Itinerary

Overnight: Hazelwood Lodge (or Hylands Burren Hotel)

With the warmest of Irish welcomes from our hosts, the Hazelwood Lodge is the perfect spot to call home after a day of hiking. Set just outside the harbor village of Ballyvaughan, the lodge has just 8 rooms and a wonderful boutique feel. Each room is uniquely decorated with lovely local touches. Set your hiking boots in the “drying room” and enjoy a drink by the crackling fire in the cozy lounge. The lodge has a lovely outdoor garden courtyard, serves a great breakfast, and offers WiFi throughout the building.

Meals: L, D

Hiking Details: 4 miles, 2.5 hours, 400' descent/800' descent

Driving Time: 1 hour

DAY 1 GALWAY / CLIFFS OF MOHER / THE BURREN

We'll meet in the lively center of Galway City and head out around Galway Bay to the little village of Ballyvaughan to have lunch at one of our Trip Leaders' favorite tea-rooms. Our first hike is along the spectacular Cliffs of Moher, and we'll be on our own “secret” route, which keeps us well away from the crowds. This moderate hike is a great warm-up—the coastal trail is mostly level with a bit of downhill. The cliffs are massive layers of sheared sedimentary rocks jutting 700 feet straight up out of the ocean, and the hike offers sweeping views over much of the region that we'll be exploring in the days to come. Our overnights tonight and tomorrow are at charming guesthouses run by a wonderful family whose warmth speaks directly to the heart. Our Welcome Dinner at a local restaurant will feature a truly special meal of foods grown in the spectacular coastal region known as the Burren by artisan producers.

Note: If you arrive early in Galway, we can recommend a centrally located hotel for you.

Itinerary

Overnight: Hazelwood Lodge
(or Hylands Burren Hotel)

Meals: B, L, D

Hiking Details: (Option 1) 8 miles, 4-6 hours, 1,300' ascent/1,000' descent; (Option 2) 4 miles, 3-5 hours, 650' ascent/1,000' descent

Driving Time: 45 minutes

DAY 2 THE BURREN

With a picnic lunch en route, we hike the Burren, with its incredible karst landscape. It's a place of stunning natural and cultural history, stitched together over layered limestone hills and hidden glens. Ten thousand years of human history is evident in the antiquities scattered across the Burren, including Bronze Age burial sites, standing stones, Neolithic burial and ritual sites, Celtic Iron Age forts, and sacred sites from the early Christian era—they are everywhere! More than 2,500 historic sites have been found here, including the Poul nabrone Dolmen, a single-chamber portal tomb that dates to Neolithic times. With sea spray in the air and bright wildflowers dotting the coastal grass, we'll enjoy a magical day in this surreal place. After dinner, we'll head out to a special "insider" spot to savor a magical sunset over the Burren.

Itinerary

Overnight: The Wyatt Hotel

Conveniently situated around the iconic monument of the Octagon in the heart of lively Westport Town, the Wyatt Hotel is a great place to regroup after an invigorating day's hike. Rest easy in the Cobblers Bar or explore the town right out of the hotel's doorstep. Guest rooms feature chic interiors, and there's superb dining here, under the direction of Chef Eoin McDonnell.

Meals: B, L

Hiking Details: (Option 1) 5-6 miles, 3-4 hours, 2,500' ascent/descent; (Option 2) 4-5 miles hiking, 3 hours, 500' ascent/descent

Driving Time: 2.5 hours

DAY 3 COUNTY MAYO / CLEW BAY / CROAGH PATRICK

After a morning walk in the Burren, we head to County Mayo, a rugged land rich in history and folklore. Wild bogs, mountain lakes, island-filled bays, and fertile plains give Mayo its name: Maigh Eo, "the plain of the yews." We arrive in time for lunch at a local pub at the edge of spectacular Clew Bay, below the striking quartz peak of Croagh Patrick, Ireland's holiest mountain. The mountain was Christianized by St. Patrick in the 5th century but became a site of pilgrimage thousands of years earlier.

A traverse of what locally referred to as "The Reek" will be one of our two hiking options this afternoon. The first option follows in the footsteps of countless pilgrims who have ascended this sacred peak. If the weather is on our side, we may experience the mountain's incredible views, which stretch from the inlets and bays of the coast to remote islands once thought to represent the last rocks before the "edge of the world." Walking in the footsteps of pilgrims who have taken this path for thousands of years is an unforgettable experience. For an option on more level ground, we offer a delightful hike along the Tochar Phádraig pilgrim trail. Near both hikes is the colorful market town of Westport on the shores of spectacular Clew Bay. Founded in 1780, Westport lies in the shadow of the holy mountain of Croagh Patrick and is full of character, with its cheerful shops, pubs, Georgian architecture, and beautiful tree-lined boulevard along the Carrowbeg River. You'll enjoy exploring this town, with dinner on your own so you can choose from among the many restaurants (the Trip Leaders will be happy to make recommendations). Traditional music is part of the charm of Westport, and later this evening, we'll gather for a lively evening with musician and singer friends at a local pub.

Itinerary

Overnight: The Wyatt Hotel

Meals: B, L

Hiking Details: (Option 1) 5.5 miles, 4-5 hours, 1,700' ascent/1,800' descent; (Option 2) 4 miles, 3-4 hours, 900' ascent/1,100' descent

Driving Time: 40 minutes

DAY 4 CNOC MHÓR, CLARE ISLAND

A scenic drive along the shores of Clew Bay takes us to a remote quay and a short hop (20 minutes) by ferry brings us across the bay to dreamy Clare Island, where another world awaits. Clare Island's striking silhouette against the horizon is created by Cnoc Mhór (1,600'), whose sheer cliffs are home to nesting seabirds. The island has a rich cultural heritage and was once the domain of a powerful Gaelic maritime family, the O'Malleys (Ó Maille), led by the famous warrior chieftain, Grace, or Gráinne Mhaol (1530-1603). Known as the "Pirate Queen," she reigned supreme along this wild coast and is renowned for many exploits, including sailing to London to face down Queen Elizabeth I (and prevailing). But the primary reason for our presence on Clare Island is some of the finest island hiking imaginable, set between the sea and the sky along one of Ireland's finest cliff ramparts (and best-kept secrets!).

We have the option to hike to the summit of Cnoc Mhór before a descent over great folds of land that run to an edge of massive sea cliffs. The ground is soft underfoot here, resonating like a drum under our footsteps, and below us the turquoise waters of the sea swirl about the sea rocks, breaking into ripples of lace-like foam. As we cross the open pastures, we may be joined by a local sheep-farmer and his border collies for a chance to learn about shepherding life on the island (and see these amazing dogs in action). Our extraordinary hike ends at the gorgeous enclave of Clare Island Lighthouse, set on cliffs above the sea. Return to Westport in the late afternoon. (Note: Depending on ferry schedules and weather conditions, we may go to the island of Inishturk instead, which is right next to Clare Island. Both islands are amazing and have similar landscapes, with lush greenery and sheer-walled cliffs.)

Itinerary

Overnight: Lough Inagh Lodge

This historic estate lies on the shores of Lough Inagh, one of Connemara's most spectacular lakes, surrounded by the majestic Mamturks and Twelve Bens mountain ranges. There are 13 well-appointed guest rooms and plenty of spots for relaxing, including a sitting room with a traditional peat fire. A beloved fishing lodge, its restaurant honors that tradition with menus based on Connemara seafood as well as Connemara lamb and other local ingredients.

Meals: B, L, D

Hiking Details: (Option 1) 8 miles, 3-4 hours, 1,000' ascent; (Option 2) 4-5 miles, 3 hours, 500' ascent/descent

Driving Time: 1 hour

DAY 5 SILVER STRAND / JOYCE COUNTY / CONNEMARA

This morning's hike will be across some of Ireland's wildest Atlantic strands. A ride from County Mayo brings us through rugged mountains and alongside Ireland's only fjord to a great little lunch spot in Joyce Country, a hilly region traversed by green valleys and lonely roads that takes its name from a Welsh family who settled here in the 13th century. The Joyce clan was large and many families with that name still live here (the most famous Joyce is, of course, the author James Joyce, whose ancestors hailed from this region). Our spectacular hike this afternoon takes us over a saddle in the "MámToirc" (Maumturk) Mountains into the wild region of Connemara. Entering the glaciated Inagh Valley, with its heather-covered mountains, we hike right to Lough Inagh Lodge, set between the Maumturk Mountains and the magnificent ridge of the Beanna Beola—the Twelve Bens. This welcoming country house is set on the shores of Lough Inagh, one of Connemara's spectacular lakes, and was built in the late 19th century as a fishing lodge, which is reflected in its cozy and informal atmosphere. We can take a moment to walk to the lake's shore to see the surrounding peaks in the ever-changing light. Before dinner, sherry by the peat fire in the lodge's sitting room is a great way to relax after our day of hiking.

Itinerary

Overnight: Lough Inagh Lodge

Meals: B, L, D

Hiking Details: (Option 1) 4 miles, 4-6 hours, 1,250' ascent/descent; (Option 2) 3 miles, 500' ascent/ descent

Driving Time: 45 minutes

DAY 6 KILLARY HARBOUR / THE DIAMOND / TWELVE BENS

We discover the mountains of Connemara on a hike that brings us along Killary Harbour and then to the Diamond, one of the Twelve Bens, a compact range of rocky peaks that, though just over 2,500 feet in elevation, provides great hiking, fantastic views, and a sense of adventure. Our hike is coastal hill walking at its finest, with an easy climb providing spectacular views over land and sea. If the weather cooperates, we'll have a 360-degree view across the places we've explored this week, from the Burren to the Cliffs of Moher, Clare Island, Croagh Patrick, and the Aran Islands to Connemara.

Itinerary

Overnight: Lough Inagh Lodge

Meals: B, L, D

Hiking Details: (Option 1) 7.5 miles, 8 hours, 700' ascent/descent; (Option 2) 5.5 miles, 6 hours, 400' ascent/descent

Transportation Details: 50 minute ferry each way (some departures may use Aer Arann flights; this will depend on local conditions)

DAY 7 INIS MÓR, ARAN ISLANDS / DÚN AONGHUSA

A 10-minute flight or 50-minute private boat charter brings us across the waters of Galway Bay to the limestone archipelago of the Aran Islands, whose unique landscape is an extension of the Burren. Landing on Inis Mór, the largest of the islands, our walk today provides a spectacular introduction to the Arans. We are in the heart of the Gaeltacht here, where Irish is the language of all education and services, and heard as often as English in conversation. Our hike takes us through a labyrinth of stone-walled fields unlike any on earth. You'll learn how the islanders created the soil for their pastures and crops by mixing the island's seaweed with sand brought across from Galway Bay. The mixture was then laid onto the flat limestone karst—it's an incredible story of humans' interaction with a barren landscape; the ingenuity and determination of the islanders to make a home on these windswept islands is extraordinary. Our route leads us to majestic sea cliffs that drop 300 feet straight down to the wild Atlantic below, where Aran Islanders still fish, though rarely now from traditional currachs (large local boats). We'll follow this edge of land and sea to reach Dún Aonghusa, a magnificent Stone Age fort that has been called the acropolis of the Celtic world. Ramparts of slate and concentric circular walls wrap around the central stone platform at this enigmatic site whose full purposes are still shrouded in mystery. At the end of our day of discovery, we ferry to the mainland and overnight at Lough Inagh Lodge.

Itinerary

Overnight: Lough Inagh Lodge

Meals: B, L, D

Hiking Details: (Option 1) 6 miles, 6 hours, 1,550' ascent/1,300' descent; (Option 2) 3 miles, 3 hours, 150' ascent/100' descent

Driving Time: 1.5 hours

DAY 8 OMEY ISLAND / ROUNDSTONE BOG / CLIFDEN

On our last full day, we'll venture out to Omev Island off the western edge of Connemara, a lovely setting only accessible over the white sand "road" at low tide. This evocative little world unto itself holds many of Ireland's stories, from the shell middens that date back a thousand years to the holy well and medieval church that was once buried in sand and was resurrected by locals just a few decades ago. On a magnificent hike over ancient dunes, we'll see haunting relics from Omev's monastic settlement that have been revealed by recent winter storms. This afternoon we'll cross lake-dotted Roundstone Bog, an ecological treasure and the site of two notable moments in the history of communication: Marconi's first trans-Atlantic wireless transmission and the landing site for the first trans-Atlantic flight in 1919 by Britons Alcock and Brown. We'll also have time to explore the capital of Connemara, the colorful market town of Clifden, before our festive Farewell Dinner.

CON MORIARTY

Con Moriarty grew up in one of the world's very special places, amid the wild peaks of the McGillicuddy Reeks and Killarney Valley of Ireland's County Kerry. From an early age, Con has been awake to the spirit of this magical place, its shape and nature combining with its Gaelic culture and spiritual history to weave a rich tapestry of influence. Throughout his life, the intriguing story of Ireland and its people has been a passion for Con, and sharing this with travelers is a privilege he is grateful for. Traveling with Con and his friends in Ireland is truly a learning adventure, walking and experiencing the "hidden Ireland." Con has traveled and climbed throughout the world, extensively in the mountain environments of Scotland, the European Alps, the US, Nepal, Kenya, Irian Jaya, Australia, Patagonia, and New Zealand.

ANN CURRAN

Ann Curran was born and raised in Dingle, County Kerry, and grew up surrounded by traditional Gaelic culture. Born into a family with farming, business, and community connections in this colorful market town, Ann enjoyed successful careers in real estate, banking, and guesthouse management. In 1997, she settled on her favorite career to date, one that allows her to share her place with others. It is a gift she is particularly blessed with, and time shared with Ann and her infectious enthusiasm for hiking and wandering in Ireland is an experience that is sure to warm the heart. Ann is widely traveled throughout the world, but Dingle remains her home, where she's actively engaged in community life, particularly with voluntary environmental and social organizations.

NAOISE O MUIRCHARTAIGH

Born on the Dingle Peninsula and into the distinct Gaelic culture of his ancestors, Naoise O Muircheartaigh (the Gaelic spelling of Moriarty) has been steeped in the culture of Ireland since birth and comes from generations of mountain guides, including his father, Con Moriarty, longtime leader of our Ireland trips. Naoise (pronounced "nee-sha") has been hiking Ireland's mountains and coasts since he could walk, and his pursuits as a rock and ice climber have led him around the world, from New Zealand to North Africa and the US. He has a deep love of nature and for sharing world's wild landscapes and ancient cultures.

LIADH NÍ MUIRCHARTAIGH

Growing up surrounded by Ireland's rich culture and natural beauty, and coming from generations of mountain guides (including her father Con Moriarty, a longtime WT leader), it's no surprise that Liadh (pronounced "Leah") is a natural when it comes to introducing travelers to the country's wonders. Liadh has travelled and hiked around the world including New Zealand and the Himalayas and has spent the last couple of years living in the French Alps. She is currently based out of British Columbia in Canada but maintains a strong connection to her Irish roots. As a young woman who came of age as her nation celebrated 100 years of independence, she brings a rich and interesting perspective to Ireland.

What to Expect

WHAT THE TRIP IS LIKE

This trip is rated Level 3, Moderate, according to our trip grading system, depending on the hiking options you choose. You will need to be comfortable hiking 10 miles a day and being on your feet for up to 8 hours a day. You will need to be able to keep up with the moderate but steady pace of the group; however, there are alternative hiking options available most days. Trail conditions, weather, and the group's level of fitness can affect hiking times and pacing.

Average Hiking Day

- 7 miles
- 5 hours
- 1,000 feet gain/loss

Challenge Days

- Day 2: 8-10 miles, 4-6 hours, 1,000 feet gain/loss (longer option)
- Day 4: 8 miles, 2,000 feet gain/loss
- Day 6: 8-12 miles, 4-6 hours, 1,500 feet gain/loss

TERRAIN

There are a variety of moderate hikes over contrasting geological landscapes. Some paths and trails are well-groomed, but many can be rough with rocky and uneven terrain. With the frequent rain, trails can be muddy or even wet underfoot. As is common in Ireland, we may sometimes hike off-trail where the terrain allows, gaining lofty summits via switchbacks across wide, grassy hillsides. Hiking boots with ankle support are always best and hiking poles are recommended.

WEATHER

This trip takes place when Ireland has some of its best weather. Being the Emerald Isle, however, you must be prepared for rain showers at any time. Ireland's weather is dictated by the pressure systems coming in from the Atlantic and is notoriously variable. Gore-Tex outerwear, warm layers, and proper boots are necessary. Overall, Ireland's climate is milder than Britain's, thanks to the Gulf Stream, and a morning of rain can easily be followed by a brilliant blue sky and abundant sunshine.

ACCOMMODATIONS

Our accommodations are a mix of carefully chosen family-owned and run guesthouses, small hotels, and a historic lodge. All rooms have en suite bathrooms and one has a pool and full-service spa. They are charming and comfortable, but since they are often in historic buildings, the rooms are not always of uniform or international size. Our leaders do their best to assign rooms in a fair way so that all participants experience an equal advantage throughout the trip as a whole. Single rooms can be requested but are not always available, due to the limited space in the hotels. If you prefer a single room, please make your request as early as possible.

CUISINE

Most lunches are picnic-style during our hikes, but we occasionally stop at a local cafe or pub. Dinners will be at restaurants in town or at the hotels. We have one evening with a slow food tasting menu, and there are plenty of opportunities for fresh seafood throughout the trip. Please note that in Europe, the dinner hour is considerably later than what it is in the US. We do our best to secure early reservations for our groups, but most often the evening meal will be at 7:30 pm.

What to Expect

TRANSPORTATION

We will use a mini-coach/van throughout the trip, which will transport the group's luggage, so you only need to carry a daypack for items you need for the day (rain gear, sweater, camera, water bottle, etc.). Trip members are always free to skip a day's hike and travel to the next destination in the support vehicle (or remain at the hotel if we are not transferring that day).

This fund is designed to protect consumers from unscrupulous practices by discount airfare ticket sellers or air charter operators. Unfortunately, this law does not cover non-California residents and, even in the case of California residents, it does not cover any foreign travel where the foreign "providers of transportation or travel services" are not in compliance with the Sellers of Travel Law (compliance being defined as registered as a Seller of Travel in California and a participant in the Travel Consumer Restitution Fund). Thus none of Wilderness Travel's tours qualify and we are required by law to advise each client that they are not covered by the California Travel Consumer Restitution Fund. California law requires sellers of travel to maintain a trust account or bond. This business has a trust account. California Seller of Travel #100769640
