Walking England's Jurassic Coast and Channel Islands

FROM STONEHENGE TO THE ISLES OF JERSEY,
GUERNSEY, AND SARK

This utterly unique journey links some of Britain's most intriguing settings—famed Stonehenge, the limestone cliffs of the Jurassic Coast, where Victorian-era fossil-hunters unearthed specimens dating back 185 million years, and the exquisite Channel Islands, closer to France than England, with a fascinating fusion of French and English cultures. We'll view Stonehenge, then head to Dorset's beautiful rural landscape to hike along the World Heritage-listed cliffs of the coast. In the sunny Channel Islands, with their cobbled lanes and aquamarine seas, we'll hike down quiet country lanes, through tidy green pastures and woodlands, and along seascapes on Guernsey, Sark, and Jersey, soaking up the Anglo-Norman heritage and culinary delights.

Itinerary

DAY 1

SALISBURY / CATHEDRAL TOWER / STONEHENGE

Set where the Avon and Nadder rivers converge, Salisbury dates to the 13th century and to this day still looks much as it used to when Constable painted his famous views of it. After meeting at 9:00 am (come dressed for walking), we climb up the Cathedral Tower (332 steps!) and at the top we'll be at the foot of the famous spire, where we'll have fantastic views. Our afternoon walk through gentle fields brings us to one of the most extraordinary ancient sites in the world: Stonehenge, the legendary circle of mysterious stone monoliths dating back 5,000 years and aligned towards sunrise and sunset on the summer and winter solstice. Important archaeological discoveries are still being made around the Stonehenge World Heritage Site, including the recently discovered Neolithic settlement of Durrington Walls, which we'll visit. Tonight we gather for our Welcome Dinner. Overnight in Salisbury at the Riverside Hotel, set on the banks of the River Nadder, with views of the Salisbury Cathedral, topped by Britain's tallest spire...LD

Hiking Details: 2 miles, 6-7 hours

DAY 2

DORSET'S JURASSIC COAST / SOUTH WEST COAST PATH

Three quarters of Dorset's spectacular coast is World Heritage-listed, including the sheer limestone cliffs of the Jurassic Coast, whose complex folds and faults of chalk, sandstone, and limestone have yielded a wealth of ammonites and marine fossils dating back some 185 million years (if you watched the hit BBC detective series Broadchurch, you will have seen these stupendous cliffs!). We begin at the horseshoe-shaped bay of Lulworth Cove (Thomas Hardy's fictional Lulwind Cove, where the cruel Sergeant Troy took a swim in Far From the Madding Crowd). Our trail connects us with the spectacular South West Coast Path, a famous long-distance trail with breathtaking vistas. We round off our hike with a tasty local ale or a simple cup of tea at The Smugglers Inn, once home to Emmanuel Charles, leader of a notorious gang of smugglers in the 18th century. Dinner and overnight at The Acorn Inn, a classic 16th century coaching inn that was known as "The Sow and Acorn" in Thomas Hardy's Tess of the D'Urbervilles. It's located in the picturesque village of Evershot...BLD

GUERNSEY, CHANNEL ISLANDS / ST. PETER PORT

Just three hours by ferry and we'll be in a different world—the Channel Islands, lying within the sight (about 27 miles) of the coast of Normandy. These remote islands were first claimed by the Duchy of Normandy in 933. In 1204, when King John lost Normandy to France, the locals remained loyal to the English crown and were granted a measure of self-government, which continues to this day. The islands have their own currency—you can pay for your pint with a Guernsey Pound or a Jersey Pound! On arrival in St. Peter Port, Guernsey

DAY 4

LE BOURG / GERMAN OCCUPATION MUSEUM / TORTEVAL

Guernsey's sunny beauty hides its history, which has included Viking attacks, French invasions, pirates, and a brutal five-year occupation by the Germans during World War II. We begin our day with a visit to the German Occupation Museum at Le Bourg, in the company of Richard Heaume, its founder. As a boy, Heaume began to gather spent gun cases he found while out playing and he has never stopped collecting. Today his museum offers a vast collection of WWII memorabilia, including detailed paintings and carvings done by off-duty German soldiers. It also brings to life the tough times the Guernsey islanders endured under occupation, when radios were confiscated, strict curfew laws imposed, and food supplies dwindled. This led to inventive Guernsey cooking, including using potato flour to make bread and carrageen moss for jelly. The island was liberated on May 9, 1945. It is a harrowing story, written about in The Guernsey Literary and Potato Peel Pie Society by Mary Ann Shaffer and Annie Barrows. Later, we start a hike near the round-towered church in the small parish of Torteval, then contour our way along an undulating cliff path that hugs the rocky headlands and passes through wooded valleys with a profusion of flowers. In our travels along the east and north coasts today, we'll have seen observation towers abandoned by the Germans, and the numerous forts and round martello towers built to defend the islands from the French during the Napoleonic Wars—and later modified by the Germans to form part of Hitler's Atlantic Defense Wall. Dinner is on your own; your Trip Leader is happy to make restaurant recommendations. Overnight at hotel...BL

Hiking Details: 7 miles, 3.5 hours

Transportation Time: 1.5 hours driving

DAY 5

SARK ISLAND / L'EPERQUERIE COMMON

The serene little gem of Sark Island, a one-hour ferry trip from Guernsey, is three miles long and 1.5 miles wide, with 22 miles of a spectacular bays, headlands, and rocky coves. It has the proud status of the world's first "Dark Sky Island" for its exceptional night skies—the star-gazing here is phenomenal. When we disembark from our ferry, our luggage will be taken to our hotel by tractor (no cars are allowed on the island) and we'll hike right from the harbor onto coastal paths to reach the craggy headland called L'Eperquerie Common. The ruin of a 16th century fort built by the French to guard against pirates still stands here. To the north are the rocky islets known as the Bec du Nez, reachable only at low tide, and we'll have wonderful views out to the tall, narrow rock stacks that lie just off Sark's northwest coast. As we hike further in the direction of our hotel, we visit the award-winning gardens of La Seigneurie, established by the Seigneurs of Sark, who have ruled the islands since 1730. Their walled garden is a riot of color, with sweetly perfumed rose beds, a maze, and an orchard. We'll be shown around by one of the gardeners, who will share the garden's history. Our island retreat is the Stocks Hotel, a family-run country house, originally a 16th century farmhouse. The hotel's kitchen is known for its home-cooked fish and meat, homemade country wines, Sark apple brandy, and their best-selling Stocks sloe gin. Before dining, we'll enjoy a tasting. After dinner, we visit the island's small Dark Sky Observatory for (weather allowing) fabulous views of the planets and stars, including the brilliant belt of the Milky Way. Dinner and overnight at Stocks Hotel...BLD

Hiking Details: 6 miles, 3 hours

Transportation Time: 1 hour by ferry

DAY 6

SARK ISLAND / LA COUPÉE / LITTLE SARK

We'll hike straight from our hotel door to Little Sark, a peninsula that forms the southern part of Sark Island. Our route traverses from the pebbly beach to flowery slopes where bluebells and wild garlic grow, then along a dirt road that leads us to La Coupée, an iconic ridge that links Sark to Little Sark. From here, we'll have fine views of the other Channel Islands and the coast of France. Back on Sark Island, lunch is on your own in one of the many cafes and tea rooms on the island. The afternoon is free to relax by the hotel pool or explore the island.

Interesting optional activities (an "on your own" expense) include a three-hour boat trip to search for seabirds that, depending on the time of year, can include puffins, razorbills, and guillemots (and possibly peregrine falcons). You can also rent a bike or join a kayaking excursion to explore the coastline's hidden treasures. Another option is a horse-and-carriage ride, seeing the landscape and vistas from a different vantage point. Dinner is at Stocks Hotel, and we have another chance to venture out to the island's Dark Sky Observatory...BD

DAY 7

JERSEY ISLAND

We bid farewell to Sark and hop on board what the locals charmingly call the "toast rack," a tractor bus that will drive us down to the harbor. After an hour's ferry ride, we arrive in St. Peter Port on Guernsey. After lunch on your own in town, we regroup and ferry to Jersey Island, described by Victor Hugo as "pieces of France fallen into the sea and picked up by England." The largest of the Channel Islands (45 square miles), Jersey sits 14 miles from France and 85 miles from England, and is famous for being the sunniest part of Britain. It is celebrated for its tasty Jersey Royal potatoes, Jersey cows, and woolen water-resistant jerseys, which have been knitted here for centuries to keep sailors warm. At Rozel Bay, a traditional fishing harbor, we check in at Chateau La Chaire, our home for our final two nights. This luxury boutique hotel sits on 8.5 acres of woodland, with grounds created in 1841 by Samuel Curtis, the famous botanist and a former director of Kew Gardens. Tonight we dine in a popular village pub. On offer might be Jersey crab linguine, perhaps followed by Jersey Black Butter Pudding with vanilla ice cream. Overnight at Chateau La Chaire...BD

Transportation Time: 2 hours by ferry, 30 minutes by bus

DAY 8

ST. CATHERINE'S BAY / MONT ORGUEIL CASTLE

Walking right from our hotel door, we follow quiet country lanes through woodlands up to a grassy plateau where fields of dark Jersey cows graze. There are about 6,000 of this renowned breed of cattle on the island. Their lineage is maintained by a 150-year-old ban on importation of any other breeds, and we'll visit a Jersey farmer along our way. Hiking down through St. Catherine's Wood along paths strewn with bluebells, wood sorrel, and celandine, we may hear the tapping of the great-spotted woodpecker. Coming out at St. Catherine's Bay, we follow along the old sea wall, then head up the hill to visit a Neolithic site, the Dolmen of Faldouet, with its mysterious circular main chamber. As we descend, the fabulous Mont Orgueil Castle dominates the skyline. Built by King John in the 13th century to defend Jersey, the castle was last altered by the Germans. We'll explore the castle then have lunch down by the curving bay. Jersey was occupied for five years by the Germans during WWII, and while we're here, we'll visit the Jersey War Tunnels to understand the situation of the islanders when German soldiers billeted here. This evening, we'll dine in the hotel restaurant, which specializes in fresh-caught seafood, from lobster to scallops to mussels, depending on what's in season, and Jersey Royal potatoes, of course! Overnight at Le Chateau La Chaire...BLD

We will provide a 9:00 am transfer from Le Chateau La Chaire Hotel to St. Helier, the island capital, and on to Jersey Airport.

INTERNATIONAL AIR TRAVEL

You are responsible for making your own arrangements for flights to and from England. There are a number of airlines that serve airports in this area.

They are very adept at putting flight itineraries together, to even the most far-flung places. More information can be found on Exito's website at www.exitotravel.com.

Depending on your routing, it is necessary to depart from the US one or possibly two days prior to Day 1 of the trip itinerary. The name on your airline ticket must match the name on your passport exactly, and your passport must be valid for at least six months after your date of return to the US.

Please do not purchase your tickets until you are confirmed on the trip. Once your tickets have been purchased, please forward a copy of your email flight confirmation from the airline. It is your responsibility to ensure your flight times coordinate with the arrival and departure logistics for this trip.

She has always had a passion for food and wine, and worked as a chef, alongside her husband at their own restaurant, for 16 years. She loves to explore the great outdoors, especially with new and old friends from around the world. Among her favorite activities are walking, hiking, swimming, skiing, and snowshoeing (often with their snow-loving dog). Over the past 36 years, she has lived part-time in Les Gets, as well as the surrounding French Alps—and she has been dragged up most of the peaks in the area by her husband, Peter, who is also a WT guide!

PETER HALLEWELL

Peter Hallewell, or “the mountain goat,” as his family affectionately calls him, loves to explore the great outdoors: walking, hiking, climbing mountains on skis or on foot, and snowshoeing. His passion for the outdoors first developed on family holidays to the English Lake District, and he has lived part-time for the last 30 years in Les Gets in the French Alps, progressively scaling almost all the peaks in the area. Qualified as an International Mountain Leader, he knows the mountains of Europe well and loves to introduce fellow hikers to the joys of the trail.

HEATHER FLORENCE

Heather Florence was raised in the north of England and developed her love of the mountains early while on family hiking trips in North Wales and the Lake District. The lure of the mountains eventually led her to Chamonix, France, where she has lived for the last 10 years. When not leading trips, Heather travels around the world visiting the most spectacular places to go rock climbing. She’s climbed El Capitan in Yosemite, the Totem pole in Tasmania, and desert towers in Jordan. Closer to home she has climbed many local mountains and is currently pursuing an undergraduate degree in psychology.

There are lovely gardens and a poolside restaurant that features fare from local fishermen, farmers, and other suppliers, and the hotel has its own organic garden just outside the kitchen. Homemade wines and liqueurs, including sloe and blackberry gin and vodka, are made on site and are a great way to enjoy the “flavor” of Sark.

CHATEAU LA CHAIRE

St. Martin, England

Trip Details

WHAT THE TRIP IS LIKE

This trip is rated a Level 2+ (Easy to Moderate) according to our trip grading system. You will need to be comfortable hiking 9.5 miles a day and being on your feet for 5 hours a day. Trail conditions, weather, and the group's level of fitness can affect hiking times and pacing.

Average Hiking Day

- 6 miles
- 3-4 hours

TERRAIN

Our hikes are on well-maintained paths and trails with a minimal amount of elevation gain and loss. There are occasional steep sections on the coastal walks, and if there has been rain, it can be muddy and slippery.

GETTING IN SHAPE

We strongly urge you to train for your trip, as your enjoyment will be highly dependent on your level of fitness. The best training for a hike is to hike, especially over hills or rough terrain. Next best are running, swimming, bicycling, or other cardiovascular exercises. Stair-climbing machines are excellent preparation for hiking uphill. Your feet should also be well prepared—make sure your hiking boots are sturdy, comfortable, and thoroughly broken-in.

WEATHER

The Channel Islands enjoy a temperate climate and benefit from their wind-sheltered maritime position in the English Channel. Springtime can offer great sunny days, with mild daytime temperatures in the 60s°F and occasionally the 70s°F. Dorset County and the Jurassic Coast also enjoy mild and pleasant spring weather, with daytime temperatures in the 60s°F. This region is famous for its changeable weather, though, so it is necessary to pack in preparation for cold rain, persistent fog, mist, and beautiful, sunny weather.

ACCOMMODATIONS

Our accommodations are in small, comfortable hotels that have been selected for their local history and charm. Since they are often in historic buildings, the rooms are not always of uniform or international size. Our leaders do their best to assign rooms in a fair way so that all participants experience an equal advantage throughout the trip as a whole. Many do not have elevators or porters, so you will have to carry your luggage up the stairs to your room. Single rooms can be requested but are not always available, due to the limited space in the hotels. If you prefer a single room, please make your request as early as possible.

CUISINE

Lunches will be either at local cafes and pubs or a packed lunch during one of our hikes. Dinners will be at a local restaurant, at the hotel, or on your own. Our leaders are happy to recommend a nearby restaurant for meals that are on your own. There are plenty of opportunities for classic English dishes and there is a wide availability of fresh seafood. Please also note that in Europe, the dinner hour is considerably later than what it is in the US. We do our best

The ferry ride is an excellent opportunity to birdwatch for gannets, puffins, and guillemots.
