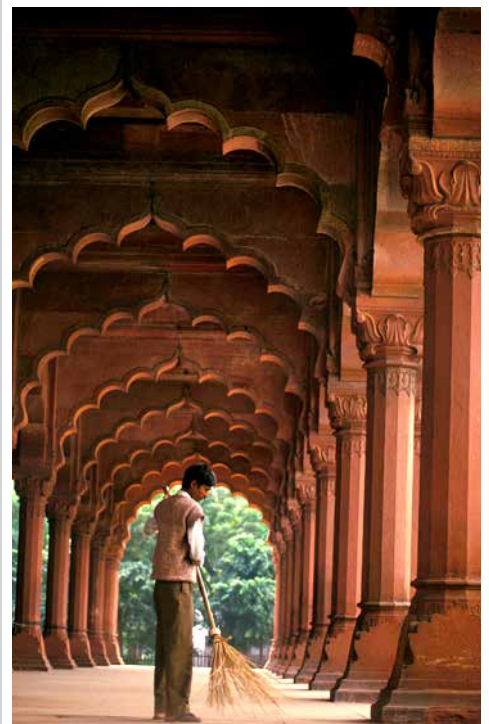

Today we explore the City Palace, set on a rocky bluff above the shore of the lake. It is truly an architectural marvel, actually a blend of 11 palaces, each built by successive maharajas during the 16th to 18th centuries. The crenellated walls of the City Palace are adorned with brilliant miniature paintings and decorative tiles and mosaics, and a warren of narrow passages connect courtyards and royal apartments. The triple-arched marble main entrance is where the maharanas (queens) of Udaipur were weighed and their weight in gold distributed to the populace. On the grand Suraj Gokhada ("Balcony of the Sun"), the Suryavanshi Maharanas of Mewar once stood to present themselves to the people. The Zenana Mahal, the women's quarters, are among the most spectacular spots in the palace. We also visit the the elegant 18th century Sahelion-ki-Bari gardens, created as a retreat for the royal ladies, and Udaipur's local markets. The city is proud of its heritage as a center for the arts, and there is an abundance of craftwork including colorful Rajasthani puppets. We enjoy an evening boat ride on the lake, then gather for our festive Farewell Dinner this evening. Overnight at hotel...BLD

DAY 13 DELHI / DEPART

WHAT THE TRIP IS LIKE

This trip is Level 1+, Easy. It is a comfortable, vehicle-based sightseeing trip. Accommodations include comfortable, modern hotels reflecting the traditional architecture of Rajasthan as well as former palaces and royal residences that have been converted into luxurious heritage hotels. At our tented camp at the Pushkar Fair, we sleep in Rajasthani-style air-conditioned tents furnished with cots and en suite facilities. There are some long days of driving on rough, bumpy roads.

An optional early morning camel ride is offered at the Pushkar or Nagaur fair for an “above the crowd” view of the activities around the fairgrounds as the day begins. Anyone participating in this optional activity must acknowledge the inherent dangers in riding and agree to accept any and all risks.

Please remember that travel in India is an intense experience. The essential requirements are flexibility, a sense of humor, curiosity, enthusiasm about new peoples and places, and an openness to the unexpected.

WEATHER

Like the rest of India, Rajasthan has four seasons. In winter (January to March), temperatures vary widely around the state of Rajasthan but this is an ideal season for travel. January is the coolest month of the year. April to June is pre-monsoon, the hottest season, particularly in May and June. June to September is the monsoon season, when 90 percent of the annual rains come. October to December, the post-monsoon season, is a very comfortable season for travel.

Please be advised that California has established a Travel Consumer Restitution Fund under the California Seller of Travel Law that took effect January 1, 1996. This fund is designed to protect consumers from unscrupulous practices by discount airfare ticket sellers or air charter operators. Unfortunately, this law does not cover non-California residents and, even in the case of California residents, it does not cover any foreign travel where the foreign "providers of transportation or travel services" are not in compliance with the Sellers of Travel Law (compliance being defined as registered as a Seller of Travel in California and a participant in the Travel Consumer Restitution Fund). Thus none of Wilderness Travel's tours qualify and we are required by law to advise each client that they are not covered by the California Travel Consumer Restitution Fund. California law requires sellers of travel to maintain a trust account or bond. This business has a trust account. California Seller of Travel #100769640
